Our Latest News.

CANADIAN NEWS BY THE CANADA.

[illegible] by this arrival from Liverpool.

Russia has sent 70,000 Anglo [illegible] of Siberia.

[illegible] French fleets by the 14th [illegible] ...ed in the question [illegible] would be able to hold out [illegible]

[illegible] ...ish people, moves going on [illegible] ...Emperor of Austria and [illegible]

[illegible] ...ers the Atlantic, from N. Y. [illegible] ...ed at Liverpool at [illegible] ...morning on the 7th [illegible]

[illegible] ...says the arrangement [illegible] ...decidedly agreed to [illegible] ...the intervention of Aus[illegible] ...ing guarantees that Servia [illegible] ...no symptoms [illegible] ...in Austria, [illegible]

[illegible] ...the number of 60,000, [illegible]

Boston, June 22

[illegible] ...from this county, on or about the 13th A M [illegible] ...left his trunk at the hotel with instruc[illegible] ...forward to the residence of Miss Wood[illegible] ...three and a half miles distant, the following morning—inquired for the residence of Miss Woods, and left the tavern, since which time he has disappeared The trunk arrived at Miss W's (to whom the missing man was to be married) the following morning; containing a wedding suit and $120 in money. Information of the receipt of the trunk and the non-arrival of Mr E., was forwarded to Vermont, upon which his brother came to Leonidas, and, with the assistance of the Sheriff and citizens, a thorough search and investigation was had in February last, but without finding any traces of Mr E

Thus matters stood until Saturday last, when Sheriff Hull and his assistants, who have never ceased their efforts to ferret out the mystery, arrested Amos White, S Tilton and son in [illegible] this township, and lodged them in jail. As the case will undergo a thorough investigation, we are not at liberty to publish the various reports and circumstances concerning the arrest, but for a legal examination takes place, when the testimony and other particulars will be laid before our readers

[illegible] ...ington, June 17

[illegible] ...ment by the [illegible] ...Committee [illegible] ...Reports on re[illegible] ...legislation in [illegible] ...Pennsylvania [illegible] ...Legislature [illegible] ...Pennsylvania.

[illegible] ...New York, June 21

[illegible] ...Sing Sing [illegible] ...Philadelphia, June 20*

[illegible] ...Providence, June 19

[illegible] ...Hartford, June 20

[illegible] ...New Haven, June 20

[illegible] ...Albany, June 19

[illegible] ...Boston, June 17

[illegible] ...

CURE FOR HYDROPHOBIA.—We have been requested to republish the following, (says the Newark, New Jersey, Daily Advertiser,) said to be a preventive of hydrophobia, as discovered by a French physician, M. Cossar:

Take two table spoonfulls of fresh chloride of lime, mix it with half a pint of water, and with this wash keep the wound constantly bathed, the lotion being frequently renewed. The chloride gas possesses the power of decomposing the tremendous poison, and renders mild and harmless that venom, against whose resistless attack the artillerly of medical science has been so long directed in vain; it is necessary to add, that this wash should be applied as soon as possible after the affliction of the bite. The following are the results of this treatment:—From 1810 to 1824, the number of patients admitted into Breslau Hospitol, was 184, of whom only two died. From 1784 to 1824, into the Hospitals at Zurich, 223 persons bitten by different animals, (82 by dogs) of whom only four died.

SUPPOSED MURDER—ARREST OF THREE PERSONS.—This community has been thrown into an indescribable state of excitement, the past few days, by further developments in regard to the mysterious disappearance of Thomas Estabrook, of Reading, Vermont—a short notice of which appeared in our paper the 9th of February

Mr Estabrook arrived at Leonidas Centre in this county, on or about the 13th of November last—left his trunk at the hotel with instructions to forward to the residence of Miss Wood[illegible] three and a half miles distant, the following morning—inquired for the residence of Miss Woods, and left the tavern, since which time he has disappeared The trunk arrived at Miss W's (to whom the missing man was to be married) the following morning; containing a wedding suit and $120 in money. Information of the receipt of the trunk and the non-arrival of Mr E., was forwarded to Vermont, upon which his brother came to Leonidas, and, with the assistance of the Sheriff and citizens, a thorough search and investigation was had in February last, but without finding any traces of Mr E

Thus matters stood until Saturday last, when Sheriff Hull and his assistants, who have never ceased their efforts to ferret out the mystery, arrested Amos White, S Tilton and son in [illegible] this township, and lodged them in jail. As the case will undergo a thorough investigation, we are not at liberty to publish the various reports and circumstances concerning the arrest, but for a legal examination takes place, when the testimony and other particulars will be laid before our readers

MOBS AS CORRECTIVES OF GOVERNMENT ABUSES.—In 1808, when the last [illegible] ...session of the slave trade went into effect—[illegible] ...passed in pursuance of the enactment—a slaver was seized by United States revenue officers in the port of Bristol, Rhode Island, and on the first trial had been actively and perseveringly carried on. The officials were resolutely [illegible] ...mob, the ringleader of which—a prominent politician—was heard to declare on the occasion that "mobs were necessary to correct the abuses of government." This sentiment, expressed by the Bristol slave-traders of 1808, to excuse their resistance to a law of the United States is precisely indulged by the Boston abolitionists of 1854, to excuse the purpose of an exactly similar character. The old crime is right now, for any one who is not willing to do and can be found out, is not to defend the action of the Bristol mob—it is not right now, the resistants to the execution of the fugitive slave law are without excuse. "Under which king, Bezonian? Speak or die."—Detroit Free Press.

REVEREND PROFLIGATE.—A clergyman of Mobile, Ala., Rev. W. T. Hamilton, of Government street Presbyterian church in that city, a man celebrated in many parts of the United States for his ability and eloquence, was not only discovered to have been for years past running a career of unbridled licentiousness and profligacy, involving the ruins of several respectable young women, members of his congregation Rumors affecting his reputation had been [illegible] ...some time, but such credit was [illegible] ...reports by his friends, that it was [illegible] ...gotten by his friends, that [illegible] ...no place in [illegible] ...was appointed [illegible] ...Presbyterian Synod [illegible] ...of confidence was [illegible] ...Sabbath of the good. The Mobile Register [illegible] ...was rewarded by the [illegible] ...time, or in the world, where [illegible] ...record profligate to be the [illegible]

ATTEMPT TO KILL.—A [illegible] ...Thursday [illegible] ...was passing in the C[illegible] ...on Patton, quarrel arose between [illegible] ...Smith swinging H[illegible] ...Patton, when Smith [illegible] ...Patton was [illegible] ...Smith was [illegible] ...

[illegible] ...

[illegible] ...

[