a short history of certain transactions, partly in this city, and partly out of it, which afford a very full illustration of the practical effect of that beautiful system of imposture which is shelding its lights and shadows upon the tops of the Western mountains. Possibly our readers may be interested in it-especially if they should ever, in the mutations of the future, be thrown within the valley where the Upas sheds its poison and reveals the ghastly carcases which strew the ground, they may perhaps be enabled to turn it to a practical use. With this object in view, we will briefly state the circumstances to which we allade, suppressing names for the reason that some of those affected, and most grievously af feeted, by these circumstances, are of our ewn citizens, and to whom we would tender our profoundest sympathics

A few years since, a gentleman, his wife, and two infantile children, like thousands of others left this city for the golden shores of the Pacific, the husband and wife dreaming, doubtless, that in the land of the shining ore they should soon realize a fortune for themselves and their children. The lady, we may premise, possessed more than an ordinary share of intellect, which had been cultivated to a highly respectable degree by the care of fond and doating parents, who little soniati. thought of the use to which that intellect would in after years be devoted, or how their devotion would be repaid. Alas! they can feel "how sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child," or one that brings them only sorrow instead of joy.

The family settled in San Francisco. Some time afterward, the gentleman and his wife, in ment to practice the above injunction, that I connection with a brother of the latter, chanced to step in ou Sunday to hear a Mormou mission. ary from Utah, who was boiding forth in San with your hearty approbation, and may serve as Francisco. They were prevented by the bad an incentive to others connected with Sabbath weather and walking from attending their usual piace of worship; and as the house where the Mormon was speaking happened to lie in their way, they concluded after leaving home, and from mere currosity, to go in and hear him,-Fatal curiosity! Inauspicious day! What the particular subject of discourse was which they heard we are not advised. After coming out. the husband and brother expressed themselves weekly. On the first of January last the school very freely upon the merits of what they had heard, and pronounced some of it little, if any short of blasphemy. To the utter astonishment of both, however, the wife and sister expressed herself highly pleased with it! As a probable solution of such a mystery we may say, before proceeding farther, that it subv in twelve equal payments on the first Sabhath of sequently turned out that she had heard a Mormon missionary while a young lady, residing in one of the river towns in Mississippi. Polygamy was at that time carefully concealed from the outside Gentiles by the apostles of Joe Smith; and stoutly denied. Probably the young lady was fascinated by the romance which the Mormon may have skillfully woven into his discourse and the seeds of blasting ruin thus lodged in her mind to spring up, fractify and bear apples of Sodom to turn to ashes in the tasting many days afterwards Be tais as it may, the indy soon became strongly attached to the Mormon faith, and went trequently, if not constantly, to hear its apostles. In a short time he had acquired sufficient influence over her to cause her to resolve to quit her husband-if he would not accompany ner-and repair to the grand rendez-themselves at Salt Lake City.

The determination once taken, nothing could dissuade per from her purpose. But the child ren, what was to become of them? The mother may confidently look to them bereafter as active was devotedly, passionately attached to them, supporters of the Church, and able defenders of and she determined to take them with her -- truth -- Cor Presbyterian. The father and brother of course became alarmed. To prevent her from going, they knew well would be impossible, but they resolved to save the be impossible, but they resolved to save the children from the yawning gulf which was about opening to receive them, and in pursuance of this day. Transcript," contains volumes of sound, resolution they determined to send them to their practical advice which we would recommend all resolution they determined to send them to their grandparents in this city. They were therefore taken when the mother was absent, placed on board a steamer, and safely reaching New Orleans, were soon under the loving care and hos pitable roof of their grandparents.

Who, however, can beffle or circumvent a de. termined woman, fanatic though she be, when her feelings, her pride and her affection all combine to spur her on to the accomplishment of her object? The very next steamer that sailed bro't purchased a lot of stocks, on speculation The that mother to this city, chafing like an enraged next day the bottom fell out of the money martigress, whose young have been taken from her. ket—stocks took a tumble. Park church has not been organized (we years. The Subbath school connected with it at its commencement numbered about twenty scholars .-Is has now enrolled upon its record from seventy to eighty scholars, with a well selected library of over two bundred and fitty volumes, in addition to the Sunday School Visitor distributed adopted the "Plan of Systematic Benevolence" as suggested by Mr. Spring, of Chicago, to the Synod of Illinois. About forty of the notes (which are very neatly executed, with fine engravings and appropriate texts of Scripture enercling them,) were given by the scholars, payable every month. The amount thus to be paid varied from two cents to fifty. The amount col leated during the year in this school, infant in years, but furnishing an example well worthy of being imitated by those of larger growth, reached the same of seventy dollars, with the confident expectation the coming year of doubling this amount. The rebolars have taken the greatest in it, and seldom permitted the first Subbath of the us outh to pass without a prompt, obserful response to the amount due on their note. The advantages arising from this system of benevo, ence, this mode of giving, and that, too, by the young, are numerous, the least of which I regard the amount collected : but it forms in youth the babit of averem, of nunctuality, and of benevoleuce : it implants in their tender minds the great principles of life, and gives to them liberal vous of the latter Day Saints, as they style and enlarged views, making them feel that, though young, they are not too young to commence the noble work of doing good.
