He first strained every nerve to obtain the entree of some houses in the city, and his success in this respect has been most remarkable. Many roung ladies, while reading the history of Parm. e's crime, will remember but with what feelings we shall not resture to denict—that he en joyed their acquaintance, parhaps their friend ship, or, it may be that he pressed for a warmer d eleser relationship. Over these affairs of drusses we must draw the vell of secrecy. But t is notorious that it was the sim of Parmiee's life and eagar ambition to marry some fascinating young lady of courtly manners and aristo eratic protessicits. He was mad upon the mili-ject; he paid addresses right and left; he pro-possibility minutely to every fair idet who at all came up to his standard of perfection. In value he abandoned the seconded temple where Rev. Obedieb Smitheon held forth by the hour on Sabbath days, and frequented, in lieu thereof, Dr. Alexander's church; where the extra-fash-ionable of both series alone do congregate. In vain did he give up his scantily furnished room over the store, and live, now at the Brevoors, now at the Clarendon, the Everett, or the Gramercy. During last Winter he enjoyed, at dif. ferent times, but without any practical result, the comforts and the luxuries which all thege establishments offer as inducements to wealthy guesta. In rain did the persevering Parmilee Saratoga during four successive seasons and obtain an introduction with any one and every one whom it was possible for him to know. He had scarcely any friends, and the young mon of his acquain; tance only noticed him to quiz his infirmation. Parmice has confessed the robbery with which he stands charged. His desire to move in fish-iduable noticity, and appear wealthy, was luxury that he could not afford, and hence the commis-sion of a crime for which in all probability he will be sent to the State Prison. His unreer is a warning to those young men who imagine that a social position can be gained in this sometry by the pessession of wealth. There is no ber with us to honest ambition—there is no position to which any man may not aspire; but the aspirant for either social or political fame must rise by industry, by talent, and by virtue; without these even money will not avail.

PARIO STORY .- There is an old story in the East of a man journeying who met a dark and drend apparition. "Who are you?" said the traveler, according the spectre. "I am the Plague," it replied. "And where are you go, ing," rejoined the traveller. "I am going to Damasons to kill three thousand human beings." said the apostre. Two months afterwards, the man returning, met the same apparition at the same point. "False spirit," said he, "why dost deal with me in lice! Thou declaredet thou were going to slay three thousand at Demanus, and iol thou best slain thirty thousand," "Friend," replied the Plagen, "be not over hasty in thy judgments; I killed, indeed, but my three thousand—Fear killed the rest!"

A SURE REMEDY FOR A PERON.—It is said by somebody, who pretends to know all about it, that the following is a sure remedy for the felon: Take: a pint of common sett seep, and stir and looking up my descent, I found there was in it air-slacked lime till it is of the consistency of glasier's putty. Make a leather thimble, all it with this composition, and insert the flagger therein, and change the composition once in eventy minutes, and a cure is certain." > Queen Stony -- We take the following from the Wakulla (Fla.) Times, of the 14th of October, and give is for what it is worth:

A friend informs us of the following occurrence which is reported to have takes place recently at Attapulgus, Ga. A gentleman, who had received a considerable sum of money, was compelled to go from home, leaving his wife alone in the house situated print distance from any other dwelling Towards evening two negroes entered the house, and demanded of the lady the money or they would take her life. Being a woman of great coolness, she haw at once that it would be usclose for her to attempt to avade the demand; so she produced the money and gave it to them. The negroes then remarked, that as suppor we nearly ready, they would stay and sat with hely. Should them to be seated, until she got W ready. The woman had a vial of strychnine in her our board. The woman, in sweetening their coffee, managed to put a done of the poison in their organ. They dreak, and in a few moments were dead. Alio, an effectual cure for Scrafula, Dyspepsia, Obachish Outannine Eruptime, Chronic Rheumention, Ethione Disarders, General Dobliity, and all discapes depending upon an impure state of the blood.
This Wordensty, Ethione Disarders more to nileviste hi

sacy to change the signature on the Disnoptona, Larra, Wrap-ress, &c., to our own. We will here state, that this immense business from a few months after its dominancement has always been conducted by ourself alone; and we can assure the patient that the same deep interest, care, and expense we have ever manifested in manufacturing the medicine in a pure state, and dispatching the men, will hereafter be continued with no less seaf.

As the mic of our Magic Compound is now enormous, and about all respectable druggists and dealers in medicine on this continent are keeping it for sale, we have been to a great expense in having the boa-wrapper congraved with contons devices to prevent counterfeiting. Should you have the least suspicion of those from whom you may purchase the medicine, inclose the wrapper to us, and you will immediately be informed if it is genuine. Whoever will inform us of a counterfeiter, and will prove the same, shall upon their conviction, receive not less than Two TROURAND DOLLARS.

PRICES.—One box, $3.00; three boxes, ordered at one time $3.00; half degen, $16.00; one domen, or any number greater, at the rate $3.00 a box.

The postage in the United States, not over 3,000 miles, is fifteen contex a box; over 3,000 miles, fifty cents a box; in all cases the amount about its inclosed in women or a turner.
