The character of The New York Whis—Daily and Weekly—is now widely known thas been published about sixteen months and in that brief period has acquired a wid, circulation, and, we trust, a fair standing and gits contemperaries. It aims to present the fully equal to the average of the Great Dailies of New York and our other Commercial cities. Its own its will comprise Literature, Politics and General Intelligence, in about equal proportions. In the Literary Department, no great pretensions are made to originality, but the best repositories of Foreign and American Literatura are mode to originality, but the best repositories of Foreign and American Literatura are open to its conductors; and they ended yor to select therefrom a varied and interesting banquet. In General Intelligence, we hope to be neither behind nor inferior to our immediate cotemporaries. In Politics, our journal will be all that its name purports—fearlessly, zealously, and we trust efficiently. White. Experienced pens are enlisted in its service, and we trust it will render good service to the Country in the advocacy of Sound Principles and Good Measures an the featlets exposure of the iniquities, corresponding and rendered to the Country in the advocacy of Sound Principles and Good Measures an the featlets exposure of the iniquities, corresponding and runnus tendencies of Loof-Focism.
