

inevitably be—if gentlemen will consider it all its bearings—that our credit will sink here and in Europe, and go down to where we know not, and where it will stop no one can tell. The Banks then having State Bonds as one of the means of redeeming their notes in specie must fail—it cannot be disputed, and another suspension with its ruinous consequences must be the result. If a small amount of bank stock cannot now be sold at par, can any conclude that a large amount thrust into market will tend to any thing but a still further depression of that stock? One of the common laws of trade is, the more of an article there is for sale, the less is the price; and so stocks rise and fall in proportion to the amount in market and the amount of money seeking investment. These two things then regulate the price of stock in the stock market. Let me ask then, is there at this time a great amount of capital seeking investment? If not, the sale of the bank stocks owned by the State will be influenced by the fact, and according to the quantity in market it will rise and fall. We cannot expect to sell at par before the first of February. The question occurs how is the present difficulty to be met, and how are we to provide means to meet our responsibilities. The amendment proposed will do it—the commonwealth can offer 6 per cent. the same price individuals pay, and we may certainly conclude if there is uninvested capital ready to be used for the purchase of bank stock yielding 6 per cent, our state bonds yielding the same interest will yield as safe an investment. No capitalist can doubt the ultimate ability of Pennsylvania to defray her debts, and when she offers 6 per cent. for money, she can get it as well as individuals.

It has been argued that these stocks should be sold at all events—that the "intimate connections" should be severed between bank and state—that a divorce should be demanded. This sort of doctrine has been spread before the country—it has sounded in our ears for years, and with what result? The seal of condemnation has been stamped by the people on them—they are tired of this cry against banking institutions—this dangerous experimenting, this hue and cry against corporations. These measures of the party in power have produced the present embarrassment—this crisis has been brought, not by the people but by their rulers; let us not then act contrary to the judgment of the people, nor their views.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I can show that there are reasons why the State Stock in the Bank of Pennsylvania should not be disposed of until the stock in the other two are sold—there are reasons for the discrimination. By the law incorporating the Bank of Pennsylvania in 1793, it was made the fiscal agent of the Commonwealth, and the 10th Section ordered that all money laying inactive should be deposited in their vaults. [Mr. M. here read copious extracts from a report of a committee in 1834 in the House, on the subject of the Banks of this Commonwealth.]

Thus situated, continued Mr. M. it would be madness and folly to sell these stocks—it would have a fatal tendency on the credit of the state—the impression would go abroad, if the state authorized the sale, that it was itself in a bad position—if it gave up its interest in the surplus fund of the Pennsylvania Bank, the unavoidable deduction would be, that its credit was in a ruinous condition. Before this House acts then, he begged them to pause; to reflect before they adopted such ruinous policy.

As to the limitation of the authority of the Governor, not to sell the stock below par, Mr. M. said his first idea had been, in the event of failing to obtain a 6 per cent. loan, to leave the Governor unrestricted, but let him sell the stock for what it would bring. He however had been informed by those more conversant with such things, that if the stock jobbers knew it was necessary to raise money at all hazards, they would refuse to take the state bonds at 6 per cent., in order to procure the good bank stocks at below par, and therefore he used the guarded proviso.

The resolution was finally adopted to sell $800,000 at par if they could, if not, to borrow the money if they could.

On Saturday, the Senate passed the resolutions on the subject of Public Lands, and the House concurred in the Senate's Loan Bill.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

Bursuant to public notice the Delegates met in the Court House at Huntingdon, on Wednesday evening, January 13, 1841 and organized by electing JOHN MORRISON, of Shirley township, President, JAMES CALDWELL, of Henderson tp. and DAVID CALDWELL, of Frankstown, Vice Presidents, and Joseph Laws, of Morris tp. and David Blair, of Huntingdon, Secretaries.

On motion, the names of the townships and Boroughs were called over when the following named delegates appeared and took their seats,

Allegheny. Jacob Stiffler, Adam M'Kee. Antez. Graham M'Almot, John Lyon, Burre. John Crum, John G. Watson. Cromwell. Hugh L. Cook, T. T. Cromwell. Dublin. John Rouse, John Blair. Franklin. Jonathan M'Williams, J. H. Stonebraker. Frankstown tp. John B. Riddle, Jos. Robinson. Frankstown B. Stephen Hammond, David Caldwell. Huntingdon. John Whittaker, J. David Blair. Henderson. James Caldwell, J. H. Brown. Hollidaysburg. John Brotherline, Samuel Calvia. Morris. Isreal Grafius, John Bisben. Petersburg. Thomas Johnston.

On motion, Resolved, That a majority of the whole number of the votes cast for delegates shall be requisite to elect.

On motion, The convention proceeded to ballot for two persons to represent Huntingdon county in a State convention which will meet in Harrisburg on the 10th of March, to nominate a candidate for Governor, and on counting the votes it appeared that John Morrison, of Shirley township, and Joseph Smith, of Frankstown township, had a majority, who were declared to be duly elected delegates.

On motion of Samuel Calvia, the nomination, by William county, of Isaac Fisher Esq., of Lewistown, for one of the Senatorial delegate of the 5th Senatorial district, was concurred in by this convention.

On motion, resolved, that the delegates have power to fill any vacancy that may occur in their number.

On motion, resolved, that in case neither of the delegates elected should attend, the members of the House of Representatives from this county shall take their places in the convention.

On motion of Jonathan M'Williams, resolved, that in order to ascertain the opinion of this convention for the information of our delegates, we will proceed to ballot on nominations for Governor, when on casting up the votes it appeared, in first ballot, that James Ted had 1 vote, Geo. Chambers 3, John Banks 11, John Blanchard 12, John Strohm 6, Walter Forward 1, Ner Middleswarth 3, Charles Naylor 5, and Charles Ogle 1, and on second ballot for the five highest in votes, John Blanchard had 18, votes, John Blanchard 12, Charles Naylor 5, John Strohm 4, and George Chambers 2.

On motion, resolved, that the proceedings of this convention be signed by the officers and published in the democratic papers of the county.

On motion the convention adjourned.

PRESERVATION OF HEALTH.—It has been remarked, and most truly, that the three ordinary secrets of health are early rising, exercise, and personal cleanliness. Personal cleanliness all have in their power to observe, but to many early rising is inconvenient, and exercise impossible, in consequence of the nature of their worldly avocations. To those the use of Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills would prove of great value in the preservation of that invaluable blessing—health.

The peculiar action of these pills is most surprising; their operation being more or less powerful, according to the purity of the circulating fluid. On a person in a fair state of health, who is only costive or slightly bilious, they will be scarcely felt; on the contrary, if the complaint be chronic, and the constitution be much deranged, the effect generally at first is most powerful, until the system be freed from some of its most vitiated and turbid humors. This accomplished, doses sufficient to cause two or three copious evacuations, daily, will soon remove the disease, and the constitution will be restored to a state of health and renewed vigor.

Purchase them in HUNTINGDON of WM. STEWART, and only in the county, of agents published in another part of this paper. Remember every agent has a certificate of agency, dated within the last twelve months. If of an earlier date do not purchase.

Democratic Convention.

The friends of General Harrison in Pennsylvania are respectfully requested to elect Delegates to a State Convention to be held in the Court House of Harrisburg, at 10 o'clock A. M., on Wednesday, the 10th day of March, 1841, for the purpose of selecting a candidate for Governor, to be supported by the democratic party of the State, at the approaching general election.

Each county and the city of Philadelphia will send delegates to the convention equal in number to their members in the State Legislature.

T. H. Burrows, Jos. Wallace,
J. P. Herrell, Jam'l. Alexander,
J. C. Montgomery, Bela Bager,
Francis Park, Jas. Gregory,
W. B. Clare, John H. Walker,
T. Elder, J. D. Culbertson,
James Steel.

The old Democratic day for nominating the candidate for Governor (4th of March) is departed from in the present instance, in order to afford all who desire it an opportunity to attend both the State Convention and the inauguration of President Harrison.

DR. SPOHN'S Sick Head Ache Remedy.

THE permanent cure of this distressing complaint, never fails. When persevered in, it effectually renovates the system, and does away the causes of the sick and nervous headache. Thousands have tried it, and found precisely the relief which the article promises to bestow. Certificates of the strongest kind, and from the most respectable persons, are in the possession of the proprietor, some of which have been published, testifying to the permanent cure, and others to the immediate relief given by this remedy. It affords relief to the afflicted in 15 or 20 minutes from the first dose. If taken when the symptoms of an attack are first felt, it prevents the further progress of the complaint, and can produce no danger at any time by an excessive dose; as in such a case it would only throw off the contents of the stomach, leaving it sweet and healthy with an excellent appetite. All afflicted with headache should not fail to procure the article, and relieve themselves from so distressing a complaint.

Physicians have in many instances given it to their patients, and in every instance, to our knowledge, with great satisfaction have found it a certain cure. Sick and Nervous Headaches is a complaint with which physicians do not wish to have any thing to do, and generally prescribe only for temporary relief; consequently, Dr. Spohn's Sick Head Ache Remedy escapes the opposition which some other proprietary articles meet from that source.

Try it once and you never will regret it. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and contains no mineral, or poisonous drug of any kind, and does not require any change of diet or exercise.

Sold wholesale and retail by Comstock & Co. Wholesale Druggist, 2 Fletcher-street N. Y., and by the principle Druggists in the Union.

DYSPEPSIA! DYSPEPSIA!!

More proofs of the efficacy of Dr. Harlich's Medicines.

Mr Jonas Hartman, of Sumneytown, Pa. entirely cured of the above disease, which he was afflicted with for six years. His symptoms were a sense of distension and oppression after eating, distressing pain in the pit of the stomach, nausea, loss of appetite, sickness and dimness of sight, extreme debility, flatulency, acrid eructations, sometimes vomiting, and pain in the right side, depression of spirits, disturbed rest, faintness, and not able to pursue his business without causing immediate exhaustion and weariness.

Mr. Hartman is happy to state to the public and is willing to give any information to the afflicted, respecting the wonderful benefit he received from the use of Dr. Harlich Compound Strengthening and German aperient pills. Principal office No. 19 North Eighth street Philadelphia. Also for sale at the store of Jacob Miller Huntingdon.

DR. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Prunus of Virginia or wild Cherry

This syrup is highly beneficial in all pectoral affections; also, in diseases of the chest in which the lungs do not perform their proper office from want of due nervous energy: such as asthmas, pulmonary consumption, recent or chronic coughs, hoarseness, whooping cough, wheezing and difficulty of breathing, croup and spitting of blood, &c. How many sufferers do we daily behold approaching to an untimely grave, wrested in the bloom of youth from their dear relatives and friends, afflicted with that common and destructive ravager, called consumption, which soon wastes the miserable sufferer until they become beyond the power of human skill; if such sufferers would only make a trial of Dr. Swayne's invaluable medicine, they would soon find themselves benefited; than by gulping the various ineffective certain remedies of which our newspapers daily abound. This syrup immediately begins to heal the ulcerated lungs, stopping profuse night sweats, mitigating the distressing cough at the same time inducing a healthy and natural expectoration, also relieving the shortness of breath and pain in the chest, which harrass the sufferer in the slightest exercise, and finally the hectic flash in the pallid and emaciated cheek will soon begin to vanish, and the sufferer will here perceive himself snatched from a premature grave, into the enjoyment again of comfortable health.

From the Boston Chronicle, Jan. 10

We see by an advertisement in another column that Messrs. Comstock & co., the American Agents for Oldridge's Balm of Columbia, have deputies to sell that article in Boston and elsewhere. We know a lady of this city whose hair was so nearly gone as to expose entirely her phenological developments, which, considering that they betokened a most amiable, diodition, was not in reality very unfortunate. Nevertheless she mourned the loss of locks that she had worn, and after a year's fruitless resort to miscalled restoratives, purchased; some months ago, a bottle or two of Oldridge's Balm, and she has now ringlets in rich profusion, glossy, and of raven blackness. We are not puffing, none of the commodity has been sent to us, and indeed, we do not want any, for though we were obliged to wear a wig a year ago, we have now, though its virtue, hair enough, and of a passable quality, of our own.

To the Bald Headed.—This is to certify, that I have been bald about twenty years, and by the use of the genuine Balm of Columbia, my head is now covered with hair. I shall be happy to convince any one of the fact that will call and see me Delhi village. The above article I bought at Griswold, Case & co's store, who had it from Comstock & Co.
