"What shall I do?" and the old bachelor stamped about the sitting room in a perfect rage of doubt, looking first at the napping babe in the little willow cradle, and the busy French clock on the mantle shelf.

"As sure as my name Joseph Pholph that little, two fieted, large lunged nephew of mine is about waking, and it wants one whole hour of the time which its mether appointed for her return. Whew! I actually sweat thinking about it. What can I do with it? How can I treat it to sugar what d'ye call 'ems, or held it, or trot it, or do anything with it?"

it, or do anything with it?"

At this juncture a faint wail from the baby receptacle brought bachelor Joseph to his taps. With energy and alsority that would not illy become a husband and baby tender, he commenced rocking the eradic, sending the indigment baby into a perfect tremor of kicks and squalls. Backwards and forwards, from one side I the pillow to the other, the round red face rolled; the infant fists were closed with a force that purpled them; while from the white, plump throst, came a cry that set the bachelor wild with four.

yell from the resy mouth of the baby was the only expression of thanks as he commenced the never-out of fashion baby trot,
"It tenst be something that's pricking him. Head Shoe!" said Jos, commencing a search for the aggrivating pin that was driving the child into such a rage. But no pin was to be found, and he made an attempt to turn the baby over, but oh! the cluminess of his languar—the little cel-like form fell out of his lap to the floor, seeding fort a cry that was flouder, clearer, deadlier than awas." has eves."

"Lord save me! I've broken its neck!" was the exciamation as he picked the baby up, and in the agegy of despair tried to quiet him. A thought struck Joe. He saw a basque hanging against the wall of adjoining bedroom, and with smile of delight upon his countenance he went For it. Sure enough, there it was, stuffing, boddice, and all! a real monument of feminine ingenuity. He was wild with joy. He pinned it over his coat and fastened the sleeves benind him. He then took baby and laid its head against the false breast work.

Shades of southern plantation and cotton factories!" exclaimed Joe, as baby rooted its nose into it about a mile, and then suddled for a succes. Then the bachelor commenced 4 diaging:

THE AT LAST .- A young man from the 'rural districts" went to the Post office the other day with a bank-note for a dollar's worth of postege stamps. He was told that paper money was not received. He went away, and shortly returned with four Spanish quarters. "We don't receive them now," said the attendant, "for more than twenty cents apiece." The countryman thought Uncle Sam mighty particular, so he went away again and obtained a dollar in coppers .-"Now," said he, on returning to the office and laying down his "pile" at the window of the delivery, "I guess I can suit ye." The man inside looked at the display of "specie currency," and ecolly mid, "we never take more than three cents in copper at any one time, it is not a legal nder above that sum."

The countryman looked at the composed official for the space of a minute and a half without stirring and then be belehed out-"Look here you; ain't you almighty kind of particular, for fellers locked up in such a jail as this 'ere? You don't take only three cents in copper at a time, hey? Well, then, s'pose you give me three cent's worth of stamps, anyhow." The official very politely out him off a single stamp, and passed it out, for which the countryman laid down three conts. He was about to pass away, when the latter eried out. "Look here, youl that 'ere's one time. Now s'pose you gin me three cents worth more on'em."
Uncle Sam's clerk was not slow in discovering that he had saught a tarter. He turned back to the window. "How many coppers have you got?" he asked.

"Wall, only about ninety-seven of 'em; I had a hundred on 'em when I begun."

"Pass 'em in!" was the gruff reply. "Pass out your stamps fust and then I will," mid Jenathan, "but I reckon you don't ketch

The stamps were passed out, the coppers were were handed ever, when the countryman went off enging, "Is poss because a fellow holds office under Uncle Sam he thinks he's smarter'n all erestion; but I guess they larnt somethin' that time." Lough Name.

Mesers. Clark 47Baldwis —Genta.—I have for some time past been prescribed your "Anthelminete Wafers," and I must say that is my long practic I have never yet found as "certains, seps and pleasest remedy for worms" as the Wafers prove themselves to be! I am daily recommending them to my triends and patients and am happy to say in every instance with the most marked success. They have never failed in a single case, operating as effectually upon adults af children. They have the advantage over vermituges being so "pleasant to the taffs that children will sat them as readily as easily." Being prospanity soquanted with their composition; unhesitatingly pronounds them the best worm specific now in use, and it can be administered to the youngest infinit with perfect safety. Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE stances of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are ellown that theme Pana have virtues which surpose is excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they we subjected used to the cordinary medicines, and that they we subjected used the steem of all men. They are and and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their possisting properties estimalate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and exped discose. They purge out the feal humans which bread and grow distemper, estimulate singgish or discodered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strongth to the whole system. Not only do they care the everyday enoughtism of every body, but also formidable and danger out discourse that have hadied the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished dones, the subsite of the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished dones, the subsite of the surpass belief were they not estimated they seen of such exalted position and character as to forbid the respiction of such exalted position and character as to forbid the respiction of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspiction of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspiction of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspiction of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspiction of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspiction of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspiction of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspiction, while others have sent me the assurance of their own such as the such and physicians have lend their mana and produces.
