LADIES'A GENTLEMAN'S World of Literature

AND FASHION.

The Carket and the Gentleman's united.]

A New Yolume underthe above thite, of the well established and fashionable Magazine, the Philadelphia Casket in conjunction with the Gentleman's Magnzine, which has been every where pronounced the most readable and popular of the day will be opened on the First of January 1841, with an array of Contributors secured by the union of stalent and fame which no periodical in the constry can boast or pretend to rival.—

The Becember number will, however, he a specimen of the New Volume. The volume will be opened with new and beautiful type, the forest white paper, and with the first of a series of EMBLELISHMENTS UNSURPASSED by any which have yet appeared in any Magasine. The style of elegance, the beauty and finish of these illustrations, and the extensive improvements which will be made in its typographical appearance and above afficies have enriched the pages of each number, swill give it a character, second to no Magazine in the Union. The character of the articles which shall appear in its pages, will be equally removed from a setty pentimentality, and from an effectation of my rality, but while a true delineation of human rature in every variety of passion is aimed at, nothing shall be found in its pages to rause a blush upon the check of the most pare.

The Literary Character

rill be sufficiently guaranteed by the repu-ation of both Magazines thus united, for ears past. Writers of the first rank have ean regular contributors to their pages, and he tales and sketches published in them have ean widely copied and read, and the firm and independent tone of the circliticisms, upon he current literature of the day, has been very where approved and commended.

The List of Contributors

Embraces the names of most of the principal writers in America, with a respectable namber of English authors. Original articles have Expeared, during the last year, from the pens of the following:—

sea scenes and life, much may be relied upon from him in maintaining the popularity of the Magazine. Papers may be expected du ring the volume, also from the author of the well known articles entitled, "The Log of Old Ironsides." The author of "Syrian Letters," will also lend his powerful and graceful pen, to sustain and increase the reputation of the work. The valuable and of the author of "Leaves from a Lawyer's Port Folio," has also been secured, and we may expect something still more thrilling from the capacious stores which a long life in the profession has enabled him to amass. An occasional Chit-Chat, with "Iversmy Short," and "Oliver Oldfellow," is also promised; with a variety of choice articles in prose and verse from various writers of celebrity, as Contributors to the prominent Magazines of the oountry. The editors of both Magazines continue their services under the new arrangement. With such an array of talent, a Magazine of unrivalled attractions, may safely be promised the coming volume.

In compliance, with the almost unanimous with of our lady subscribers, we shall the ensing volume furnish them with a beautiful and correct plate of FASHONS MONTHLY, a feature, it is believed, that will neither be unwelcome nor unpopular. These fashion plaies shall be drawn from original designs from Paris and London, and may always be depended upon as the prevailing style in Philadelphia and New York for the month in which they are issued. These, however, shall in no wise interfere with the regular and choice engravings, and music which accompany each rumber of the work. The splendid Mezzotint engravings from the buring of Sartain, which have been so justly admired, will be followed during the volume by several from the same hand, while the steel engravings in the best style of art, from interesting scenes shall still enrich the Magasine. The choicest pieces of music for the Piano and Guitar, shall accompany each number of the work.

TREATMENT.

The principal objects to be kept In view are 1st, to free the stomach and intestine from offending materials. 2d, to improve the tone of the digestive organs and energiof the system in removing noxious matter from the stomach, and obviating costiveness Violent drastic purgatives should be avoided and those aperients should be used which act gently, and rather by soliciting the per stalk motions of the intestines to their regularity of health, than by irritating them to aborious excitement. There is no medicine better adapted to the completion of this than better adapted to the completion of this than which they are issued. These, however, had the regular and choice engravings, and music which accompany each rumber of the work. we shall refrain from an expression of an opinion, either of the soundness of no an oundness of Dr. Goelicke's new doctaine, we are happy to say that we deen by a sanativ too valuable not to be generally known—for what our eyes behold and bur ears hear, we must believe.

We hereby state, that when Dr. Louis of a new doctrine and a new medicine, we held him in the highest contempt, believing and openly pronouncing him to be a sase imposter and the prince of quacks. But, on hearing so much said about the sanative, against it and for it, we were nduced, from motives of curiosity merelly, to make trial of its reputed virtues, ipon a number of our most hopeless patients; and we now deem it our bounden duty (even at the expense of our solf interest) publickly to acknowledge its efficacy in curing not only consumption out otherfearful maladies, which we have herefore believed to be incurable. Of attempt for the discoverer of this medeine was at once swallowed up in our ut per astonishment at these unexpected results; and, as amends for ourabuse of him we do fraukly confess to the world, that we believe him a philanthrophist does who hon r to the profession, and to our country, which gave aim birth.

The recent adoption of this medicine into some of our European hospitals is sufficient guaranty that it performs all its promises: It need not our testimoy, for wherever it is used it is its own best wit ness.

mmediately relieved, by using EVANS'AMO MILENDA APERIENT DR. EVANS does not pretend to say that his medicine will cure all diseases that flesh and blood are heir to, but he does says that in all Debilitated and Impaired Constitutions—in Nervous diseases of all kinds, particular ly of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS, and in Incipient Consumption, whether of the lungs or liver, they will cure. That dreadful disease, CONSUMPTION, might have been cliecked in its commencement, and disappointed its prey all over the land, if the first symptoms of Nervous Debility had been counteracted by the CAMOMILE FLOW-ER chemically prepared; together with many other diseases, where other remedics have proved tatal.

How many persons do we daily find tortured with that dreadful disease, SICK HEADACHE, If they would only make trial of this invaluable medicine, they would perceive that life is a pleasure and not a cource of misery and abhorrence. In conclusion of BLOOD, either by leeches, cupping, or the employment of the lancet. Drastic purgatives in delicate babits are almost equally improper. Those, are practices too often resorted to in such cases, but they seldom fail to prove highly injurious. Certificates of cures are daily received which, add sufficient testimony of the great efficacy if this invaluable medicine, in relieving afficited mankind. The above medicine is for sale at Jacob Miller's store, Huntingdon.
