the Army are engaged with great energy and activity, making preparations for putting the treops in motion which are destined for the Great Suit Lake. It is only menth or six weeks since the expedițion was received on by the Government, and the lateness of the season made recently to show how quickly one fourth of the Army could be concentrated at one point, and furnished with all the supplies and municious for a march of a thousand miles through an uninhabited country. So vigorously have the ations been pushed forward that in a little while -the St. Louis Republican thinks within ten days-the whole army will be in the field. Doubts have been exproceed, whether each on army, so narranbered with beggage and military supplies, one reach' Utak before the inter sets in, but if not they one readily find quarters at Port Laranie, and thoses make an early march to Great Sait Lake City in the spring. Since the 5th of May up to the 3d of July, the number of troops forwarded to the West is 1,000; the number of horses purchased amounts to 202; number of males, 234, number of warrant, with harmone da, six mule teams $25; total number of Quarter ster's and Commissery stores, purchased and shipped 5,750; number of bushels of cate, 15,600; bushels e eery, 90,000; steamers engaged, 45; and number of teammployed, 200. It is further stated that the value of the Courter Master's stores is $700,000, and that of the missory's stores, $221.000. The St. Louis Republican which has been at the nains to collect these facts, does not know that this includes the value of the horses, mules, As purchased elsewhere then in St. Louis ; and it is quite ture that it does not embrace the material of war furnished by the St. Louis Arsonal, and in the preparation of which an average of one hundred men have been for some time employed. When the whole account course to be footed up it will be found that this expedition has been the mean urbing some twelve or fifteen hundred thousand dol lers in Missouri, to say nothing of transportation across the plains, the supply of beef, cattle, &c., contracts for which here strendy been made.

-Serva females were arrested in Philadelphia on Priday last on the charge of passing counterfeit notes, principally these of the Philadelphia Bank. Three of the prisoners, quite young girls, from fifteen to twenty years old, were examined as witnesses, and detailed the medical perundi, through all the different stages of the business. The notes were given to them to pase by a Mrs. Eva Shanger, an old effender in this line, and they were allowed four deliars out of a ten deliar note; the same in propertion for the fives. The company had made a tour to Net York, and had done a sploudid business in running the mency. They left a lot of it in Brooklyn, Williamsberg and other towns in that neighborhood. They brought home with them several carpet bags of goods, shoos, shawls, col hare and other articles. Before leaving for New York they were quite excessful in Philadelphia, and considerable their purchases in that city are in the hands of the police Mrs. Shanger was fortunately arrested with the others of the party. One of the girls testified that she put the note between the learns of a book dampened with tobached to give them a gengine reliew appearance. The Worker were committed for a further hearing.

It was sur good fortune to take passage on the "Western World." one of the new and fine eleamers running from Buffale to Detroit in connection with the Michigan Central Railroad Of the best we have little to say, beckness every one is as quainted with the magnificent and uncurrenced elegane with which she is fitted out; the comfort, safety and ac commodation of her passengers are alike cared for; the State rooms are large and commodious, and in each are numerous life preservers, in case of any accident, which together with several large and stanech life-boats upon her decks, makes one feel perfectly safe and at home. She is commanded by your noble and gallant townsmen Capt John S. Richands, who has achieved, and justiy eserves, a world-wide renown; as a Lake commander h stands at the head of his profession! On stepping o board you are struck with the order, quiet and system Which characterizes every motion; there is no harried bustle or confusion. The table is supplied not only with the seessaries but every luxury of the season; and under the management of her accommodating and gentlement steward, your old friend, Don Wilson, it could not be other wise. It far surpasses many of the first-class hotels of th cities, and is exceeded by none. You leave Buffalo in the evening at nine o'clock; and as soon as the boat is fairig under way, the forward cabin is cleared of the furniture and a fine string band of colored masicians (carried am retained on hoard for this purpose) take their seats and commence some lively Ethiopian melody, irresistible t dancers; and the form of Mr. Wilcox is immediately seen busily engaged among the passengers, introducing stran gers, forming sets, until at last the cabin presents a scene life and galety rarely met with in the ball room. We in noticed a party of ladies and gentlemen who seemed who they were, and were informed they were a party of friends enjoying the kindness and hospitality of the cap-tain and his lady. How we envied the gentlemen, and east a portion of that dignity, beauty, slegance and traveling on business, as was your humble correspondent. But ere long came Mr. Wilcox; and no sooner was our de-sire to dance made known than we found ourrelves with a We immediately became satisfied and fully co vinced that no matter who might be on beard, the comfe convenience and pleasure of the passengers at the tab convenience and pleasure of the passengers at the later or dance were not to be neglected by the gentlemanly officers of the boat. The after-sabin was devoted to the more sober, sedate and weary travellers—which was as quiet at the parlor of a botel. As we came along the wharf a Detroit, and heard the gang plant drop, a feeling of sor ow and regret came over us at leaving the scene much pleasure. As we turned the corner, we cast it ling, last and lingering glases behind, and were only terred from turning back and returning to Buffalo by siness over which we had no control.

Philadelphia and New York The Chaten Democrat, in contrasting the enterprise thited between the people of New York and Philadelphia pushing forward schemes of internal improvement for the purpose of competing for the trade of the West, adinisters to the "money changers" of the latter sity a deserved robuke. It save that while Philadelphia canitalists tand watchfully guarding their money bags and seeking opportunities for shaving mortgages, and other such pelty acts of miserly pilfering, New York is literally chaining the trade of the great west to her markets. We see it stated that the link of road from Allentown to which will give New York direct communication with the west, through Pennsylvania, and also with the North and West Branch valley, the Authracite Coal fields of Wwo ming and Shamokin, and the Bituminous region of Clin ton and Centre, is under contract and will be drivento rapthe opinion of good judges at the time, that Mr. Marcy id completion. The Lock Haven and Tyrone road now in progress of construction, will give New York a direct connestion with Pittehurg, and will thus enable that city to compate on equal terms with Philadelphia at that place tal grasp, his shrowdness, suggestly, and perfect knowledge and through the entire course of the trade finding a marof the subjects on which he wrote, and the terreness, per- ket by way of the Central railroad. Thin, together with er northern routes to the Lakes will give New York the pies as regards foreign commerce. It is humiliating will stand quietly over her money bags, while New York State, and was elected in the fall of 1832, and twice re- and Baltimore are robbing her of all her glory and of every advantage of position. While she contents herself with a mere backleberry route to the west, and that only Ohio trade by tapping the river lower down its bed and as the same time builds a road to the heart of Pennsylvania and New York monopolises the Lake trade with her three ereat roads and her Erie canal, and yet finds abundance delphia and to build lines to the trade of her rich mineral valleys' Yet, while all this is being done, there stands Philadelphia, her money coffers running over, counting her cent per cout! Under these circumstances, is it at all singular that Philadelphia is rapidly losing the respect, he confidence, and the affections of the people of the inteior of Pennsylvania? Why, if New York or Baltimore ad half to gain that Philadelphia has, the Sunbury and Brie railroad would be finished in a season! But the lat. ar parmits this great work, the completion of which would make her wealth and power grow like twin giants, to linger and to die, while the former are grasping and forever sinding to them nearly all the commerce and wealth of he nation! Like a siumbering element, there lies Phila delphia, motionless, while the arts of Baltimore and New fork circumseribe and limit her power, and will soon held

Some of city maners' reports of these college exerctions are about as abourd as one might suppose such things would be, when cooked up by a half-roaked Irish reporter, whose ideas of the structure of the English language were derived entirely from practical exercises in "composition," at the type case. One of these worthing reported the other day that a certain ex-judge was present some where in an "exofficio" character, evidently understanding the term appropriate to an unplumed dignitary or a discarded politician. The "subs" on some of the leading papers of the city are a most diagracefully inflorant and heathen set .from a profound financial article to a dissertation on theological merits of one of Dr. Chapter's ecrosons. If they make any ogogious buils they are not down as typegraphical errors.

Trade is of course quiet, as nabody wents to be imm in the cares of this life on the very eve of our great anniversary. Cotton and wool are firmer than they have been and consequently manufactured goods are "stiffer." The new tariff has released a vast quantity of goods from bond-One silk importer paid, the other day, over $40,000 duty on silks removed from warehouse at one time. As a matter of course, we of the city, celebrated the 4th in the usual patriotic, free-and easy manner. There was

pienty of are works and fights-a surfeit of liberty, lage! and lawlessness-enough of drams, and drunkenness, with a small sprinkling of patriotism, paddies, and powder. In on this occasion by the celebrated English Balshort, all tastes were suited on the "glorious antiversary of our gel secreico ues country." in the great metropolis. If you wanted to take ice-cream with your Angelina, and treat her to stroll in the woods, Hoboken opened its hospitable doors to receive you. If you preferred iced champaigne, and "the luxuries of the season" at Taylor's, or any other of the fashionable resorts that abound in Broadway, you had only to consult the state of your finances and Angelina, and if they said "go it while you're young," go you might. But, while this freedom to enjoy the day in peaceful and unobtrusive manner was appreciated by housands, there were others that could not let the cookion pass without exhibiting how slight the step from rational liberty to anarchy. The consequence was a riot commenced about two c'olock on Saturday morning by a gang of Five Point thieves, who style thomselves the Dond Robbits, "and recommenced again on Saturday evening, which resulted in a great deal of blood shed and loss of life. A negro, confined in the same cell, but who they suspected would give notice of their intention, they had bound and gagged-rendering him perfeetly helpless and speechless. Thus, by a mere accident, as it were, was the community saved, for the present, from the depredations of these desperadoes. In this connection, it may not be improper to remark that we understand the jail is in a very unsafe condition. > OLE BULL IN ERIE .-- We have the pleasure to announce that OLE BULL, the great violinist will visit Erie on Wednesday next, and give one of his inimitable concerts. He will be assisted lad Singer Harrison George, H. Horncas-TLE, the side-shaking Buffo Singer, and W. DEESSLER a distinguished Pianist and composer This will be the first, and probably the last time the citizens of Eric will have an opportunity to hear this great performer, as he intends to visit Europe in September-probably to remain .-About a year ago, our citisens were promised visit from OLE, but as a Hall could not be procured on the night he had arranged to visit Erie, he was compelled to disappoint them. There will be no mistake this time. His former concerte have always been a dollar admission. but in order to easile all to heer him, he has put the price down to fifty cents. In regard to his performance, the N. Y. Express, of a recent date,

"On a player like Qie Bull, criticism is superfluous. The word "wondorful" best expresses his style. His playing is neither classical or elegant, yet there is such vigor, such warble like a canary bird, is not a legitimate use to which but then there are so few people with classical ears, that the enthusiastic admirers of the Norwagian violinist must always be in an immense majority."

The Detroit Free Pres relates that a couple of young sprouts of American blood made Ohio. their appearance before one of the city justices, the other day, and requested to be united in the two women with a bushel basket full of brickhate which the applicable stolled some supposition, he spectrates ages, judging from their looks, were about twelve for the lady and fourteen for the gentlelocked up. The fight soon became general, and markets man. They set their years however, and claimed a right to demand the performance of the ceremonies, the young man twirling a ten spot around his finger with much nonchalance, as a sort of tacit inducement to the court to proceed without further useless questions. Upon being asked whether they were willing to take their oaths that they were of the necessary ages, they signified assent with much alarcity, and the young lady, holding up her hand, swore roundly hat she was "over fourteen." The same performance was about being demanded of the young gentleman, when in walked the paternal anceswould stop, they would. The officer represented they had tors of the two young hopefuls, and a general disconcertion of their plans followed. They were about being led off by the ear to their mam mas, when Justice P. requested the young lady to explain how she dared to take the oath she had just taken, and which she knew must be false. Nothing disconcerted, she stooped down, and unlacing a little gaiter, drew out of it a piece of paper, on which was written the word 'fourteen. On the strength of this she had sworn that she was "over fourteen."

That "love laughs at Locksmiths" is very happily illustrated by a story told by the Toledo Commercial, thus—The belle of a romantic little village about forty miles northwest of Toledo was stolen from her father's house a few nights since. The thief was an athletic young man, with black eyes and comely features. The young lady's venerable father pursued the thief in the morning, and on arriving at----, found him with his lost daughter, who introduced the thief as her husband. The old gentleman swore violently for some minutes, when, the thought suddenly striking him that he was acting absurdly, he pecame amiable and said : "Blessings on ye my children!" The children accepted the old gentleman's blessings, and have since accepted a few hundred acres of his extensive estate.

Ladies may take a profitable hint from the following "excuse for Bachelors," and recollect the fact stated below :

KANSAS.-We have further intelligence from Kansas by way of St Louis. The Democratic convention which met at Lecampton on the 3rd, gave sufficient eviiones by its acts that thewhole Demogratic party will support Walker's inaugural, and the submission of the constitution to the people. Resolutions were passed excluding all sectional distinctions, adopting the Cincinnati platform, and secuming that the name National Democrat of Kansas, embraced all Democrate whether from the North or South, Gov. Walker was invited to address the Convention, which he did with great effect. Advices from Washington fully warrant the assertion that the administration will sustain the source of Governor Walker, in advising the submission of the constitution to the vote of the people, and will defond him from both Southern and Northern attacks.
