Neva. After the drop had fallen, three of the ropes broke, and the bodies of the condemned fell heavily into the grave already dug at their foot. "Cursed country," exclaimed Ryleif, where people can neither conspire, nor judge, nor hang!" Disabled by their fall, they were carried once more to the scaffoid, and the gray dawn saw their bodies stiffened in death. Several other conspirstors were sent to Siberia

As ominous beginnig for a reign. It had afforded Nicholas an opportunity for the display of personal courage; other quilities were now required of him. Like Alexander's, his early reign promined great things He gained popularity by associating freely with his subjects, and interesting himself in their welfare He cut down the expenses of the Court, and thus relieved the tax payers. He undertook to reform every departmont of the government, and displayed untiring activity in the public business.

By the conspiracy of the 26th December the Emperor had been made aware of the corruption which had reached all classes; the bureaux were fall of fraud, theft, and every kind of illigality. Justice was rendered unjustly, and law was constantly eluded. He resolved to be the Justinian of his empire.

Speranski was directed to prepare an official sollection of the Russian laws The archivesmilitary, civil and synodal-the ukases of the imperial cabinet, and the judgements of the different branches of the administration, were put together. All these materials formed a general collection (Sobrassie Zaconu,) consisting of thir-ty-nine thousand nine hundred nots. It is not without interest to remark, that in this enormous unmber thirty thousand nine hundred and twenty f these acts were anterior to the accession of Nieholas; five thousand and seventy-three were ges will be in proportion, and the advertisements must promulgated between 1825 and 1832 The Caar, is seen, alone produced more laws than several d liberative assemblies. He himself presided al the compilation of the acts which we have just spiken of and which it was of course necessary to make agree in all their details.

Already forty-five quarto volumes of the Svod, or Russian Digest, have been published, and reguiste the decisions of the Russian tribunals During a long period Nicholas passed all his sights and days in superintending these arduous lais ra, and in bringing them to a satisfactory re-tage to call at his new store, which is being fitted up the most modern and Beautiful style. Remember : suit, in spite of the dumb resistrnce of the buresucrete. His frame soon showed signs of the exee ... ve labor he imposed on himself; his wife councantly pleaded with him for some relaxation trony his toils. Where he could detect corruption h punished it severely. Thus for a year or two Le a d well.

Tue rengeance of Nicholas was pulless Every one r .gembers the horrible treatment to which the in urgents were subjected. Poland was incorp a ded with Russia, and became a province of the empire.

The retrogade movement was now in full vigor. But i the topice the constant weapon of desputiam and still the story is not half told, and would not be if the -name mod in the cities. In his anxiety to keep Observer's broad pages were filled with the articles to be block to be block to be the will bad there PERKINS can satisfy all your warra, vis. down in people, Nicholas lost sight of the villause of the functionaries. Corruption was never more universal. Restraints were placed on forcigu vel, and Russian subjects were forbidden to putnish anything abroad. Fresh levies swelled tu: army to a monstrous extent. The news' the news' have you heard it, the best of news, That WILCOX & NORTON have a lot of new shoes? They are at 10, as you know, H. Brown's new block, Where the crowd is rushing to see shear new stock.

Their shelves are lined, from ceiling to floor, With shoes, new shoes, as we said before, With shoes of all sizes and of every hus, Red, grees and black, and a beautiful blue. They have shoes, such as Panias the fairy wears,

They've slippers so easy they'll mollify pain Caused by tight fitting boot, the bachelor's ban They've flogas and brogans of Calcutta kip,

With seams that are warranted never to rip. They have shoes at prices astoundingly low. And their customers, all, astonishment show, As they learn that shoes can truly be bought For a sum far less than they ever had thought.

They have-what have'nt they for a might of gold? The sum so paltry it scarce can be told! They have what will cover all soles unclad, And make them go un rejuting and glad,
