

from her high repute to the lowest place; no one will trust her, except the poor honest laborer, who earns the little morsel to-day, that his wife and children must eat to-morrow. He has trusted her, and now when he desires to get money enough to buy a grist of wheat or even a bushel of potatoes, he is told there is no money. There is a cause for all this—Party prejudice may, for a while, blind the eyes of some, and they may still think Porter will get the money by and by. Perhaps he may, but, he seems to get along very poorly at it now. The truth is, a man may belong to a party, and stick to it through thick and thin; yet, when that party wants to borrow his money, he at once calculates the chances of the hands it is to fall into; and, unless he thinks them good, they can get none of his money. Therefore no money can be had by this administration.—Even its own friends know its character, and they value it rightly when it wants any of their money. They will not lend the State. You may all rest assured that you will see it all clear enough after a while. Men who have money will not trust this administration, because they do not think it worthy of credit, even though they belong to that party, & when their money is at stake and they look not with the eyes of politicians, and they see the danger, although as politicians, they may pretend it is all right.

Bear In Mind,

Voters of Huntingdon County, when you go to the polls to deposit your votes, bear in mind, that if you vote the Loco Foco ticket, you vote for men who are opposed to electing Canal Commissioners. Bear in mind, That if that ticket is elected, you sanction the conduct of D. R. Porter, in pleading the Statute of Limitations on his poor creditor. Bear in mind that you encourage a party who violate any and all laws. Bear in mind, that you say you are willing to submit to the dictation of one man, for a part of the Loco Foco ticket, are his nominations, not the nominations of the people. Bear in mind, that his character has ruined the credit of the State; and if something is not done to raise her credit, the laborer on the canal must lose his toil. Bear all these things in mind; ask yourselves whether the one thing of his pleading the 'Statute of Repose,' and being defended by his 'guards' is not enough.

The "Advocate" still thinks it can judge of the justness of Crain's suit, although a year ago, he said there was no other way of judging except by a jury. Now is not the poor fellow in a forked stick.

The same paper is still determined to stick to the text that its own editor lies, when he the first week gave the verdict of the jury without mentioning the very important part "Not Guilty,"—well, well, do have your own way, you need not spend half so many words about it. It is universally believed.

About two columns of the same paper is devoted to the express purpose, of telling the people of this county what a terrible thing it is to let party politics into the jury box; and trying to convince them that it was so, and was the cause of the conviction of D. R. Porter. No one we presume would doubt that it would be manifestly wrong for any jury to let their judgment be swayed by any prejudice. But really, we cannot see what it is applicable too, until he proves, and by better testimony than some men's oaths that such things exist. Because the verdict of the jury did not come out just as Porter or his dupes desired, oh! the political and wicked jury. But we can explain more fully by a little anecdote on the subject. Immediately after the jury returned their verdict, (so the story goes.) One of our citizens was asked if the November jury was drawn, he said yes, but did not mind any one on it except Peter Hewit. This being heard by a Loco Foco, he straight way tells it "with the variations,"—and the pen of a ready writer, takes it down with more variations, and desires the relator to swear to it. He goes before a justice of the peace, and on reading it again, he finds that he is made to swear that he heard a certain anti mason say that the November jury was packed, and Peter Hewit, was on it. Being a little more conscientious about false swearing, than some greater men, he tells the squire to strike out the word packed, and put in the word drawn; and in that shape he swore to. When it came to be learned that he had not sworn strong enough, they called him a "d—d coward." Thus you see that the man who is afraid to purr himself is a "d—d coward"—and by the same rule a jury who don't do just as they desire, are perjured, political scoundrels. We suppose that they, judge as J. M. Porter did. He says that because there is more of one party on a jury than of the other, it is evidence that the jury is packed. The law requires that the Commissioners and Sheriff, shall select honest and sober men for jurors; and yet they think that in a county like this the jury is packed because they in selecting sober men, get a great majority of Antimasons. We can simply say that all their talk about packed or political juries, in this county is thrown away. Until they prove by good testimony, their tales will not be believed.

An argument is also made out of the fact of a part of the traverse jury of Allegheny county, requiring their prosecuting Attorney to resign, because they considered him incapable of conducting the Prosecutions. Their Attorney for the state there, is not a whit better than ours in this county, and yet they think it a deed of unparalleled atrocity, for a part of the jury to tell him.

"He is to young, he is not fit To go and leave his mamma yet." Now we do not see any evidence in all this about a corrupt jury, and if the grand jury of our county, had done what they meditated would it not have been exactly right.

They would try to make it appear that because, ten of the jury in the libel case were of one party, and only two of the other, the jury was packed. If our readers will recollect the fact in the libel suit in Lehigh county, there were ten Loco Focos, and two Anti-masons, yet then these same worthies said nothing of packed juries, although in that county parties are nearly equally divided, while in this we have always a large majority. Now if the difference in number on the jury is evidence of a packed jury, we certainly have as good evidence that the jury in Lehigh was packed, yet we never thought of such a thing. But it seems that all this is done because the conductor of that print,—wants to take care of "his property, his life, his reputation, and his liberty." Well! well! they need taking care off; for they are in a very dilapidated condition.

MURDER.—A most foul and brutal murder was perpetrated on Saturday night last, at Hastings, in the town of Greenburgh, (N. Y.) John Arie, an Irish laborer, on the 53rd section of the Croton aqueduct, was dragged from his bed between the hours of 12 and 2, by a gang of about twenty of his countrymen, carried out by his door, and there most cruelly murdered. The ruffians were armed with clubs, guns, and bayonets, with which they cut and mangled their victim literally to pieces. Preparations are on foot to arrest the murderers, and bring them to justice. The coroner, Capt. Peter B. Lynch, was called on Sunday to hold an inquest on the body, the result of which was a verdict of "wilful murder."

The same gang also entered several other shanties during the same night, dragged out the men, and bruised and beat them most cruelly, but it is believed that none of them are injured mortally.—Sing Sing Chronicle.

A STREAM STAG HUNT.—We have heard of boots being blacked, clothes washed, love-letters written, and butter churned, by the application of steam, but we never before heard of deer being caught by the same omniscient agent. The Naomii on her late passage down the Mississippi, encountered a fine lake buck swimming in the middle of the river, and immediately gave chase. Having soon come up with the enemy, she rounded to and threw out grappling irons; but the deer letting out a reef in his topknots, scudded away from their reach. Now commenced a regular and interesting trial of skill. The deer doubled and tacked with the skill of an old privateer, but the steamboat was "there," at every turn. At length, the deer, wearied with his exertions, and dismayed at his persevering adversary, surrendered himself an unconditional prisoner of war, and was treated with great honor and attention at a public dinner given on board the next day.—St. Louis Bulletin.

THE GERMAN APERIENT PILLS are to cleanse the stomach and purify the BLOOD. The Tonic or STRENGTHENING PILLS are to STRENGTHEN and invigorate the nerves and digestive organs and give tone to the Stomach, as all diseases originate from impurities of the BLOOD and disordered Stomach. This mode of treating diseases is pursued by the best MEDICAL PHYSICIANS, which experience has taught them to be the only remedy to effect a cure. They are not only recommended and prescribed by the most experienced Physicians in their daily practice, but also taken by those gentlemen themselves whenever they feel the symptoms of those diseases, in which they know them to be efficacious. This is the case in all large cities in which they have an extensive sale. It is not to be understood that these medicines will cure all diseases merely by purifying the blood—this they will not do; but they certainly will, and sufficient authority of daily proofs asserting that those medicines, taken as recommended by the directions which accompany them, will cure a great majority of diseases of the stomach, lungs and liver, by which impurities of the blood are occasioned.

CAUSE OF DYSPEPSIA.
This disease often originates from a habit of overloading or distending the stomach by excessive eating or drinking, or very protracted periods of fasting, an indolent or sedentary life, in which no exercise is afforded to the muscular fibres or mental faculties, fear, grief, and deep anxiety, taken too frequently strong purging medicines, dysentery, miscarriages, intermittent and spasmodic affections of the stomach and bowels; the most common of the latter causes are late hours and the too frequent use of spirituous liquors.

SYMPTOMS.
Dyspepsia may be described from a want of appetite or an unnatural and voracious one, nausea, sometimes bilious vomiting, sudden and transient distensions of the stomach after eating, acid and prurulent eructations, water brash, pains in the region of the stomach, costiveness palpitation of the heart, dizziness and dimness of sight, disturbed rest, tremors, mental despondency, flatulency, spasms, nervous irritability, chilliness, saltness of complexion, and other symptoms, such as indigestion, general languor and debility; this disease will also very often produce the sick headache, as proved by the experience of those who have suffered of it.

TREATMENT.
The principal objects to be kept in view are 1st, to free the stomach and intestines from offending materials. 2d, to improve the tone of the digestive organs and energy of the system in removing noxious matters from the stomach, and obviating costiveness. Violent drastic purgatives should be avoided and those aperients should be used which act gently, and rather by soliciting the peristaltic motions of the intestines to their regularity of health, than by irritating them to a laborious excitement. There is no medicine better adapted to the completion of this than Dr. O. P. HARLICH'S GERMAN APERIENT PILLS. To improve the functions of the debilitated organs and invigorate the system generally, no medicine has ever been so prominently efficacious as Dr. Harlick's Compound Tonic Strengthening Pills, whose salutary influence in restoring the digestive organs to a healthy action, and re-establishing health and vigor in enfeebled and dyspeptic constitutions; have gained the implicit confidence of the most eminent physicians, and unprecedented public testimony. Remember Dr. Harlick's Compound Tonic Strengthening Pills, they are put up in small packets with full directions.

Principal office for the United States, is No. 19 North Eighth Street Philadelphia, where all communications must be addressed.
Also for sale at the store of Jacob Miller, who is agent for Huntingdon County.

LIVER COMPLAINT.
This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain and weight in the right side under the short ribs; attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and trouble with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side—the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates in another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlick's compound tonic strengthening and German aperient pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the medicine a few weeks, a perfect cure will be performed. Thou sands can testify to this fact.
Certificates of many persons may daily be seen of the efficacy of this invaluable medicine, by applying at the Medical Office, No. 19 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia.

CITIZENS of Pennsylvania, you have now before you Dr. PETERS CELEBRATED VEGETABLE PILLS.
These Pills are no longer among those of doubtful utility. They have passed away from the hundreds that are daily launched upon the tide of experiment, and now stand before the public as high in reputation, and as extensively employed in all parts of the U. States, the Canadas, Texas, Mexico, and the West Indies, as any medicine that has ever been prepared for the relief of suffering man. They have been introduced wherever it has been found possible to carry them; and there are but few towns that do not contain some remarkable evidences of their good effects. The certificates that have been presented to the proprietor exceeds twenty thousand upwards of five hundred of which are from regular practising physicians, who are the most competent judges of their merits.
Often have the cures performed by this medicine been the subject of editorial comment, in various newspapers and journals; and it may with truth be asserted, that no medicine of the kind has ever received testimonials of greater value than are attached to this.
They are in general use as a family medicine and there are thousands of families who declare they are never satisfied unless they have a supply always on hand. They have no rival in curing and preventing Bilious Fevers, Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Sick Headache, Jaundice, Asthma, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Enlargement of the Spleen, Pleurisy, Cholera, Females Obstructions, Heartburn, Furred Tongue, Nausea, Distension of the Stomach and Bowels, Incipient Diarrhoea, Flatulency, Habitual Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Bloated or Sallow Complexion, and in cases of torpor of the bowels, where a cathartic or aperient is needed. They are exceedingly mild in their operation, producing neither nausea, griping nor debility.
Extract of a letter written by Dr. Francis Bogart, of Providence, R. I. Dec. 17, 1838.—Peters' pills are an excellent aperient and cathartic medicine, those effects being produced by the difference of the quantity taken, and are decidedly superior to Lee's, Brandreth's or Morrison's Pills.
Extract from a letter by Dr. Hopson of Bangor, Me. Jan. 9, 1839. They are a peculiarly mild, yet efficient purgative medicine, and produce little, of any griping or nausea. I have prescribed them with much success in sick headache and slight bilious fever.
Extract of a letter by Dr. Joseph Williams of Burlington, Vt. July 9, 1837.—I cordially recommend Peters' Pills as a mild effective, and in no case dangerous, family medicine. They are peculiarly in costiveness and all the usual diseases of the digestive organs.
Extract of a letter from Dr. Edw. Smith of Montreal, U. C. Sept 27, 1836—I never knew a single patient medicine that I could put the least confidence in but Dr Peters Vegetable Pills, which are really a valuable discovery. I have no hesitation in having it known that I use them extensively in my practice, for all complaints, (and they are not a few) which have their source in the impurity of the blood.
Extract of a letter from Dr. Dye of Quebec, L.C., March 6, 1837. For bilious fevers, sick head-ache, torpidity of the bowels, and enlargement of the spleen Dr. Peters' Pills are an excellent medicine.
Extract of a letter from Dr. Gurney N Orleans, La., Oct. 9, 1837; I have received much assistance in my practice; especially in jaundice and yellow fever, from the use of Peters' Pills. I presume that, on an average, I prescribe 100 boxes in a month.
Extract of a letter from Dr. Prichard of Hudson N. Y. June 3, 1836; I was aware that Dr. Peters' Pills was one of the best chemists in the U. States, and felt assured that he would some day (from his intimate knowledge of the properties of herbs and drugs) produce an efficient medicine, and I must acknowledge that his Vegetable
