Boots and Shoes. Again we come in measured rhymes. But change the theme as change the rimes, The Eric Ruitroad war has ended. And peace, has to her throne ascended. And peace, has to her tirrore ascense And queckly with returning a core Let every bitter passion Coase. And cultivate a spirit kind. No malice moves a noble mind Throw by the boots by service batter a hitle old and somewhat shattered. A fulle old and somewhat shattered. A bille old and somewhat shattered, And call again at number ten. You know the place you'll find the men. Wilcox will wait on you with pleasure, And Cotter's there to take your measure. He left Chenp side,—no matter when. And stops at Browns Block number ten, And when he's fairly yeard your feet, He'll make a boot that can't be heet. He needs in years en large or glary. He'll make a boot that can't be beet. He needs in verse no tame or glory, To cait him Cotter, tells the story. Young men with intellects expanding. Protect with floots y ir understanding: Or if the Gamers better please. Consult your tastes, consult your ease The Congress forms with variations. Diversified in their rudations. May better meet your expectations, And smistly your inclinations. Come Ladies come, or send your waiters, And find as nice a pair of Gamers As ever graceful ladds sheet. Of texture flue of tastion heat. As ever green's Lide schet.

No. 10 (rown's Block State st. BOOTS & SHOES.

Although the "Eric war 'near hid. And peace has to her throne ascended," Fou'll find that rhymng without reason, Is not befitting any sense.

To boast and vaunt is a tour part.

And thus degrade the rivening art. We only tell you what is true About the firm of S. Develey. We lead the fashions all must know, While others follow, sure but slow. "Cotter" 'tis true, has left "cheapside." By one more tanty and more non-Whe's always ready at his seat. And when yourfeet to measure sits. You may be sure he'll "give them fits" While mingling olegance with case, We know he cannot fail to please. No more to Philadelphia go, To Lynn, New York, or Buffalo, Nor yet to "Brown's Block number ten, To find sthy Cotter left, or when," For here at Cheapside, number five, You'll find an active busy hive Of workmen skilled, of workmen neat, Who never fail to fit the feet. Who never fail to fit the feet.
At leisure you our stock can view
Of every quality and hue,
And gratify the ruling passion,
Of always being in the fashion;
For when a pretty foot you view,
The reason is ('twixt me and you,'
Not "in your eye" but in the shoe. Not "in your eye" but in the shoe,
So neatly made by S. Devenu.
Hoping kind friends that we may meet,
In boots and shoes we'll act your pleasure,
And though our measures fail in feet.
Your feet shall never fail in measure:

Your feet shall never fail in measure:
Come on, we say, come one and all,
And give your friend Deveau a call.
