

IMPORTANT FROM EUROPE

Arrival of the Baltic.

Erra: Battle between the Russians and the Allies. The American steamer Baltic, Capt. Gustav...

The news by this arrival of the Baltic at interest and importance. One of the most sanguinary battles of modern times has been fought, and SEBASTOPOL has fallen!

As an army which has just lost a great battle and been driven ignominiously from the position of Sebastopol is ill prepared for a defence...

London, Wednesday—A dispatch received here today confirms the intelligence received from various quarters relative to the fall of Sebastopol.

VIENNA, Oct. 3.—Several private dispatches received here today confirm the intelligence received from various quarters relative to the fall of Sebastopol.

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

Eric Weekly Observer.

ERIE, PA. SATURDAY MORNING, OCT. 21, 1854.

The Returns.

We have not yet received the returns from all the counties in the state, and hence have deemed it necessary to publish an imperfect table.

The official returns of the county, for the type of which we are under obligations to the Gazette, will be found in the other page of this week's paper.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

Is there a Whig Party?

Is there a Whig Party? In the early part of the canvass we propounded this query to the Gazette, and were answered that the election would show us whether there was or not.

Well, the election has been held, and what is the result? Is there a whig party among us? Is there one in the State? These are important questions, for upon their being answered in the affirmative, depends whether Pollock's election is a whig victory, or some other kind of a victory!

Next week we have no doubt we shall be able to give our readers the length, breadth, and depth of our defeat. As to the Legislature, it is not yet known what material the House is made, and we think it will not be the 'pre-bleared' crew that succeeded in boarding the good old ship of state.

The official returns of the county, for the type of which we are under obligations to the Gazette, will be found in the other page of this week's paper.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

Throwing of the Mask.

Throwing of the Mask. Since Judge POLLOCK'S election is secured the opponents of Eric at home and abroad are throwing off their mask, and avowing his hostility to their interests.

Everybody recollects how well the Constitution was previous to the election, how, when noticing his speech here, it depicted the sentiments he uttered were not acceptable to the railroad men.

We have not yet received the returns from all the counties in the state, and hence have deemed it necessary to publish an imperfect table.

The official returns of the county, for the type of which we are under obligations to the Gazette, will be found in the other page of this week's paper.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

Personal and General Observations.

Personal and General Observations. A worn out subject, doubtless, will a fashionable one with Milliers, Talbot, Hatters, and Editors.

Everybody recollects how well the Constitution was previous to the election, how, when noticing his speech here, it depicted the sentiments he uttered were not acceptable to the railroad men.

We have not yet received the returns from all the counties in the state, and hence have deemed it necessary to publish an imperfect table.

The official returns of the county, for the type of which we are under obligations to the Gazette, will be found in the other page of this week's paper.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

Letters from New-York.

Letters from New-York. The gloom which fell upon our city last week, was not the gloom of the Arctic was announced, but the gloom of the arrival of the Baltic.

The news by this arrival of the Baltic at interest and importance. One of the most sanguinary battles of modern times has been fought, and SEBASTOPOL has fallen!

As an army which has just lost a great battle and been driven ignominiously from the position of Sebastopol is ill prepared for a defence...

London, Wednesday—A dispatch received here today confirms the intelligence received from various quarters relative to the fall of Sebastopol.

VIENNA, Oct. 3.—Several private dispatches received here today confirm the intelligence received from various quarters relative to the fall of Sebastopol.

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

VIENNA, Tuesday, Oct. 3.—From MENSCHIKOFF'S dispatch to St. Petersburg...

Compliment to Gov. Bigler.

Compliment to Gov. Bigler. Though defeated, G. Bigler is not forgotten by his friends. We learn from the Evening Argus, that while at the Merchants Hotel in Philadelphia, this week, he was called upon by an immense number of citizens, attended by a splendid band of music.

Well, the election has been held, and what is the result? Is there a whig party among us? Is there one in the State? These are important questions, for upon their being answered in the affirmative, depends whether Pollock's election is a whig victory, or some other kind of a victory!

Next week we have no doubt we shall be able to give our readers the length, breadth, and depth of our defeat. As to the Legislature, it is not yet known what material the House is made, and we think it will not be the 'pre-bleared' crew that succeeded in boarding the good old ship of state.

The official returns of the county, for the type of which we are under obligations to the Gazette, will be found in the other page of this week's paper.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.

The election of last week, viewed by the wing press, and by that of the Abolitionists, too, as an Anti-Nebraska victory.