Select Poetry.

My spirit is light, in the gentle wind... I feel the world that's round me...

Choice Miscellany.

CHANCES AND CHANGES.

"I say, Mr. Conductor, when will the next express train go to St. Louis?" "Eleven o'clock and thirty minutes to-night, sir..."

THE TEMPEST.

Oh, Father, save! the storm is loud, We tremble at its roar; The sky, one blinding thunder-cloud, A threatening deluge pours...

WESTERN AMOYANOM.

John J., who has recently returned from a tour in the West, relates an anecdote illustrating the heroism of which travelers in that region are capable...

OLD CHILDREN.

No, not always; sometimes they are forced into little old men and women. We know well that the above is a time honored adage, but like too many of its kind it is not infallible...

THE PATCH ON MR. MARCY'S BROECHE.

Harper's Weekly relates the following anecdote of Mr. Marcy: While he was Governor of this State, he was visiting Newburg on some public occasion...

WESTERN TOWN-MAKING.

A gentleman recently returned from the West relates to the Boston Traveller that in setting out early in the morning from the place where he had passed the night...
