and Diarrhous of a poisonous and Choisen Morbus, Dysentery and Diarrhow, Ship, Typhus, Yallow and all Fevers are produced in foul humors of a poisonous and malignant character, which endangers the existence of life while the least particle of this corrupt matter remains in the bowels or rital fluids. The Japanese Life Pills have cured these frightful diseases when all other means had failed; and we have abundant proof of the fact from emisent physicians, as well as others. Indeed, it is nuwise and improdent for any vessel to go to see without a good supply of them on beard. Sailors and others who otta good supply of them on beard. Sailors and others who travel to those ports where the very art is putrid with corruption, should by all means have them in their chests, ready for any emergency which may arise. The fool, malignant matter—that death agent—within these, is forced to leste its stronghold, is driven out from the bowels, bleod, and vital fluids, and replaced with the rich and healthy principles of life. In all malignant discasses they must be succelled in powerful and frequent done.
