SATURDAY MORNING, DEC 1, 1855

Perhaps our next will contain the Pres dent's Message: it is not certain, however, as the prospects of an organization next week are by no in the minority, and of course they will stand by and let "Sam's" and "Sambo's' happy famly settle the matter to suit themselves And a nice time they'll have too!

A GOOD APPOINTMENT -- We notice that our friend, A. M. CLARK, Esq., a great many years ago one of the "Erie boys," but more recently of Harrisburg, has been appointed to a Clerkship nabnect.' in the Department of the Interior at Washing ton We can truly say with the Harrisburg Union that he is a most estimable gentleman and sound Democrat, and 14 known as an accomplished clerk, having served with great credit in the State Department under Governors SHUNK and and BIGLER He was one of the victims of Know-Nothing proscription upon the advent of Governor POLLOCK, and we are much gratified to see him appreciated by the National Administrat1010.

NEW JERSEY -Full returns of the recent election in New Jersey show the following result: Democratic majorities, 4,062, opposition majori ties, 2,468; democratic majority in the State, 1,594. In 1854 the whig majority was 6,730 Democratic gain in one year, >,324.

The Presidential Succession.

As a matter of course the question of the Pres idential succession is beginning to elicit discussion-more 40, perhaps, because the Congress which assembles next week will more or less shape the issue for the campaign, as well as make and unmake the candidates So its doings, then, we in Pennsylvania are looking with eager interest. Not that the position of the old Keystone can be altered one iota by the proceedings of that body, but the success of the candidate named by the Cincinnati Convention, must be more or less promoted or injured by the course of the Democratic members of the House. They are in a minority; and for the success of our ticket next year, it is as well perhaps the they are Upon their shoulders will rest none of the responsibilities, none of the cares, nor none of the glories of the session. They can calmly look on and see how the "new masters" the people have sent to Washington, perform their trust If wisdom pervails, well' They will replace as patriots that the political whirlwind of last year left no mere enduring mark But if wisdom does not pervail-if conciliation, concession, and a due regard for the rights of all the States, and the privileges vouch safed to all citizens by the Constitution, are not regarded by the majority, their duly is to resist by all honorable means, and when that fails, to throw the issue upon the people, and meet their opponents upon the huspings in the Presidential canvass next year in view of these facts the proclaimed by the Democracy upon the passage
