

FOR SUPREME JUDGE, WILLIAM A. PORTER, OF PHILADELPHIA.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER, WESTLEY FROST, OF FAYETTE CO.

News of the Week.

It has been intimated by the Evening Post, that the anti-slavery people interested in laying the sub-marine telegraph are well aware of the fallacy of the project, and that it must end in failure.

The coroner's jury in the case of the Sauguet disaster, on the New York Central road, the particulars of which we gave last week, have agreed on their verdict.

Mr. Phoebe Westlake, a widow, residing in Orange county, N. Y., was arrested on Friday, on suspicion of poisoning several persons in the village, and on the following night destroyed herself by taking arsenic.

At Middletown, Yates county, on Wednesday afternoon, John Francisco, aged about 15 years, went into a shed attached to the stable, and suspended himself by the neck with a rope.

The St. Louis Democrat, one of the most prominent Black Republican papers in the Union, advises the people of Kansas to reject the Leocompton Ordinance, as amended by Congress.

The trial of Isaac L. Wood, for the murder of his wife, was concluded on Saturday, in the conviction of this plebeian, after being protracted for several days.

Now, assuming this groundless and illogical hypothesis to be correct, what should be the action of our Republican opponents? Douglas, Forsyth and the other members, insisted that the Leocompton Constitution was not in accordance with the spirit or letter of Popular Sovereignty.

There was no equivocation in the least in the position of this position of the Leocompton Constitution, which was the position of the Leocompton Constitution.

Now, if it was a conscientious regard for the will of the people that impelled them to this untoward course, we respect them for it, and hope they may hereafter be permitted to maintain that principle, which is the basis of Democracy.

A great excitement was created in the neighborhood of Sixth and Vine streets, Philadelphia, on Thursday, by a fatal tragedy, which took place in Franklin Square.

The verdict in the General Tullig Court martial is reported. The court find that officer guilty of "insubordination," but in view of his distinguished services and the unanimous recommendation of the court, the sentence "that he be reprimanded by the President," is remitted.

An inebriated woman, who was exhibited about the country, had been married at St. Louis to a man about as large as herself, named Rogers.

REPUBLICAN REPRISAL.

The indignation of the press and professions of Republican leaders has often been commented on in our columns, but never has it been so clearly and authoritatively proclaimed as by those leaders themselves in their own words.

We never heard the issue more clearly put than by Howell Cobb, in his able speech at this place, during the Presidential campaign, when, after stating his position on this particular question, he asked the Republicans present if, under conditions being the same, they would admit Kansas with a slavery constitution as readily as they would admit slavery one.

At the Leocompton Convention, Kansas came, for the first time, in an authorized and responsible manner before Congress—the first time when the Constitution adopted by a Legislature, and the one which was provided for by one of the first settlers, in length of residence in the territory, and it containing among its members citizens who, before their arrival in the territory as emigrants from the Northern and Southern States, represented almost every shade of political opinion.

To protect himself in such a contingency, and with the hope of carrying the party with him, Mr. Douglas for his own special advantage, assisted by Col. Forsyth, were failed to secure a place in Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet, and control his Administration, made his opposition still more manifest.

Now, assuming this groundless and illogical hypothesis to be correct, what should be the action of our Republican opponents? Douglas, Forsyth and the other members, insisted that the Leocompton Constitution was not in accordance with the spirit or letter of Popular Sovereignty.

Utah intelligence pro-true. The supply trains would be pushed on, and communication established and maintained between Salt Lake City and Salt Lake City.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, who have the matter under consideration, will further all measures necessary to prevent a repetition of such outrages.

The House Committee on Elections have decided, by one majority, in favor of the admission of the Minnesota members, and will report on Thursday.

The government has not yet received confirmation of the late Utah intelligence. There seems to be little, if any, doubt that Gov. Cumming and other officers, have gone to Salt Lake City, and, judging from the circumstances, that Col. Kane, a few days previous, had reached Port St. Charles, after having, probably, an interview with Young.

The report of the Post Sealing Investigation Committee is the special order to-morrow, in the House.

The following article, from the Harrisburg Herald, we copy and adopt as our own sentiments. The demands made upon Judge Porter to publicly define his position upon the Leocompton question, exhibit nothing but a factious spirit, and we cannot too highly commend him for taking no notice of the matter.

The opposition, as well as some unity spirits in our own party, insist on Judge Porter giving his views upon the Kansas issue. We will not stop to discuss the propriety of a candidate for judge giving his views upon political issues.

More Outrages on American Vessels. The British cruisers in the Gulf are still active in their demonstrations against our commerce.

Secretary Cass says he is not informed whether an injury was sustained in consequence of the proceedings against those vessels.

The President of the U. S. has formally asked Congress for authority to contract a loan of $15,000,000 for a term not exceeding 10 years.

The Senate committee on finance has the matter under consideration. Mr. Loring enters on his duties to-day as Chief Justice of the Court of Claims.
