and conscientiously, for it is the last word of warning or enconragement that can be addressed to you before your votes determine who shall be President of the United States for the next four years Shall he be a neighbor and a friend-a Pennsylvania

statesman, born and bred amongst you, the course of whose with whom you know the interests of the country are enfe; as shall it be one who, though a fortunate adventurer, a lucky finder of paths which others as brave as he had trou before, is utterly without experience, and, more than that, who is the candidate of sectionalism and fanaticism, and the worst sort of speculative experiment, the candidate of Joshua & Gidlings, the Abelitionist, and George Law, the New York operator

This is the question which, in its most direct from and freed from all colinteral usus. from all questions as to who shall be members of Congress, or the Legislature, or hold any other local trust, is now to be decided by you. Rach individual man must decide it for himself

It seems to have become a question whether Pennsylvania, this ancient, loyal, true hearted commonwearth, shall have any right of choice, or shall dare to exercise it of Pennsylvania, including its great metropolis, have months of blood narrowly escaped the dominion of an abolition oligarchy, combination is the fruit of the selicing function and leader of abolitionsemination is the fruit of the selicing function.

But socially, what an escape has Pennsylvania and the Phi Nation had! There is no measuring the actual consequence of our defection from the cause of the Constitution and the Union The first would have been-for the wirds of fanaticism once again let loose, would have blown into a flame the almost extinct spark of civil discord-the renewal of strife and bloodshed in Kansas That afflicted territory is at peace, and has been so for weeks, if not months; and no caffild man, no lover of his country doubts or wishes to deny it. The instant an honest Penneylvania man was sout there, one whose first thoughts were to restore order : and do his duty-one who was actuated by the moderate and unsectional feeling of a Pennsylvanian -that instant riolence on all sides was rebuked-adventurers of all parties who came for mischief were repelled-the administration of the law restored and the way prepared for that . fair popular decision as to organic institutions which the people have a right to form. The only chance which Kaness has of coming into his contriberacy, free from the institution of domestic slavery, is when good order shall be confirmed and peaceful citizens from the North and PELLOW CITIERYS - You are asked to read this carefully from the South from a distance and from near at hand, ? who come to settle in good faith, with the rights of property of all kind which the Constitution secures, shall have the chance of saving for themselves what their wishes are - ; This may be yet—and if it is, or if it is not, by the honest. In the above, the vote of Faser, Am. and Kelly, Rep. in will acquiesce. But this acquiesence can alone be had in whole life, private and public, has been with you, and that period of national repose which a constitutional President like James Buchanan Las aromised and can secure A Penneylvania man in Kansas has aiready done much for law and order and domestic peace.
