-The Detreit papers give the following particulars of a Jehnson had moved to that village with his family, consisting of a wife and three children—the oldest of the well, and the young men had a bed made up on the floor, ed a blow on the side of his head. He was partially a straned, and the next he remembered he was running after men who was attempting to escape by the door. The man turned again and struck at him with some instrument. Mr. entering the room where he had been sleeping, a horrible sight met his eye-one of the little girls and the Colwell boy lay dead before him, and the other little girl and boy insensible from their injuries! Suspicion rests upon two young follows who had recently had some difficulty about meens of gaining possession of it, kyling the children so-and hence, this law which is a professed ratiof to all, that there should be no evidence against them -The editor of the Rockester Democrat has seen sintement, from a pretty reliable-source, to the effect that a duel was recently fought between two officers at West Peint, in which one was rather severely wounded. The other one, who had done gallant service in Mexico, was at the person in command of the squad, and one of them rashed at the officer with his sword drawn, and at once commenced a furious attack. The officer stood upon his defence, and finally succeeded in disarming his opponent, whe was all the while becoming more hot and rash. In dispossessing him of his weapon, the cadet's sword-arm was wounded. He retired to have his wound bound up; and while absent one of his comrades assumed his place in the combat. The wounded man returned and again took his sword, and with increased violence attacked the officer. who found it necessary to use all his skill and vigor in parrying the blows of his antagonist. When the affair had become apparently one of life and death between the combatants, a senior officer came upon the ground and put an end to it. The cadets who participated in the combat were arrested, and it was supposed would be dismissed .-One of them, it is stated, is a son of Gen. doing so, we have no hesitation in saying that, take it all Canal Commissioner, Hoa. Ninnon Struckland, of Chester in all, we doubt whether a more infamous law ever disgraced our statute books. It is a relief to no body, except be those who are abundantly able to pay their debts. It s an act of legislation is favor of rogues, and against hon. Governor. The whole State ticket beats the combined est men; an act to absolve those who owe the merchant, the manufacturer, and the mechanic, from paying their ambibits the majorities this Pall, as far as received, with debts, while it says in so many words, in the sixth section, the same last. most appelling murder which occurred at Pentonville, near that the merchant, the manufacturer, and the mechanic that city, last week. It appears that a gentleman named must liquidate theirs, even to the "pound of flesh." To see that this is so, the reader has but to carefully axamine the said sixth section, and then reflect that, in nime cases latter but eight years of age. Not having got all his bods out of ten, the merchant's capital is in his business-his up, the wife remained at the hotel over night, while Mr. stock-he has no real estate; this being so, he is, beyond Johnson went to his house with the children, and was the reach of relief from this law, because having no real assumpanied by a boy named George Colwell, about 17 estate, he is consequently unable to avail kimself of the years old. About 8 o'clock in the evening two young men year's stay under this act when pressed, or procure the Allegheny, came in, saking for Mr. Johnson, saying that they were necessary security to enable him to do so. He can't in turn avail himself of the stay that has locked up his Rese. means, because his capital, unlike the farmers, is in his Payette, business and not in real estate. If he asks some friend to step forward and go his security, and thus save him from some gambling operations Mr J. had about $400, and the sheriff, he finds himself refused, because, not having Huntingdon, is is supposed that they were aware of it, and took this any real estate, that friend would not be secure in doing puts the sheriff on the back of those who most need relief, while it at the same time erects a perfect barrier between him and thuse who are able to pay, and can pay, but won't pay their debts! In looking upon this sixth section in Luserne, this light, we are not alone—a writer in the Philadelphia Press, says, trunically, that it "is a model for wisdom and McKean, ence ordered off to Utah, and the affair was not made pastice. If you can pay you need not. If you can't, what Miffin, public. The same authority is given for the statement you have shall be torn from you. "From him that hath Monroe, public. Did it ever occur to these gentlemen these bon urables—that there are two sides to a contract; that ered. iture are, themselves, sometimes debtors, or if not, that the fruits of their past toils are essential to means of getting bread? Were they not sworn not to impair the obligations of contracts? and is a contract fur to morrow in nowise impaired by being changed into one for a year hence? It is immaterial that the distinction between the right and Snyder, the remedy has been forced upon our courts. No honest man believes he can take my property on his promise to fay an hour hence, and perform it by paying one year af. terwards. But what becomes of credit, when the means Warren, Venango, of enforcing it are taken away? Is not this act the most Washington, destructive thing to confidence? And what a lesson of Wayne, morality? Is not the law of the land the standard for thousands? And here is a formal declaration that when

Hence the handwriting on the wall!

It is amusing to look over our Republican exchanges we class than those who generally join the army, who just now and compare their excuses for defeat with the will be giad to ealist now, as an alternative to beggary or confident tone they held a week before the election. Here is one, for instance, that confidently told its readers that William Huling, committed suicide in Iowa last week, but which now turns square round, and after telling them that it is lost by that figure, owns that "the result was serious intentions to a young lady, and seeing her ride generally anticipated." And this case is not singular the picture it exhibits san be found with more or fless of seen return, he went and hung himself upon an apple tree light and shade of coloring in almost every republican paby the readcide, in fall view of the lady and his rival, and per in the State. And then the excuses offered—that there was a "general apathy," and that their voters were not out-and the arithmetical calculations entered into to hady, reciding in the village of Stamford, Ct., was show how easy they could have carried the State, if so many of the Republicans had not remained at home—is about as abourd as their claim of certain victory before the election, and their acknowledgment now, that they didn't expect to succeed! Now, in our view, the excuses offered either Republicans or Democrats stay away from the polls, they proclaim to the world that they care nothing about the issues involved; and hence the absence of a por. too, that in their opinion Kansas does not bleed, and hence

AN ERBY IN THE CALIFORNIA SENATE. Among gratifying rosults of the late election

Californian choice of our old friend, James Andraesides. loyhood, however, was spent in this city.---He was to Democrat, and although many changes have occt in the political world since, he still adheres to early opavictions, and hence received the nominationals party friends, and an election at their bands. Inking over the returns of the county we notice he higher number of voted than any of his collegues on ticket—thus showing that in riper years he retains (popularity among his acquaintances that slocted, andwhich we predict he will prove one of its ablest mem.

The Plachurier, a paper opposed to Mr. A. in politics speaks of blection as follows: "The elen of this gentleman to the seat in th Senate made on to the resignation of Mr. Walkup, is a matter of let the citizens of our county may well feel proud. Mraderson has been a recident of this county for five yound is thoroughly conversant with her wants and her resear. Few men indeed, that we know of, are more eming qualified to represent the people of this county than, and few whom we would so giadly see in the poeition Being for a long time connected with the editorial out he had the means in his hands of becoming more minly acquainted with all matters of a publi which be hajast been elected. Aside from this, however, his aby and talents would entitle him to the position, whileany with older headarwould have to acknowledge lamperiority in this respect.

From hisses attention and untiring scal in endeavor ing to been acquainted with all matters whether of State or Necal policy; from his known ability and honesty; frehis acknowledged perserverance and energy, re cannot I feel convinced that Mr. Anderson will de honor to the testion in which the people of this county have place his and we heartly endorse his election."

TheGeste feels very sore over the defeat of its man bearan for se Legislature, and in its rage dures the Democracy thring out a full ticket next fall, when it valurously paises to give the said ticket a good sound walloping. Iview of the fact that the Democratic party s notoriously minority party in this county, this coursgeout challen and threat of our cotemporaray sounds to as a good dealike that of the hopeful son, who having thrashed his didy of 75, and being represented for fighting so old a me, bristled up a very much like the Gasette, d swore he and have "licked the d-d old rascal if he'd been twices old."

BRIGITY RAILWOAD MESTING. A meeting chitisens favorable to this enterprise was held, in pursuage of previous notice, at the Council Rooms, on Friday eveng the 16th inst. Joseph M. Sterrett was sppointed Prefient, and Wm. A. Galbraith, Secretary. The presentionition, prospects and requirements of the used were vergully stated by Judge Galbraith and after tome further demassions, on motion the chair appointed Judge Galbrait, Wm. W. Dobbins, Wm. Kelley, Irvin Camp and C. & Kelso, a committee to report at a future nencement of he work. The meeting hen adjustmed to meet at Park Hall on needny evening, the 27th inst. at 7 o'clock.

ME. EVERETT'S ORATION. Mr. Eprros:-Having heard a number of times the ru mer, that the Trustees of the Church in which Mr. Everett's Oration was recently delivered, in this city, had charged twent five dollars for the use of their building on that occason, I made some inquiry in relation to the matter, and found that the remor was entirely unfounded Not one cent was asked, expected, or received for the use of the building or, for gas consumed. I believe that the sexton of the church either received, or expected to, one dollar for his abor, which is personal. It would be exceedingly applicant for any body of men, in this country at least, to restunder an imputation of financering from out of a fund raised for the purchase of the Grave of Wash-

While writing the above it occurred me as not altogethon surprise, that very many have expressed, that at andience of certainly not less than 350 should only afford result of $100. The tickets were sold at fifty cents apiece. The apparent expenses could not have been $10.

As the the steamer City of Cieveland was coming from Detroit to Cleveland, the other night, when near the city banks off Point au Pelee, she ran into a flock of ducks which were winging their way through the darkness. The glass of the large locomotive lamp was smashed to pieces, two of the ducks and a pretty small bird being caught in the lamp. Three other ducks were picked up dead on the dock.

Cutton is down with few buyer: nobody wants it in this country and the deragement of exchange prevents orders being filled for England. Breadstuffs are low enough, but the change perfected for bringing forward the crops. Houd State stocks are looking up, in fact have risen again above par value in a few instance.

Is'nt it a little singular that, although the newspapers are constantly warning strangers who visit this city of the many and divers "pit falls" which the sharpers set for their verdant victums, still there is bardly a week or even defect.

A REMARKABLE PACT .- We are told upon good anthorty that exactly one helf of the vote for John R Cochran, for the Legislature, in Conneast township, was cast by mistake. This is a singular fact, but is succeptible we believe, of the clearest proof. The other half, was "did a purpose;" or as the lawyers would say, "with

A new law of Mississippi against passing any that. bank bills of a less denomination than $5, will go into operation on the lat of November next. After that date it will be an indictable offence to pass smaller notes than $5 within the State of Mississippi.

The Conneant Reporter, after briefly announcing the entire defeat of Republicanism in this State, concludes by saying that "brevity, in this instance, is commondable." Whether the Reporter refers, in this, to the "brevity" of its announcement of the result, or the "brevity" of the Republican vote in the State, is not so clear; but if it means the latter, all we have to may is, that we entirely agree with its philosophy.

NEW YORK.

Here we are, at the bottom of the hill, looking up is gaping astonishment at the pinnacle of prosperity from which we have been tumbling down during the few weeks past which include the birth and history of the "panic."-The history of those weeks is told in a few words. Th Banks had been expanding to an enormous degree, liter. юя, Req. Benator from Placer County. Mr. A. is a ally begging notes to discount of all grades of paper; the native of flow, in this county, where his parents now | failure of the Ohio Life and Trust initiated a panic, which the Banks, those "conservative institutions," helped for ward instead of checking, by commencing a brisk contract tion. This contraction grew greater as the period of heavy payments approached; merchants were unable to realise on business paper, crash followed crash, and with each succeeding disaster the Banks clutched their treasures more tightly; at least this was the policy of two or three which the rest were necessitated to follow. The result was natural enough; the merchants found they could get marked bleger in "lang syne." We have no doubt no benefit out of their deposits, and after the last unfavorhe will be ally popular in the body to which he is able statement, on Monday of last week, commenced drawing their deposits in a cool and systematic mainner.-Of course this soon stirred up our army of note holders and Wall street was besieged with thousands of people who very rarely take occasion to visit that renowned thoroughfare of monetary men. "O then and there was hur rying to and fro," and the whole street was flooded from top to bottom with the curious and interested. Messengers ran from Bank to Bank, laden with weighty bags, the cable. shining coin was poured out by the bushel before the greedy eyes of the multitude; huge bellied Bank Directors and Presidents, the serene fatness of whose countenances, no woes of common mortals could disturb, even those Brahma-like money kings grew pale and their kness smot together as they beheld the ebbing of the gulden tide .-Next morning awoke, and Babylon the great was fallen her gold had departed, and in place thereof was nothing but "rags."

But everybody was jully! The longitudinal develop ment of face gave way to the horizontal; horse-laughs were heard again in our stroots, and there was a general indefiarte expectation of a good time coming. Everybody felt relieved of individual responsibility from the fact that no body could pay anybody at present as there was'nt anything to pay with. The ferry men gave change in ferry tickets, the dining saloons in soup tickets, and the "tick" system became alarmingly prevalent on the principle that you may as well trust one man'as another since nobody could be expected to pay. Now affairs look better. We shall at any rate have a circulation which will regulate domestic exchanges and enable manufacturers to give some employment to their han is: our foreign creditors for dry goods, railroads and similar luxuries, will be obliged to whistle for their pay for some time to come. And by the way Uncle Sam is likely to get short in the pocket before another six months comes around, for if importations come in as light only as during the last two weeks, the duties would not pay Government expenses. But they will fall off too: London, Manchester and Paris will not trust people who cannot pay them, and luxuries are at a discount just new. We predict a lighter season of importations than was ever known before.

The "bogus baby" was again the tapis on Saturday, in an argument before the Supreme Court to reverse the deession of Judge Peabody admitting Mrs. Cunningham to bail. The decision was reversed. The District Attorney then moved for a recommitment, but the Court allowed her to remain free, on her last recognizance, until the meeting some tefinite plans for securing the early comnext moeting of the Court, (on the 20th inst.,) when a motion to annul this recognizance will be made. The place of trial for producing "the baby" will be held at Newburg on the second Tuesday in November.

TO THE MILLION — Prof. Wood, of St. Louis, has, after years of deep study and untiring rescanch, succeeded.

At the last session of Congress, that body appropriated some twenty five thousand dollars for the purpose of making explorations and verifying surveys which have already been made, of a ship canal near the Isthmus of Darien, to connect the waters of the Pacific and Atlantic oceans by the Atrato and Turanda rivers The Secretaries of War and Navy were authorized by the same act to employ, under the direction of the President, such officers of the army and navy as might be necessary for the purpose. The New York Journal of Commerce is gratified to learn that this important work is about to be undertaken by a party in charge of Lieut. Craven of the navy, and Lieut. Bradford and Dr O' Hara and his assistants An officer of the army and five or six engineers are to be added, and the party is expected to sail in a few days from the Navy Yard, Brooklyn, in the coast survey schooner Virginia, which has been detailed for the duty in consequence of her liget draft of water. It is to be regretted that the rivers of the Isthmus are so shallow as to preclude the use of small steamers; for they would be far more serviceable in the prosecution of this work than the snug little fore-and-after that has been selected. From the intelligence received from the Isthmus, there is every reason to believe that the project of a ship canal between the two oceans is practi-
