News of the Week.

The Syracuse Standard relates that a week or to since a wild young man, the son of a respectable citizen of that city, arrived there from the west in company with a handsome, well dressed stranger, who was introduced to the bloods about town as a young man from the west.-The two friends took lodgings at a Hotel, visited the saloons other fronks they attended the Dedication Ball of the Grazs, where the handsome stranger made a favorable impression among the ladies by his tasteful dress, graceful danging, and winning manners. Soon afterwards the two companions left town for the west, where it is presumed they are still luxuriating in the erjoyment of each other's company. Since their departure it has been ascertained that the handsome smooth-faced stranger was a female i disguise' and the susceptible young ladies who bestowed their heart's affections on the elegant hero of the ball room arethe unhappy victims of "false pretences."

-The Democracy of the North west of Virginia have not only signalized themselves by the majority cast for given substantial assurance of their seal, by presenting to the Miter of the Wheeling Argus the sum of $1,000, cash down, in "hard money," to enable him to purchase new types, and increase the officiency of his paper. This was pertainly duing a very handsome thing in a very handsome way. Such acts as these, says the Richmond Examiner, on the part of the people, are rare as well as noble, and we trust the Democracy of North-western Virginia may always have the like fidelity and efficiency of service to reward in their speakers and editors, and find as liberal mode of testifying their appreciation of such service.
