

each county one representative then they recommend anarchy.

The language of the constitution relative to representation remains unaltered, and according to the provisions of that constitution must be construed as it was before the convention met. So said the convention and so said the people. Yet this gubernatorial mouth piece commands another construction, and if they cannot succeed in making the Senate join with them in their wicked deeds, and thus fail in consummating that violation, this same press recommends another violation and that is, not to pass any laws under the new constitution and leave 'things as they now stand.' Or, in other words, leave the power and patronage in the hands of the Governor—the very thing they desire; and we have not much doubt upon our minds that they intend to make some law the bone of strife between themselves and the Senate, pretending that they want the Senate to pass it when they know in their hearts they will not; and thus take advantage of it and say the Senate would not go with them. And then they leave the constitutional provision for the election of Prothonotaries &c. &c. untouched, and they and their partisans still hold the power, and in truth leave our state without any constitutional law. The constitution says that at this session certain laws shall be passed. If not passed the legislator who is guilty of hindering such passage violates his oath, and we cannot conceive how the laws can then be passed until there shall be some further constitutional provision.

We would ask our readers if such sentiments as are expressed by the Keystone in the extract do not go far to say that the present dog keeping government with its "Gamblers, drunkards, roudies, thieves and perjurers," care as little for the supreme law of the land as they care about some old nursery song. Such doctrines as are there expressed are revolutionary in character and calculated to destroy all the old republican landmarks of equality and right. We call on the people to watch with a careful eye, the operations of these desperadoes, and see if they do not discover in their movements a spirit of mobocracy which must eventually destroy our country unless checked.

The Fip-penny-bit Concern.

We have just returned from a trip upon the Summit, where we went to enjoy, for a short time, the good cheer of Mr Marlett (and which, by the bye, is good,) and we had an opportunity of seeing the operations of this "fip affair," the new collectors office. That important office which we some time since recorded as having collected one fip of our state revenue.— Since which time we believe they have collected another fip from some poor d—l who had mounted a bumping beam and ridden up the mountain. We suppose they will demand that they receive the honor of their title, and now be called the "levence-pence concern."

But seriously. There never was a grosser violation of right or a more wilful robbery of the peoples purse than the creation of a collectors office on the Summit of the Allegheny mountain. The whole amount of toll cannot pay the salary of the collector, unless he can persuade some of the companies to pay their toll to him in order to swell the amount. There is nothing that he has occasion to clear at that office, except coal, and not much of that. To clear which it is necessary to know the weight, which can only be learned by passing to the foot of the mountain on one side or the other, where the scales are, and when there we cannot see why the toll may not as well be paid there.— But in this case it was necessary that this faithful servant should have an office and they created this one for him, and allow him to keep a clerk beside. And all this is done under the administration which complained so loudly about increasing officers. Yet they created new collectors, State agents &c. in shoals, and some of the people are disposed to say it was right.

Liberality.

The present administration have evinced great liberality in appointing aliens to office. While the honest and sober citizen of this country is obliged to take a back seat, they pick up the pensioners of a foreign power and make them pensioners upon our State Treasury.

A Mr Levers, Weighmaster at Johnstown, it appears is at this day receiving pay for fighting against this country, he draws a pension from the BRITISH QUEEN. Yet he is the pampered tool of a party claiming to be Democratic. Heaven save the mark.

The Democratic Journal bestows the lash unsparingly upon such high handed measures, whereupon the Mountaineer tells his readers that the Journal is "nailed to the counter," by saying that Mr. Levers "never received a pension for fighting against the United States." But he says that "he was a Midshipman in the British Navy and for this he may receive or be entitled to a pension." So that with all his nailing he admits himself that the said Mr Levers is a pensioned subject of a BRITISH MONARCH. What do you think of it readers. Is not this liberality with a vengeance. When the pensioned followers of that tyrant who, in the days of our darkest trial, sought to enslave us on land and sea, are now the tools of a Democratic Administration.

The Pittsburg Gazette says of the Flour Inspector of that city, "We do not believe that he has ever been naturalized, we are assured that he has never voted in his own ward." Here is another case where a fellow has fled from the storms or the law of the old country and found a home here, yet not such a home as he is willing to swear fealty to, has been allowed to over-reach some of our native citizens. What liberality, and this too is the administration which commenced a crusade against the last, because some yankees were among its numbers. This new administration hates the yankees whose fathers fought, inch by inch, the ground of Lexington and Bunker Hill, against the pensioned slaves of a British King. But they will hug to their bosom the subjects of that monarch who, no doubt, rejoiced in the bloodiest defeats of the yankee rebels. If the people are satisfied with such things—be it so.

Oratory and Music.

Professor Bronson, a gentleman whose abilities to instruct upon the above subjects are unquestionable, delivered a lecture in our town on Saturday evening. Absence from home robbed us of the pleasure of attending the lecture. We have never heard him, but fame tells a flattering tale of his power to instruct and amuse. He has been lecturing for a few nights and with much success at Hollidaysburg, and we regret exceedingly that the inhabitants of our town did not give encouragement enough to induce him to stay longer. There is a woeful lack of that spirit which gives encouragement to Lecturers whose labors are calculated to improve the mind and advance his hearers in the scale of intellectual improvement. Nor need we stop here in our censure upon some of the easy besetting sins of our borough, some malicious and evil disposed boys indulged in the amusement of throwing stones through the windows of the Court House during the lecture.

We cannot let the opportunity pass of bestowing our well merited censure upon such conduct. Nor are the boys alone culpable. Their parents, guardians, or friends do not perform their duty to themselves, the children and the community, when they allow of such vile and blackguard conduct. It is a reproach to our town and the authorities of it, when those who are willing to enjoy every opportunity of acquiring information on any useful subject must be annoyed and endangered by the malicious mischief of others; and our citizens owe it to themselves and the welfare of the town, not only to frown upon but to use every means to punish the perpetrators—be they who they may.

Editorial Summary.

Yesterday was the day for the re-assembling of the Legislature. We shall keep a record of their doings.

The bank of the Metropolis has been robbed by one of its clerks, of $50,000. The money was all recovered but $200. It appears that the clerk was in the habit of getting most gloriously drunk, and hopes to screen himself from punishment, by proving that when drunk he is crazy.

The distress in Mississippi still continues, and seems to increase. It is said, that in one day there were 5000 notes offered at the Union Bank for discount, amounting to fifteen millions of dollars. Thousands who have rolled in luxury, are reduced to penury and want.

About a year ago, Boston was beset by a gang of London burglars, who committed almost nightly some depredation.— Pursuit finally became so hot upon them, they fled the country, and returned to London. By the last arrival of the Great Western, information was received that some of the gang were again on their return to this country, in the packet ship Gladiator. Old Hays immediately proceeded to the conductor of the Telegraph, and arranged with him to communicate the first knowledge of that ship's arrival On Wednesday afternoon last, she was telegraphed as below. The officers of the police waited quietly until she anchored in the stream, went on board, and attended them to a boarding house at the expense of the State, until called for by the Governor of Massachusetts.

Another gang were discovered in Water St. N. Y. and the pick-locks, false keys and other tools were found, and some stolen goods, the keeper of the house was arrested, but the gang got wind of the affair and escaped.

The Baltimore Butchers have agreed to charge no more than 12 1/2 per pound for the best pieces of beef, and if they cannot buy cattle of the farmers which allow of it, they are determined to vacuate their stalls.

JUDGE DARLINGTON, in whose case the writ of quo warranto was issued as president judge, in the district composed of Chester and Delaware, died while the court were arguing the cause. It was dismissed immediately, as there no longer existed a cause for decision.

The story of the awful plunge, of the five men who went over Niagara falls, seems to be all a hoax, no such thing having taken place. At least so say the papers of that country.

$10 For the season, 15 To insure with foal.

He is the right kind of a horse for this country. With the pure blood of the ace horse he combines the strength of the cart horse. He is 16 hands high, barefoot, and without a fault. I have his pedigree properly certified.

His sire has stood, in the care of Mr. John Watchell, Clearfield Co. Va., at 50 dollars a mare. It was my intention, when I got him, to run him at Pittsburg, but he got lame while training, and I was obliged to stop, though convinced of his speed and bottom.

PEDIGREE.

YOUNG GREY BEARD,

Young Grey Beard's dam was the imported mare Psyche, bred by Lord Derby, and got by his famous Sir Peter Teazle.

YOUNG GREY BEARD, is great grand son of Sir Archy, the best stallion of his time in America, and Sir Peter Teazle, the most popular stallion in Europe. Another such an instance is not to be found on record. For further particulars, see American Turf Register. S. P. WALLACE. May, 7th 1839.
