THE TARANTULA AND ITS DEADLY PERSECU. TOR -Some of our readers may have heard of the tensoity with which the venomous tarantula HARDWARE and CROCKERY is pursued by an inveterate enemy, in the form of a huge warp-invariably resulting in the dee feat and death of the former We were an eyes If the best place in America to buy Bardware, Crockery, Glas witness to que of these conflicts last week, while on a ramble among the adjacent hills. This is the season when the poisonous tarantula leaves his well-fishioned abode to persmoulate the dusty roads and the smooth paths so often trod by the industrious miners, and about their hours a dost n or so may be seen any day of this bidscus enlargement of the spider.race, within a cirouit of a few yards, leisurely wonding their way along their way along the roads and bye-ways .--Often have we marked, with attentive curiosity, his awkward gait while lifting his long, anwield ly legs above the short blades of grass, and wondered for what uses and purposes this ugly little monster was placed upon this beautiful globe.

While attenticely watching the motions of one of these us ats during our walk, we were much surprised to me the of j of our attraction sud deuly stop short in his wanderings, and raise itself up to is full height as the ugh watching the coming of some unwelcome visitor. We at first supposed that it just espect us, and was expect ing danger frg my ur hands; but upon our setreat ing a few stype, he questy or uched behind a taft of dried grass, and remaining very quiet, seemed to make bimself as small as possible. A slight tuzz up was heard in the sir, and intamoment a strip passed quickly near, hovering on the wing over his trembling victim, the much-drended tarapituls. Like some bird of prey, the wasp remained thus poised a moment, and then, quick an thought, durted down unon bis enemy and stung him many times with great rapidity The tarautula, amarting under the pain, began a retreat with all the speed of which he was capable, but the wasp buog over him with revengeful tenacity, and again and again struck him with his venues sting. Gradually the fight of the tarabiula became slower and more irregular, and at length, under the repeated thrusts of his conaueror, he died, biting the grass with his terrible fangs. The wasp now seized his enemy, and commenced dragging him away; with what inteht we could not, as business called us thence, at that time discover.

The wasp whose attacks upon the tarantula are so fatal, has a long, slim, glossy, black body. yellow wings, and is armed with a very sharp, long, thorn like sting, which may be seen protrading as it flies. It fears not the presence of man or beast when in pursuit of his enemy.-Mariposa (Cal.) Democrat.

TAKEN AT HIS WORD .- A French savan, of excellent heart, but somewhat eccentric, lately discharged a servant. Another presented himself, and when matters were nearly settled, the gentleman mid:

"Listen, my good fellow; I am not unfair: but I hate to waste words. You must understand me at a bint. For example, when I my Give me my resors to shave me'-you must bring me at the same time warm water, soap, a napkin, in fact, all the accessories of the toilet. And so with everything."

For some time all went on to a margel, and our friend congratulated himself on having so excellent a servant. One day he felt indisposed, and told his man to go for the doctor, who lived a fow steps off. Oue hear, two hears passed away. No physician, no servant. Finally, at the end of three hours, back came the servant

"Well, sir! what made you so long a time going for the doctor, who lives close at hand?"

Ma fui, mon er remembers that when he gives us an order 1 must guess all that he will be likely to need. Thus I started for the doctor; then the surgeon, in once there should be any operation to perform; the watchers, in one
