

Calculators, Foreign and Political News

Dreadful Murder by the Editor of the Daily Freeman.

Last night about ten o'clock, the neighborhood of Atlantic street, in this city, was thrown into a state of great excitement, by the report that a horrid murder had been committed by Mr. J. N. Tucker, editor of the Brooklyn Daily Freeman, who had killed one of his children, and severely cut the throat of his wife.

Shortly afterwards he got up from his seat and took a razor from a box, laying hold of the little boy, four years old, out from his coat, and then he raised his hand to his forehead, and the razor missed the jugular vein, and cut the cheek.

After all the hubbub respecting the Greytown affair, the facts disclose the existence of a lawless set of rascals, who have squandered upon Turkey which does not belong to them, and under the protection of the British have done very much as they pleased for a number of years.

The Greytown Affair

After all the hubbub respecting the Greytown affair, the facts disclose the existence of a lawless set of rascals, who have squandered upon Turkey which does not belong to them, and under the protection of the British have done very much as they pleased for a number of years.

Under such auspices, and with such views, it is not strange that the most intense bitterness should be exhibited in Greytown towards the American Trade Company, which recently opened that route to American citizens to the Pacific.

Some of the newspapers seem to argue that because Mr. Borchgrevink, the American Minister, once had a fraction of the Senate, that therefore his character is lost and the Greytown authorities were justified in treating him, though an accredited American Minister, with the contumely and disgraceful violence they visited upon him.

A MYSTERY.—On Wednesday last, as Dr. Hille of this place was riding through the Middle Hill Gap, some two miles above the town, a woman was up on the side of the hill, picking up berries, ran down upon the road screaming that there was a dead man in the woods.

The President's Message Vexing the River and Harbor Bill.

I have received the bill entitled "An act to amend the provisions of the act relating to the navigation of the rivers and harbors of the United States." It reaches me at a very early period, and affords an opportunity of examining and considering its provisions, or of stating at length the reasons which forbid me to give it my signature.

Public opinion with regard to the value and importance of internal improvements in this country is well known. There is a disposition on the part of the people to be liberal in their appropriations, and to be liberal in their appropriations, and to be liberal in their appropriations.

FRANKLIN PERCEE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12, 1854

ALWAYS BETTER.—The Tribune's report that the President had been taken ill, and that he was unable to attend to his duties, has been very generally believed.

It seems to me that the Government has done very much for the people of this country, and that it is not unreasonable to expect that it will continue to do so.

THE ST. NICOLAS HOTEL TRAGEDY.—The examination of Robert M. Graham, charged with the killing of Col. Loring, took place yesterday forenoon at the Tavern, in presence of Coroner O'Donnell.

CHARLES DISCOVERY ON THE DEER.—SODA SPRINGS.—The party engaged in the survey of public lands, under Mr. Pease, at a point about 50 miles east of St. Felipe, in San Diego county, a singular collection of fountains or springs of soda water, situated in a sandy plain or depression of the surface of the desert.

THE FOREIGN NEWS by the Atlantic does not amount to much, and hence we have not deemed it necessary to lumber up our columns with the details.

The Weekly Register

SATURDAY MORNING, AUG. 12, 1854
DEMOCRATIC STATE NOMINATIONS
FOR GOVERNOR: WILLIAM BIGLER, OF Clearfield County.
JEREMIAH S. BLACK, OF Somerset County.
FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER: HENRY S. MOTT, OF Pike County.

The General Election is on the right track in regard to the "fusion" system in this county, at any rate, and we rejoice that it is so. The Editor says he has "put a new Hickory nail" in his determination to break somebody's head, but he has not yet given it its right and lawful blow.

FRANKLIN PERCEE would seem to be out of all appropriations to take part in the election. It is not his duty to do so, and he has no right to do so.

It is a pity that the President has not been taken ill, and that he is unable to attend to his duties. It is a pity that the President has not been taken ill, and that he is unable to attend to his duties.

THE DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES, in speaking of an address recently issued by the Democrats of Philadelphia, on the subject of a division of the School Fund, says: "It reviews the legislation giving a part of the fund to sectarian schools or religious societies, and shows that the same legislation is the most unjust and oppressive that has ever been enacted in this State."

SLAVERY IN KANSAS.—Several weeks ago a meeting was held in a frontier town of Missouri, at which resolutions were adopted in relation to the settlement of Kansas, of a most liberal and progressive character.

SENSELESS TO GO LAST.—The Freedom Advocate don't go "fusion" with the Abolitionists on the contrary, it condemns in round terms the proposed "fusion" Convention of fug ends at Saratoga on the 16th.

THE CLEVELAND HERALD advocates the importance of cultivating the willow as a branch of agriculture and commerce in the State of Ohio. It says that in Northern Ohio much land lies uncultivated which, by the rearing of willows, would yield from fifty to one hundred per cent. above the investment.

Fusion won't work in Pennsylvania

It is pretty evident now that "fusion" in Pennsylvania is "up a stump," and consequently the triumphant car, upon which Pollock hoped to be swamped in the "blough of despond," The bid thrown out by Abolitionists and Free Soilers, by the Whig Address, which, by the by, was the last trump in the pack, has met with no response that of derision. This is evident, not only from the action of the Free Soilers themselves, but from the proceedings of whig meetings and the whinnings of the whig press in various sections of the State.

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else. They are remarkable, because they pledge the Whig party to severance of the agitation of the slave question until the act forming the Territories of Nebraska and Kansas, is repealed.

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else.

THE CLEVELAND HERALD advocates the importance of cultivating the willow as a branch of agriculture and commerce in the State of Ohio. It says that in Northern Ohio much land lies uncultivated which, by the rearing of willows, would yield from fifty to one hundred per cent. above the investment.

SENSELESS TO GO LAST.—The Freedom Advocate don't go "fusion" with the Abolitionists on the contrary, it condemns in round terms the proposed "fusion" Convention of fug ends at Saratoga on the 16th.

SLAVERY IN KANSAS.—Several weeks ago a meeting was held in a frontier town of Missouri, at which resolutions were adopted in relation to the settlement of Kansas, of a most liberal and progressive character.

SENSELESS TO GO LAST.—The Freedom Advocate don't go "fusion" with the Abolitionists on the contrary, it condemns in round terms the proposed "fusion" Convention of fug ends at Saratoga on the 16th.

THE CLEVELAND HERALD advocates the importance of cultivating the willow as a branch of agriculture and commerce in the State of Ohio. It says that in Northern Ohio much land lies uncultivated which, by the rearing of willows, would yield from fifty to one hundred per cent. above the investment.

The Whig Plunge to Agitation

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else.

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else.

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else.

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else.

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else.

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else.

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else.

One of the Whig papers here asserts that the resolutions of the meeting held at the Court House on Monday evening, are "more remarkable for voluminousness and verbosity than for any other quality." We acknowledge that this criticism is just to some extent, still they are remarkable for something else.

The Anti-Slavery Meeting

Last week "Negrophobia" took its turn, and the Anti-Slavery whig meeting would have "ruled the roost," if the cause was weak in the hour, paled in the face, and almost paralyzed in the "organs" of speech. The demonstration was immense, and many flaming head lights and large expeditions signified in black, red and light and numbers to witness the opening scene, were seen as the movers at the funeral of a dead man.

Last week "Negrophobia" took its turn, and the Anti-Slavery whig meeting would have "ruled the roost," if the cause was weak in the hour, paled in the face, and almost paralyzed in the "organs" of speech.

Last week "Negrophobia" took its turn, and the Anti-Slavery whig meeting would have "ruled the roost," if the cause was weak in the hour, paled in the face, and almost paralyzed in the "organs" of speech.

Last week "Negrophobia" took its turn, and the Anti-Slavery whig meeting would have "ruled the roost," if the cause was weak in the hour, paled in the face, and almost paralyzed in the "organs" of speech.

Last week "Negrophobia" took its turn, and the Anti-Slavery whig meeting would have "ruled the roost," if the cause was weak in the hour, paled in the face, and almost paralyzed in the "organs" of speech.

Last week "Negrophobia" took its turn, and the Anti-Slavery whig meeting would have "ruled the roost," if the cause was weak in the hour, paled in the face, and almost paralyzed in the "organs" of speech.

Last week "Negrophobia" took its turn, and the Anti-Slavery whig meeting would have "ruled the roost," if the cause was weak in the hour, paled in the face, and almost paralyzed in the "organs" of speech.

Last week "Negrophobia" took its turn, and the Anti-Slavery whig meeting would have "ruled the roost," if the cause was weak in the hour, paled in the face, and almost paralyzed in the "organs" of speech.

Letters from the West

NEW YORK, Aug. 11, 1854. Just as we were about to close our columns, a letter from the West, containing a most interesting and valuable account of the proceedings of the Whig party in that section, was forwarded to us.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11, 1854. Just as we were about to close our columns, a letter from the West, containing a most interesting and valuable account of the proceedings of the Whig party in that section, was forwarded to us.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11, 1854. Just as we were about to close our columns, a letter from the West, containing a most interesting and valuable account of the proceedings of the Whig party in that section, was forwarded to us.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11, 1854. Just as we were about to close our columns, a letter from the West, containing a most interesting and valuable account of the proceedings of the Whig party in that section, was forwarded to us.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11, 1854. Just as we were about to close our columns, a letter from the West, containing a most interesting and valuable account of the proceedings of the Whig party in that section, was forwarded to us.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11, 1854. Just as we were about to close our columns, a letter from the West, containing a most interesting and valuable account of the proceedings of the Whig party in that section, was forwarded to us.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11, 1854. Just as we were about to close our columns, a letter from the West, containing a most interesting and valuable account of the proceedings of the Whig party in that section, was forwarded to us.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11, 1854. Just as we were about to close our columns, a letter from the West, containing a most interesting and valuable account of the proceedings of the Whig party in that section, was forwarded to us.