[The Casket and the Gentleman's united]

A New Volume under the, above title, of the well established and *shionable Magazine, the Philadelphia Casket in conjunction with the Gentleman's Magazine, which has been every where pronounced the most readable and popular of the daw will be opened on the First of January 1841, with as array of Contributors secured by the union of tolent and fame which no periodical in the country can boast or pretend to fival. The December number will, however, be a specimen of the New Volume. The volume will be opened with new and beautiful type, the fatest white paper, and with the first of a series of EMBELISHMENTS UNSURPASSED by any which have yet appeared in any Magazine. The style of elegance, the beauty and finish of these illustrations, and the fextensive improvements which will be made in its typographical appearance and ab vealth the one of its literary department, by tae brilliant array of Contributors whose articles have enriched the pages of each number, will give it a character, second to Magazine in the Union. The character of the articles which shall appear in its pages, will be equally removed from a sickly sentimentality, and from an effectation of many and the tales and sketches published in them have been vigular contributors to their pages, and the tales and sketches published in them have been vigular contributors to their pages, and the tales and sketches published in them have been regular contributors to their pages, and the tales and sketches published in them have been vigular contributors to their pages, and the tales and sketches published in them have been vigular contributors to their pages, and the tales and sketches published in them have been vigular contributors to their pages, and the time and independent once of the criticisms, upon the current literature of the oay, has been vigular contributors to their pages, and the time and independent once of the criticisms, upon the current literature of the oay, has been vigularly of casting,

We shall refrain from an expression of our opinion, either of the soundness of Dr. Goelicke's new doctrine, we are happy to say that we deem it a Sanative too valuable not to be generally known—for what our eyes behold and our ears hear, we must believe.

We hereby state, that when Dr. Louis Offion Goelicke first came before the German public, as the pretended discoverer of a new doctrine and a new medicine, we hald him in the highest contempt, belie torder, on favorable terms, and cheaper than the same quality of French Burrs can be had at any other place in the U.
