Correspondence of the Erie Observer. NEW YORE, Jan. 28, 1856.

The last news received by the Africa from Euope is important in a figancial point of view.-The embarrassments of the Eastern war are slow. y but surely undermining the calossel fabric of England's figancial supremacy. Her prestige of military power has been destroyed, her naval eputation has been seriously impaired, and her money kings can no longer move the exchanges f the world with a nod.

But, if we are wise, England's loss may be Columbia's gain. While Wall street trembled at the smallest cloud hanging over the London Exchange, we could not truly boast of our indendence. The money sceptra still ruled us as tiruly as the edicts of the third Goorge. Now a the time for our final declaration of Indepenleace. Our resources are unbounded---our incenternal improvements are developing the most productions are varied, as the opposite elimes of tueir birth. Our people are industrious, perse-
