THE FIRST SACK OF DELHI.

In a wretched little tent, which was pitched to Delhi commenced. near the fortress of Kelst, the Persian province of Khoraman, a poor woman gave birth to a son who was named Nadir Kooli, or the slave of the Almighty, in the year sixteen hundred and eighty eight. The child's father earned his livelihood by making sheep skin costs for the peasants, and Nadir was brought up as a shep-berd until the age of thirteen, when his father dial band of Toorkusas carried himself and, his mother away into slavery. The latter died; but young/Nadir escaped after four years of servitude and, maring stolen a flook of shoop, fled into the monthline of Khorassan, and adopted the life of, a robber. - His reputation for daring and bravery poon spread abread over the country. "In seventeen hundred and fourteen, he received the command of a large force from the governer of invasion of the Toorkmans.

At this time Persia was groaning under the yoke of the conquering Afghans, and the right-ful Shah was a fugitive in the mounthing which border on the southern coast of the Caspian

The intropid robber chief, therefore, offered his services to his unfortunate sovereign, and self at Nadir's feet and implored him to spare his ressived the command of his armies. He now years had conquered the Afighans in several hard word, and the massacre ceased. It had lasted fought battles, thus completely ridding Persia from foreign invasion. Shah Tahmasp was res- than one bundred and twenty thousand souls, or tered, to the throne, with the powerful Nadir as general of his armies. But the ambition of the robber could never rest estimated with the position of a subject. In seventeen hundred and thirty six he was proclaimed sovereign of Persia by a vast meenblage of chiefs on the plains of Mogan, near the shores of the Caspian. This extraordinary man was rade and illitorate, but possessed a magical influence over the soldiers, and an intuitive instinct which seemed to point out to him the exact moment for action. He was six foot high, with round shoulders, and large expressive eyes fixed under broad expanse of forehead. His voice was thundering, and a terrible battle aze was his favorite weapon.

It would have been well for the fame of the stead of lingering on a disgraced existence in his ruined capital. His pitable descendants sank magnificent, and the vaults were filled with lower and lower, first in the power of the Aff. counties treasure. The houses of the rich and ghans and Mahrattas, then as pensioners of the Insurious ourse beautified the two prissipal British government; and now the representative of the mighty Timour, the accomplished Shah Rokh, the brave and learned Baber and the magnificent Aurungzebe, has become the miserable puppet of the insurgents of India.

Nadir Shab returned to Persia with his vast treasure and deposited it in the eastle of Keint, close to the place of his birth, and Meshed, the capital of his native province of Khorassan, became his capital. But the robbery of the riches of Delbi proved a curse to him. From the time and eruel that his tyranny at length became into lerable.

In the year seventeen hundred and forty sev-Meshed; where he meditated, with the assistance of his Unbeg and Toorkman forees, the massacra of all Persians whose fidelity he suspected. But the plot was overheard, and recoiled anon bimself. At dead of night an officer named Saleh Beg piered the grand, and having discov-and Nadir i just, dat him with a sabre while

PROOF POSITIVE --- Old Zachariah Robbins lived in Wood county, Miss., and was called on to prove the insanity of a young man on trial for an assault with intent to kill. He swore that he had no doubt whatever that the prisoner was an iniang man. On his cross examination he was required to state the reasons for this opinion. "Why, bless your life," said he, "Ive known Jimmy allers, and be's allers ben a Dimicrat, and when the Dimieratic party put up their man last fall, Jimmy didn't vote for him; and I allers think that a Dimiorat that don't stick to his party ain't in his right mind!"

Jium; was acquitted, for old Zachariah's opinion provails very generally in that region.

ANOTHER BRIGHT EXAMPLE.-Hon. John H. Reagan, who was specially elected a Repres of his return be became avarianus, and so unjust sentative to Congress from Texas, went to that State eighteen years ago, a poor, friendless stranger, wearing buckskin breeches and a hick-ory shirt. He educated himself, laboring Saturen he encamped his army on the plains of Sultan Meydan, about a day's journey north west of the rest were spent in toil to pay for his schooling and the purchase for books. He split rails, drove oxen, toiled in farm fields, surveyed in a wild, unsettled countey, until he became inured to hardships. He gradually rose from one position to another; andinow he has been elected by the people of Eastern Texas, Representative to the Congress of the United States.

"THE FEARPUL JUDGMENT."-The Holidaysburg Standard has information on the subject of the mati sitting on a obsir for blasphemy, which throws some light upon the origin of the story. It is said that a man in Union county, and not at Mt. Union, while winnowing grain, became examperated on discovering that the weeran Klink and Nixim coll-Moolk (who hattid each other most cordially,) was collocted outside the male of the capital, and, having been joined by Mahammed Shak in parson, with a splendid other, they advanced to the plain of Kurmuit, about sixty miles much if Delay.
