LIVER COMPLAINT.

Cured by the use of Dr Harlich's Compound Strengthening and German Aperient Pills Mr. Wm. Richard, Pittsburg, Pa. entirely cured of the above distressing disease: His symptoms were, pain and weight in the left side, loss of appetite, vomiting, acrid eructations, a distention of the stomach, sick headache, furred tongue, countenance changed to a citron color, difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a cough, great debility, and other symptoms indicating great derangement of the functions of the liver. Mr. Richard had the advice of several physicians, but received no relief, until using Dr Harlich's medicine, which terminated in effecting a perfect cure.

DYSPEPSIA! DYSPEPSIA!

More proofs of the efficacy of Dr. Harlich's Medicines.
Mr Jonas Hartman, of Summeytown, Pa. entirely cured of the above disease, which he was afflicted with for six years. His symptoms were a sense of distension and oppression after eating, distressing pain in the pit of the stomach, nausea, loss of appetite, giddiness and dimness of sight, extreme debility, flatulency, acrid eructations, sometimes vomiting, and pain in the right side, depression of spirits, disturbed rest, faintness, and not able to pursue his business without causing immediate exhaustion and weariness.

Mr Hartman is happy to state to the public and is willing to give any information to the afflicted, respecting the wonderful benefit he received from the use of Dr. Harlich Compound Strengthening and German aperient pills. Principal office No. 19 North Eighth street Philadelphia. Also for sale at the store of Jacob Miller, Huntingdon.

SYMPTOMS.

Dyspepsia may be described from a want of appetite or an unnatural and voracious one, nausea, sometimes bilious vomiting, sudden and transient distensions of the stomach after eating, acid and prurulent eructations, water-brash, pains in the region of the stomach, costiveness palpitation of the heart, dizziness and dimness of sight, disturbed rest, tremors, mental despondency, flatulency, spasms, nervous irritability, chilliness, salowness of complexion, oppressing after eating, general languor and debility; this disease will also very often produce the sick headache, as proved by the experience of those who have suffered of it.

LIVER COMPLAINT.

This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain and weight in the right side under the short ribs; attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and trouble with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side—the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr Harlich's compound tonic strengthening and German aperient pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the medicine a few weeks, a perfect cure cure will be performed. Those who can testify to this fact.

Certificates of many persons may daily be seen of the efficacy of this invaluable medicine, by applying at the Medical Office, No. 19 North Eighth street, Philadelphia.
Also, at the Store of Jacob Miller, who agent for Huntingdon county.

TREATMENT.

The principal objects to be kept in view are 1st, to free the stomach and intestines from offending materials. 2d, to improve the tone of the digestive organs and energy of the system in removing noxious matters from the stomach, and obviating costiveness. Violent drastic purgatives should be avoided and those aperients should be used which act gently, and rather by soliciting the peristaltic motions of the intestines to their regularity of health, than by irritating them to a laborious excitement. There is no medicine better adapted to the completion of this than Dr. O. P. HARLICH'S GERMAN APERIENT PILLS. To improve the functions of the debilitated organs and invigorate the system generally, no medicine has ever been so prominently efficacious as Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening Pills, whose salutary influence in restoring the digestive organs to a healthy action, and re-establishing health and vigor in enfeebled and dyspeptic constitutions, have gained the implicit confidence of the most eminent physicians, and unprecedented public testimony. Remember Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening Pills, they are put up in small packets with full directions.

Principal office for the United States, is No. 19 North Eighth street Philadelphia, where all communications must be addressed, sed.
Also for sale at the store of Jacob Miller who is agent for Huntingdon County.

RHEUMATISM.

Entirely cured by the use of Dr. O. P. Harlich's Compound Strengthening and German Aperient Pills.
Mr. Solomon Wilson, of Chester Co. Pa., afflicted for two years with the above distressing disease, of which he had to use his crutches for 18 months, his symptoms were excruciating pain in all his joints, especially a his hip, shoulders and ankles, pain increasing all ways towards evening attended with heat. Mr. Wilson, was at one time not able to move his limbs on account of the pain being so great; he being advised by a friend of his to procure Dr. Harlich's pill of which he sent to the agent in West Chester and procured some; on using the medicine the third day the pain disappeared and his strength increasing fast, and in three weeks was able to attend to his business, which he had not done for 18 months; for the benefit of others afflicted, he wishes those lines published that they may be relieved, and again enjoy the pleasures of a healthy life.

ALSO—For sale at the Store of Jacob Miller, Huntingdon, Pa.

CAUSE OF DYSPEPSIA.

This disease often originates from a habit of overloading or distending the stomach by excessive eating or drinking, or very protracted periods of fasting, an indolent or sedentary life, in which no exercise is afforded to the muscular fibres or mental faculties, fear, grief, and deep anxiety, taken too frequently strong purgative medicines, dysentery, miscarriages, intermittent and sysematic affections of the stomach and bowels; the common of the latter causes are late hour, and the too frequent use of spirituous liquor.

From the Boston Chronicle, Jan. 10

We see by an advertisement in another column that Messrs. Comstock & Co., the American Agents for Oldridge's Balm of Columbia, have deputies to sell that article in Boston and elsewhere. We know a lady of this city whose hair was so nearly gone as to expose entirely her phenological developments, which, considering that they betokened a most amiable disposition, was not in reality very unfortunate. Nevertheless she mourned the loss of locks that she had worn, and after a year's fruitless resort to miscalled restoratives, purchased; some months ago, a bottle or two of Oldridge's Balm, and she has now ringlets in rich profusion, glossy, and of raven blackness. We are not puffing, none of the commodity has been sent to us, and indeed, we do not want any, for though we were obliged to wear a wig a year ago, we have now, though its virtue, hair enough, and of a passable quality, of our own.

To the Bald Headed.—This is to certify, that I have been bald about twenty years, and by the use of the genuine Balm of Columbia, my head is now covered with hair. I shall be happy to convince any one of the fact that will call and see me Delhi village. The above article I bought at Griswold, Case & Co's store, who had it from Comstock & Co.

DARING FRAUD

The Balm of Columbia has been imitated by a notorious counterfeiter. Let it never be purchased or used unless it has the name of L. M. Comstock, or the signature of Comstock & Co, on a splendid wrapper. This is the only external test that will secure the public from deception.

To represent the 14th Congressional district in the 27th Congress.

ONE PERSON

To represent the district composed of Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata, Union and Perry, in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

And the Sheriff of every county in the Commonwealth, is directed by the said act of Assembly to give notice,

"That every person, excepting justices of the peace, who shall hold any office or appointment of profit, or trust under the government of the United States, or of this State, or of any city or incorporated district, whether a commissioned officer or agent, who is, or shall be, employed under the legislative, executive or judicial department of this State, or of the United States, or of any incorporated district, and also that every member of Congress, and of the State Legislature, and of the select or common council of any city, or commissioners of any incorporated District, is by law, incapable of holding or exercising, at the same time the office or appointment of Judge, Inspector or Clerk of any election of this commonwealth, and that no Inspector, Judge, or other officer of any such election, shall be eligible to any office to be then voted for."

"In case any clerk, appointed under the provisions of this act, shall neglect to attend at any election during said year, it shall be the duty of the inspector who appointed said clerk, qualified as aforesaid, who shall perform the duties for the year.

And the return judges of the respective districts are required to meet at the Court house in Huntingdon, on the Friday succeeding the second Tuesday in October, then and there to perform the duties enjoined upon them by law.

Given under my hand at Huntingdon, the 23d day of September 1840, and of the independence of the United States the sixty-fourth.

JOSEPH SHANNON, Sheriff.

[God save the Commonwealth.]

POETRY.

TURN OUT TO THE RESCUE.

TUNE—"Old Werginny never tire."

In "old Kentuck" the people say,
That Matty Van has had his day:
And that "OLD TIP," he is the man,
Must rout him out with all his clan.

So turn out old men, young men
Turn out old men, young men,
Vote for Harrison.

With pride Virginia has withstood,
The pensioned crew, the hireling brood
And prouder yet her sons will stand,
True to their own, their native land.
So turn out old men, young men,
Turn out, &c.

The Buckeye men in proud array,
Who fought in many a bloody fray,
Are shouting for the man that's true,
The gallant soldier of Tippecanoe.
So turn out old men, young men,
Turn out &c.

The Hoosiers will not idle be,
When men invade their liberty;
Nor Suckers cease with zeal to oppose
The worst of all their country's foes.
So turn out old men, young men,
Turn out, &c.

The Empire State, with giant's might,
Has hurled sly Matty out of sight;
'Tis she will make him yield the reins,
To him who conquered at the Thames
So turn out old men, young men,
Turn out, &c.

New England, as in days of old,
Will charge her foes with a spirit bold;
And make e'en "Buck" to quake with fear,
When he, her deep-toned voice shall hear.
So turn out old men, young men,
Turn out, &c.

In the East the West, the North & South
The word is in each freeman's mouth,
"Once more the struggle we'll renew,
And conquer with Old Tippecanoe."
So turn out old men, young men,
Turn out, &c.

Not far behind ye sons of Penn,
Should you be found as honest men;
But in a phalanx firm arrayed,
Should onward press and lend your aid.
So turn out old men, young men,
Turn out, &c.

Your country calls, the call obey,
And tarry not another day;
But press, like men, with vigour on,
In the gallant strife for Harrison.
So turn out old men, young men,
Turn out &c.

AN OLD GRANNY WANTED.

An Old Granny is wanted to still the loud grief,
Of our own Mother Country—now seeking relief,
On the Fourth of next March, we expect to end her woes,
By delivering her safely of a pack of Loco Focos.

We would prefer the Granny of N. H. Bend,
For in times of trouble, she always was a friend.

What is the reason that none of the loco foco federal papers have published the letter of Col Johnson to Maj. Canby? We can answer. They dare not, and have the honesty if they had the courage. The same with the standing army scheme.—Rife.

Awkwardness.—The Picayune says, there are four things that look very awkward in a woman, viz: to see her undertake to whistle, to throw a stone at a hog, to smoke a cigar, and to climb over a garden fence.

Solitude Sweetened.—To shut a child up in the cellar, and let him have free access to the molasses cask.

WET SEASON.

This is the wet season in which there is no degree of comparison, being by far the wettest experienced for some years. The thirsty old growers who ere while spoke in rebellious tones against the course of events, and watered their crisp-ed up cabbage plants with desponding tears, are now in ecstasies. The fountains of their griefs are closed, and the pearly liquid is reserved to moisten their cheeks at the tale of human wo.

Vegetation is springing forward with a growth only excelled by Jonah's gourd, or the manufacture of great men of pigmies; and pens and pumpkins are already rejoicing in their destined fates of hop-i-john, and unthanksgiving pies. The orange has assumed a darker hue, a fuller roundness, betokening the gorgeous look of gold which will soon invest it. The multicaulis spreads its ample leaf—alas! for human foresight, no longer the regenerator of an empty pocket and broken hopes—but waves its brilliant foliage unheeded by the passing eye; or if it is, to be looked upon as a "cumber of the ground." Political aspirants might learn a salutary lesson from this tree; and the clergy might write a homily upon the uncertainty of subinary events, in the fate which morus sustained in the market, with equal benefit.

Wet, wet, wet! Every thing is wet.—The powder horn is choked by the adhesion of its contents; the sand in the hour glass is still, and Loco Focos are damp and moist, and refuse to give light under any friction. The beautiful ringlets of the little girls are all wet, and hang as straight as though life had to them no twist—whilst our riper beauties pout and waste their sweetness in a vain effort to produce a curl with heated tongs and gum water. Even the "little pigs" who erst,

"Slept with their tails curled up," now enjoy the delights of repose, with that graceful ornament

"Stuck out a feet."

Crash! there goes a pane of glass, broke by a young urchin pressing his nose against it, in his ambitious wish of seeing a dog fight. Screams and squall, the little adventurer in petticoats has gotten its "frock bedrizzled and daubed with mud," and wanting ballast, broke his nose. Then comes the sweet condolence of a mother's love—a slice of bread—and the little hero is well again.

Damp! every thing is damp—the walls, boots, and books; and as we nightly turn over our bible, the leaves are sure to stick, and our Christian forbearance is doubly taxed by the weather.—Tattler.

STAGE MANIACS.

There are various kinds of lunacy, but none perhaps more pitiable than stage lunacy. Young gentlemen who get at nought the advice of papas and mammas, to strut and fret upon the stage of some private theatre, in all the glory of rouge and tinsel, are fitter subjects for a lunatic asylum than many a poor devil who finds his way there through the kind attention of interested relatives. How many of these theatrical aspirants are as illiterate as they are presumptuous? We can't tell the exact number, but our experience convinces us that at least five out of every ten know not the difference between a B and a bull's foot.

A new candidate for histrionic fame has very recently been annoying the manager of the Chatham theatre by addressing him notes, of one of which the following is a copy verbatim et literatim.—N. Y. Mercury.

New York aug, the 27, 1840.

Mr. Thorn I should like to know if you would take my son and learn him to be a theatre actor he is 17 years of age and he has an elegant talent for speaking on the stage and he sees that he should like to become an actor and if you would take him I wish that you would be so kind as to let me know I will send him down thair to knight and if you haunt wery buisy you can state to him the Conditions that you would take him on his name is Lycurgus Staples
