

A native of the Emerald Isle found his way into the Health Office, and addressing the clerk, asked— "Is this the Health Office?"

Clerk—Yes, sir. Can I do anything for you?

Emerald—Yes. I would like you to tell me how Mrs. Murphy is getting on. The last time I heard from her she was suffering from the rheumatic.

C.—I cannot tell you anything about her health.

E.—Bad cess to ye, thin, why do you purtend to kepe a Health Office, if ye can give no information?

And without waiting for a reply he departed in high dudgeon.

An Irish boy, trying hard to get a place, denied that he was Irish. "I don't know what you mean by not being an Irishman," said the gentleman who was about to hire him; "but this I do know, that you were born in Ireland."

"Och! your honor, if that's all, small blame that. Shpouse your old ent had kittens in the oven, would they be loars of bread?"

The boy got the place.

A hungry fishman, not long since, in London, mistaken a barber's shop for an eating-house, boited in and begged to be served. The barber, supposing, from the length of his beard that he wished to be shaved, knocked up a basin of suds, and placing it before him, with a wash ball went in it, backward to get the razor. Pat, without waiting for grace, supped up the suds and swallowed the wash ball, and, on the barber's returning with the razor, coolly observed, "There is no occasion for a knife, honey; your soup is very good, but your turp is not quite boiled enough." So, paying his money, he bade the astonished barber adieu.

Anna Dickinson is evidently setting her cap for some man in the Hub, the Boston Post says of her appearance the other night:

Miss Annie looked fresh and sparkling. Since last season she has rounded out, and is less angular in frame and feature. There is also more color in her cheeks and more animation in her eyes. She was attired in a silk of corn color, exquisite in shade, and complete in fit, and upon a finger of her left hand sparkled a genuine diamond. From around her neck, and depending in front nearly to the waist, were trimmings of black lace. Her hair as usual, was of the masculine style, somewhat short bushy, and disdainful of the restraint of combs, net, and female bisected contrivance. Altogether she presented an exceedingly nice, but simple and elegant appearance. As she rose to speak, and during the evening as she gracefully paced the platform back and forth, she was the subject of compliment from the gentleman and of criticism from the ladies. Anna has evidently become a devotee of the toilet.

The Pittsburgh Post says: Another outrageous affair occurred in Lawrenceville yesterday, in which a white boy was dangerously shot by a negro. It seems the negroes held a picnic somewhere beyond Lawrenceville and a number of them were coming home on horseback and in buggies. A short distance this side of Iron City Park they met a boy in a wagon, and insolently ordered him to give the road. The boy stopped down as if to pick up something to throw at them, when one of the negroes drew a revolver and fired four shots, one of which took effect in the left right temple, and lodged in the bone immediately above the ear, producing a dangerous wound. Three of the negroes were arrested.

A French woman, who was frightened by a negro, has given birth to a girl half black and half white. It is stated that the white half of the child won't hold any intercourse with the black half, and that the dark half being the stronger, has got possession of "nature's fount of food," and cut off the white half's rations. The situation is an embarrassing one for the mother.

Jones, while lately engaged in splitting wood, struck a false blow causing the stick to fly up. It struck him on the jaw and knocked out a front tooth.

"Ah," said Bill, meeting him soon after, "you have had a dental operation performed, I see."

"Yes," replied the other, "ax-dental."

I clasped her tiny hands in mine; I clasped her beautiful form; I vowed to shield her from the wind, and from the world's cold storm. She set her beautiful eyes on me, the tears did wildly flow; and with her little lips she said, "Confound you, let me go."

The proprietor has been very liberal in his statement from the fact that, although advertised, it is not from using anything patented or the Patent Medicine, but is prepared by simple means, and is prescribed, much to the surprise of pure pharmaceutical preceptors. THESE PARTIES, by copying parts of advertisements, remedies, and fine illustrations, THE SCIENCE OF MEDICINE, its Basis, Indication, &c. is alone for its Central.

A WORD OF CAUTION. Health is most in jeopardy, and should not be used in any form, or any remedy, unless the patients are known to be a manufacturer, or until they see the qualification of the party.
