LITTLE CHARLEY.

We can but years through length of days For something lost, we fancied ours

We'll miss thee, darling, when the Spring

And allver tear drops braided sweet! For thou wast light and thou wast shade. And thine were sweet capracious ways'-

Has touched the world to flowers'

For thou was like the dainty month Which strews the violets at its fort Thy life was slips of golded sun

Now lost in purple languors, now

O little Presence! everywhere We find some touching trace of thee

And broken toys around the house-

Where he has left them they have lain

That "neachty hands" made thoughtiess

No bird in ripe red summer days Was half as wild as thou!

A pencil mark upon the wall

Waiting for little busy hands

Within the shrouded room below

He ties a cold-and yet we know It is not Charley there!

It is not Charile cold and white,

It is the robe, that, in his fligh He gently cast aside! )ur darling hath not died! O rare pale lips! O clouded eves

O violet eyes grown dim! Ah well! this lock of hair is all of him that we can keep

Than all our life hath taught!

God, walking over starry spheres

And led him, through a fail of tear-Into the Mystic Band:

Angel of Death! we question not

Who asks of Heaven, "why does it rain Angel! we bless thes, for thy kime

Hath hushed the lips of Pain! No "wherefore," "To what good end "hall out of doubt and anguish croop

Into our thought we bow our heads He grooth has Bolowed elecp!
