

Silk.

There is no one thing now the talk of the day in which we take so much interest, as in the culture of the mulberry tree, and the making of silk. We are satisfied that they are calculated to take a prominent place among the affairs of the farmer. Now, there is perhaps more of the bubble about it than reality, arising from an inordinate desire for speculating upon the moment, rather than a wish to benefit the country; but it will settle down into a staple production of this country. We have in a country where the mulberry tree is a spontaneous growth, and we feel assured that where nature has provided the natural food, she has also furnished a climate calculated to the success or health of the worm. The leaf of the black or common mulberry, we believe is equally good with the multicaulis. Its great disadvantage consist in the smallness of the leaves, and of course the increased labor in gathering.

But to the silk. We feel confident that the day is not far distant—in fact we think it has already dawned, when most of our farmers will feed a greater or less number of the worms. They require but little attention, their whole life being only from 30 to 50 days, and during one half of that time, a boy of ten years old can feed and take care of fifty thousand worms and gather the leaves from the common mulberry, or a hundred thousand with the multicaulis. In fact we have been told by one acquainted with the matter, that silk can be grown at a cheaper rate than wool. This may be sneered at; but we well remember the day when the cotton factors were looked upon as fanatics, whose fancy had conjured up speculation and prosperity, where there was nothing but ruin and bankruptcy. How is it now? Our cotton merchants are able to compete with any in the world, and cotton goods can be got now for ten and twelve cents per yard, better than could be obtained years ago for twenty-five. So with the silk; its manufacture is still in embryo. But we feel assured that it will prosper. It does prosper in the old world and why not in the new? Have we less ingenuity, less capacity, less industry, less enterprise and less enduring perseverance? No! Our country's prosperity—her steam-boats, her canals, her rail roads, her cotton manufactories, her cities rising in the west, her thousands of labor doing machines, say that this child of the west is equal, if not superior to all. Cannot the industry and ingenuity of her people render the culture of silk as profitable as it is in France or Italy? Our citizens are as willing and capable as any in the world, and they will succeed; and we are satisfied that we have more cause to prophesy that "in seven months cotton rags will be abolished, and every honest farmer's wife and daughter will travel on silk"—and there is more likelihood of the prophecy's fulfillment, than when the redoubtable seer of the Globe said that "in seven months bank rags will be abolished, and every honest farmer's wife and daughter will travel on gold." Mark what we say. The time is fast approaching, when every farmer will have his stock of silk worms as much as he now has his stock of sheep.

Pennsylvania Legislature.

Has at length adjourned for the second and we hope the last time, for this year. After having spent all winter and part of the spring and summer, they have returned to their homes and constituents. Now let those constituents ask them, what have you done? What public good have you done? What reform effected? What government expense has been retrenched? Have you reduced the number of officers appointed by Joseph Ritner? Have you reduced the salaries of any of them? Have you reduced the state debt? Their answers must be None, none, No no!

Look at the conduct of the majority party in the House. Their whole conduct has been but a series of party movements, intended solely to strengthen their power. Increase their means of plunder—plunge the state deeper in debt—scatter her funds among the venal and corrupt—and mock with insult and contempt, the rights and petitions of the people. Do we misrepresent?—Look at the increase of officers, with an increase of daily pay—Look at the millions added to the state debt—Look at the creating of superintendents, and great amount of money he holds—Look at their disregard of the people's will in Mr. Stevens' case—their refusal to receive, or ever hear petitions—Look at all this, and you will say no.

Nor is this all! These Democrats as they would be called, voted against the right of the people to elect their canal commissioners, and the echo of the deed is a deceptive cry of Democracy! We ask you, reader, be you mason or anti-mason, Whig or Tory, Federalist or Democrat. Is this a respect for the people's rights? or is it a trampling upon their rights, to keep the power to oppress them. Are you not as capable of choosing canal commissioners, as you are of a Governor, and have you not an unalienable right to have your voice heard in the selections of your rulers. These Loco Focos (they are no democrats) say you are not fit. Can and will the free citizens of this state submit any longer to such insulting treatment at the hands of their servants. They have come home, and every man whose course has been marked by these iniquities, should be allowed to stay there, until they learn to respect the rights of the people.

Samuel Sturgeon.

Our readers will recollect that Mr. Sturgeon recovered damages last fall, from one Alexander A. Lowry, for slander, before the arbitrators; from which decision Mr. Lowry appealed. By a letter from Armstrong county we learn, that the cause has just been concluded before the court. No attempt at justification was attempted by Lowry or his counsel. A number of witnesses were brought to prove the defendant to be worse than nothing in a pecuniary sense; and an earnest appeal was made to the jury, to make the damages light. A verdict was returned by the jury of $150 and costs against Lowry, and in default of being able to fork up the cost, takes board at the county jail. Who are the slanderers now?

ANOTHER recent test of the unrivaled virtue of Dr. WM. EVAN'S CAMOMILE PILLS—Dyspepsia of ten years' standing cured.—I was afflicted with the above complaint for ten years, which incapacitated me at intervals for the period of six years, from attending to my business. I am now restored to perfect health by the frequent use of the above medicine. My symptoms were, a sense of oppression after eating, pain at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, giddiness, palpitation of the heart, and great debility. I am willing to give any information to the afflicted respecting the benefit I received from the use of Dr. Evan's Camomile and Aparient Pills.

GEORGE RATHFON.

The article published below, concerning the new and popular doctrine advanced by the illustrious Goelicke of Germany, cannot fail of exciting a deep and thrilling interest throughout our country.

LOUIS OFFON GOELICKE, OF GERMANY, THE GREATEST OF HUMAN BENEFACTORS.

Citizens of North and South America.

To LOUIS OFFON GOELICKE, M. D., of Germany, [Europe] belongs the imperishable honor of adding a new and precious doctrine to the Sciences of Medicine—a doctrine which, though vehemently opposed by many of the faculty, (of which he is a valuable member,) he proves to be as well founded in truth as any doctrine of Holy Writ—a doctrine upon the variety of which are suspended the lives of millions of our race, and which he boldly challenges his opposers to refute, viz: Consumption is a disease always occasioned by a disordered state of Vis Vitæ (or life principle) of the human body: often secretly lurking in the system for years before there is the least complaint of the Lungs—and which may be as certainly though not so quickly, cured as a common cold or a simple headache. An invaluable precious doctrine this, as it imparts an important lesson to the apparently health of both sexes, teaching them that this insidious foe may be an unobserved inmate of their "clayey houses" even while they imagine themselves secure from its attacks, teaching them that the great secret in the art of preserving health is to pluck out the disease while in the blade, and not wait till the full grown ear.

This illustrious benefactor of man is also entitled to your unfeigned gratitude, and the gratitude of a world, for the invention of his matchless sanative,—whose healing fiat may justly claim for it such a title, since it has so signally triumphed over our great common enemy consumption, both in the first and last stages,—a medicine which has thoroughly filled the vacuum in the Materia Medica, and thereby proved itself the Conqueror of Physicians—a medicine, for which all mankind will have abundant cause to bless the beneficent hand of a kind Providence,—a medicine, whose wondrous virtues have been so glowingly portrayed even by some of our clergy, in their pastoral visits to the sick chamber; by which means they often become the happy instruments of changing despondency into hope, sickness into health, and sadness of friends into joyfulness.

GOELICKE'S MATCHLESS SANATIVE, medicine of more value to man than the vast mines of Austria, or even the united treasures of our globe,—a medicine, which is obtained equally from the vegetable, animal and mineral kingdoms, and thus possesses a three fold power,—a medicine, which though designed as a remedy for consumption solely, is possessed of a mysterious influence over many diseases of the human system,—a medicine, which begins to be valued by Physicians, who are daily witnessing its astonishing cures of many whom they had resigned to the grasp of the Insatiable Grave.

Dose of the Sanative, for adults, one drop; for children a half drop; and for infants, a quarter drop; the directions explaining the manner of taking a half or a quarter drop.

Price—Three and one third six dollars ($2.50) per HALF OUNCE.

*A German coin, value 75 cents.

A certificate from three members of the MEDICAL PROFESSION in Germany, in Europe.

We the undersigned, practitioners of medicine in Germany, are well aware that, by our course, we may forfeit the friendship of some of the faculty, but not of its benevolent members, who are uninfluenced by selfish motives. Though we shall refrain from an expression of our opinion, either of the soundness or unsoundness of Dr. Goelicke's new doctrine, we are happy to say that we deem his Sanative too valuable not to be generally known—for what our eyes behold and our ears hear, we must believe.

We hereby state, that when Dr. Louis Offon Goelicke first came before the German public, as the pretended discoverer of a new doctrine and a new medicine, we held him in the highest contempt, believing and openly pronouncing him to be a base impostor and the prince of quacks. But, on hearing so much said about the Sanative, against it and for it, we were induced, from motives of curiosity merely, to make trial of its reputed virtues, upon a number of our most hopeless patients; and we now deem it our bounden duty (even at the expense of our self-interest) publicly to acknowledge its efficacy in curing not only consumption, but other fearful maladies, which we have heretofore believed to be incurable. Our contempt for the discoverer of this medicine was at once swallowed up in our utter astonishment at these unexpected results; and, as amends for our abuse of him, we do frankly confess to the world, that we believe him a philanthropist who does honor to the profession, and to our country, which gave him birth.

The recent adoption of this medicine into some of our European hospitals is a sufficient guaranty that it performs all its promises: It need not our testimony, for wherever it is used it is its own best witness.
