Uncle Joseph.

The day and night had passed, and the new...

morning had come, before the husband and wife...

could trust themselves to speak calmly of the...

secret, and to face resignedly the duties and the...

it imposed on sacrifices which the discovery of...

Leonard's first question referred to those lines...

in the letter, which Rosamond had informed him...

were in a handwriting that she knew. Finding...

that he was at a loss to understand what meant...

she could have forming an opinion on this point...

she explained that, after Captain Treverton's...

death, many letters had naturally fallen in...

to her possession which had been written by Mrs...

Treverton to her husband. They treated of ordi... nary domestic subjects, and she had read them...

enough to become thoroughly acquainted with the...

peculiarities of Mrs. Treverton's handwriting. It was remarkably large, firm, and...

masculine in character, and the address, the line...

under, and the uppermost of the two signatures...

in the letter which had been found in the Myrtle...

Room, exactly resembled it in every particular.

The next question related to the body of the...

letter. The writing of this, of the second signature, (Sarah Leonard,) and of the additional...

lines of the third page, also signed by Sarah...

Leonard, proclaimed itself in each case to be the...

production of the same person. While stating...

that fact to her husband, Rosamond did not yet...

forget to explain to him that, while reading the...

letter on the previous day, her strength and...

courage had failed her before she got to the end...

of it. She added that the postscript which she...

had thus omitted to read, was of importance, because it mentioned the circumstances under which...

the secret had been hidden; and begged that he...

would listen to what she said, and which she had...
