

Coughs Coughs.

DR. SWAYNE'S Compound Syrup of Prunes of Virginia or Wild Cherry. This syrup is highly beneficial in all pectoral affections; also, in diseases of the chest in which the lungs do not perform their proper office from want of due nervous energy: such as asthma, pulmonary consumption, recent or chronic coughs, hoarse-ness, whooping cough, wheezing and difficulty of breathing, croup and spitting of blood, &c. How many sufferers do we daily behold approaching to an untimely grave, wrested in the bloom of youth from their dear relatives and friends, afflicted with that common and destructive ravager, called consumption, which soon was the miserable sufferer until they become beyond the power of human skill; if such sufferers would only make a trial of Dr. Swayne's invaluable medicine, they would soon find themselves benefited; than by gulping the various ineffectual certain remedies of which our newspapers daily abound. This syrup immediately begins to heal the ulcerated lungs, stopping profuse night sweats, mitigating the distressing cough at the same time inducing a healthy and natural expectoration, also relieving the shortness of breath and pain in the chest, which harass the sufferer on the slightest exercise, and finally the hectic flash in the pallid and emaciated cheek will soon begin to vanish, and the sufferer will here receive himself snatched from a premature grave, into the enjoyment again of comfortable health.

NEW YORK SEMI-WEEKLY WHIG. The first number of the SEMI-WEEKLY WHIG of the NEW YORK WHIG is herewith submitted to the public. It is regularly published bi-weekly every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon, in a sheet of the size of the Daily Whig and half the size of the Weekly, and is read by the greatest number of its Patrons. It will contain all the matter of the Daily Whig except theAdvertisements and be furnished at the low price of THREE DOLLARS per annum in advance. It is believed that this is the cheapest Semi-Weekly paper in the country.

The character of THE NEW YORK WHIG—Daily and Weekly—is now widely known. It has been published about sixteen months and in that brief period has acquired a wide circulation, and, we trust, a fair standing among its contemporaries. It aims to present in a medium sheet an amount of reading matter fully equal to the average of the Great Dailies of New York and our other Commercial cities. Its contents will comprise Literature, Politics and General Intelligence, in about equal proportions. In the Literary Department, no great pretensions are made to originality, but the best repositories of Foreign and American Literature are open to its conductors; and they endeavor to select therefrom a varied and interesting banquet. In General Intelligence, we hope to be neither behind nor inferior to our immediate contemporaries. In Politics, our journal will be all that its name purports—fearlessly, zealously, and we trust efficiently, WHIG. Experienced pens are enlisted in its service, and we trust it will render good service to the Country in the advocacy of Sound Principles and Good Measures and the feeble exposure of the iniquities, corruptions and ruinous tendencies of Loco-Focoism.

To the Public.

THE public are hereby informed, that JACOB MILLER has been appointed agent for Huntingdon county, for the sale of Dr. Evans' Camomile and family aperient pills, where all those that need of medicine, can be supplied as he intends always to have a supply on hand.

LIFE AND HEALTH.—Persons whose nerves have been injured by Calomel, or excessive grief, great loss of blood, the suppression of accustomed discharges or cutaneous, immoderate habits, or other causes which tend to relax and enervate the nervous system, will find a friend to soothe and comfort them, in EVANS' CAMOMILE PILLS. Those afflicted with Epilepsy or Falling Sickness, Palsy, Serious Apoplexy, and organic affections of the heart, Nausea, Vomiting, pains in the side, breast, limbs, head, stomach or back, will find themselves immediately relieved, by using EVANS' CAMOMILE AND APERIENT PILLS.

Dr. EVANS does not pretend to say that his medicine will cure all diseases, but that it will cure all diseases of the blood, and all Debilitated and Impaired Constitutions—in Nervous diseases of all kinds, particularly in the DIGESTIVE ORGANS, and in Languid Consumption, whether of the lungs or liver, they will cure. That dreadful disease, CONSUMPTION, might have been checked in its commencement, and disappointed its prey all over the land, if the first symptoms of Nervous Debility had been counteracted by the CAMOMILE FLOWER chemically prepared together with many other diseases, where other remedies have proved fatal.

How many persons do we daily find tormented with that dreadful disease, SICK HEADACHE. If they would only make trial of this invaluable medicine, they would perceive that life is a pleasure and not a course of misery and abhorrence. In conclusion I would warn nervous persons against the abstraction of BLOOD, either by leeching, cupping, or the employment of the lancet. Dreads purgatives and delicate habits are also to be avoided in such cases, but a judicious use of the medicine will prove highly injurious. Certain it is, if it is used as directed, which will add sufficient testimony of the great efficacy of this invaluable medicine, in relieving all affected mankind. The above medicine is for sale at Jacob Miller's store, Huntingdon.

PROSPECTUS OF
The National Magazine,
AND REPUBLICAN REVIEW.
B. BRENT, ESQ. EDITOR.

The National Magazine and Republican Review, will be published in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, on the 1st day of January next, and delivered monthly in all parts of the United States; devoted exclusively to the advancement of the great principles of the Whig party, and the encouragement of literature and science. The experience of the past year has confirmed in the minds of the more reflecting and sagacious of the Whig party that a national organ, in which should be combined the productions of our great statesmen on literary and scientific subjects, and those of the eminent literary geniuses of which the United States can boast so ample a share, on the various subjects that present themselves to a sound and vigorous intellect.

It cannot be doubted that the present crisis demands the publication of a work calculated to infuse and circulate true and honest political information, and to counteract the direful influence exerted by a monthly periodical of a similar nature published in this city, under the assumed name of Democracy of the present day, and which, by its mischievous and successful art, is destined to mangle the fabric of our noble Constitution, by placing on its constructions to suit the caprice and advance the reachings of a corrupt ambition.

The union of such principles with general literature as have hitherto been the common sense of the country, by proclaiming the "Martyrdom of Calves," rendered in a manner more detestable from the insidious way in which they are combined, tends directly to the disorganization of all that Americans should be held most sacred. The combination is calculated to secure them a circulation in quarters to which they might not otherwise penetrate as well as from a deceptive air of high toned philanthropy and expensive liberality of views, with which they are artfully able to invest themselves, for the purpose of stealing their way into the heads through the unsuspecting hearts of that class on which depends the destiny and hope of the nation—its young men. Whilst the more experienced sagacity of older heads can never hesitate a moment in recognizing the real naked deformity of the fair seeming disguise they may assume, yet to the young they are replete with a subtle danger of the most pernicious character.

The National Magazine and Republican Review is designed and will be conducted with these and other important considerations in view, calculated to correct political principles on which are based the views and practice of the great Republican Whig party, as well as for the encouragement and maintenance of genuine polite literature. The publishers will neither spare expense in the mechanical department of the work, nor their utmost efforts to render the Review useful to the public in a literary point of view, and honorable to the country and the cause which it is destined to espouse as a National work.

The period is fast arriving when the country will emerge from the dominion of a party which has come into power under the corrupt influence of a misled popular prejudice, and which has advocated and sailed under the broad and corrupt motto of office-seekers, to the victors belong the spoils of the vanquished; being alike anti-republican, unconstitutional, and a foul stain upon the free institutions of the country, which can only be eradicated by the triumph of the principles which govern the Republican Whig party of the present day.

The advocates of the principles alluded to, who have stood forth in defence of the Constitution and laws which they were so dimly as a party could be, exerting the strength of a Leonidas battling with the host of Xerxes, and have nearly succeeded in securing the government from the grasp of corruption, will deem it their imperative duty to continue their efforts, and it can better be done than by supporting a periodical of high standing for sound political principle and literary worth; and such a one will be found in the National Magazine and Republican Review.

The success of the Magazine will therefore depend, in a measure, on the great body of the opponents of the present Administration, whose interests it will be equally bound to the talented and patriotic band of leading Whigs to spare neither time or labor to the explanation and advocacy of the true and only principles on which the government can prosper, and on the success of which depends the great experiment of Republican Government.

Having made these few remarks on the political cast of the publication, we feel confident that its utility will be readily perceived by the public, and fully appreciated. In addition to the political feature, the following will be the principal subjects on which the Review will treat, from the pens of the best and most celebrated writers of the day:—Reviews and Critical Notices will occupy a portion of its pages, thereby giving praise to genius and censure to such productions only as are richly deserving of it.

A Sketch of the proceedings of Congress will be given at the close of each session, in which will be explained the cause and effect of all prominent acts and measures, compiled by a gentleman of knowledge, ability and opportunity to arrange and collect such matters as will prove both interesting and instructive.

Election returns will be given in a tabular form, embracing all elections of importance in the various States, as early as practicable after the reception of official returns.
Essays and Tales will also form an important part of the work, and all original articles of this character will receive prompt attention. The object of the publishers, next to enhancing the good cause in which they have embarked, will be to furnish the reader with such matters as will both instruct and amuse; such as Sketches and Reminiscences of events too minute for history.
Biographical and Historical Sketches of distinguished persons, &c.
Original Poetry will be well sprinkled through its pages.
Engravings of distinguished Statesmen.
If the work should receive the same encouragement as is usually extended to periodicals of a literary and scientific character, the subscribers of the Review, will not only find their numbers enlarged, but also with these desirable plates, but also with many other valuable improvements.

TERMS.—The National Magazine and Review will be published in monthly numbers, of 80 octavo pages each, on fine paper with new and handsome type and in the most approved mechanical and typographical appearance, at the moderate price of $5 a year, payable in all cases in advance or on the delivery of the third number, without respect to persons.
Any person forwarding ten respectable subscribers, and becoming responsible for the amount of their subscription for the first year, shall receive a copy gratis, as long as they may continue subscribers.
The publishers will be responsible for all moneys forwarded by mail, in case of miscarriage, provided the certificate of the post-master shall be secured, and copies forwarded accordingly.
If a subscriber shall not order his subscription to be discontinued at the expiration of the year, he shall be considered as wishing the Review continued, which shall be forwarded, and the subscription money expected on the receipt of the third number, as in the first instance.
No subscription taken for a less term than one year.
All communications, post paid, addressed to the publishers at their residence, Georgetown, D. C. will receive prompt attention.
FULTON & SMITH,
Georgetown, D. C.

It is the earnest request of the publishers that correspondents will forward their contributions for the Review at the earliest possible moment.

Coughs and Colds.

How many sufferers do we daily behold afflicted with that common and distressing disease! Do we not find that almost every person or friend we meet with complaints of a bad COLD or a distressing COUGH? We also find in assemblies of all kinds that there is a continual coughing, by which we perceive that there is one half of the humankind afflicted with that troublesome disease. If those sufferers would only make a trial of Dr. Swayne's Syrup or wild cherry they would soon find themselves relieved, and by continuing the use of the same for a few days, it will effect a permanent cure. Hundreds can testify to this fact, as in the short space of two months, upwards of five hundred bottles have been sold.

15 To insure with foal.

He is the right kind of a horse for this country. With the pure blood of the race horse he combines the strength of the cart horse. He is 16 hands high, barefoot, and without a fault. I have his pedigree properly certified.
His sire has stood, in the care of Mr. John Watchell, Clearfield Co. Va., at 50 dollars a mare. It was my intention, when I got him, to run him at Pittsburgh, but he got lame while training, and I was obliged to stop, though convinced of his speed and bottom.

Pedigree.
YOUNG GREY BEARD,
was got by the famed Grey Beard of Richard Singleton, Esq., S. C., and he by K. Siskier the sire of Clara Fisher, Mulberry, Lady of the Lake, Sully Taylor, Betty Robinson, and other good ones. K. Siskier was by Sir Archy, his dam L. Terry, by the imported Bedford, out of the imported Arundel. Young Grey Beard's dam was by Constitution, one of the best bred horses of the South, and not only a racer, but got more runners and stallions than any other mare of the day, and breeders at the South are proud to be able to trace back to him. Her dam by Sir Hall, he by the imported Sir Harry. Old Grey Beard's dam was the imported mare Psyche, bred by Lord Derby, and got by his famous Sir Peter Teazle.

YOUNG GREY BEARD, is great grand son of Sir Archy, the best stallion of his time in America, and Sir Peter Teazle, the most popular stallion in Europe. Another such an instance is not to be found on record. For further particulars, see American Turf Register.
