The Kansas Question.

[SPECIAL DESPATCE FOR THE PRESS.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 30th, 1857 .- The Kansas question excites more attention now than any other The different positions assumed by the press and politicians are freely canvassed -When it is said that the President and his Cabi net favor the proceedings of the Lecompton Constitutional Convention in the adoption of the schedule, which creates the main point of controversy, the inquiry naturally arises, where or by whom have they published that to be their

Mr. Buchanan is noted as a man of cantion, and one who never takes ground, unless after an impartial and full consideration of all the facts involved; and this being granted, the ponclusion is inevitable against the truth of any report of that character, for the reason, thut, as the Constitution which was framed by that Convention is still a secret, nobody can assert with certainty that even-the slavery question is submitted to a negative vote of the people of Kansas. Such an sesertion cannot be made with truth until all of the provisions of the Constitution are spread before the public for their investigation.

I have every reason to believe that the President, in his message, will not support the convention to the extent it is rumored he will.
