

that a short shift and a speedy doom would be awarded to the guilty.

In addition to this intelligence, we find in yesterday's Courier some statement corroborating the above. A considerable number of slaves, says that journal, fled to the ravines and swamps as soon as they heard of the arrest of the leaders. Many slaves among the plantation in the neighborhood of Woodville (Miss.) had been apprehended. The Courier publishes the following letter from a respectable inhabitant, dated

POINT COUPEE, July 19, 1841.

The negroes on the other side of the river, say Bayou Sara and environs—have had a regular conspiracy. It was to have broken out some days since, but owing to the illness of the leader it was postponed. Last evening was to have been their final meeting, and then was to have commenced their massacre; but fortunately some of the confederated slaves informed their masters. A body of men was immediately raised at Bayou Sara, and some 15 or 20 of the leaders have been arrested, and will no doubt be tried and executed immediately. This is no humbug. "P. S. Send me up a dozen of your best Bowie knives."

"It appears to have been a regularly organized conspiracy from this place to Natchez, (nearly 150 miles of the coast.) The leaders have been white men, one of whom is now in jail at St. Francisville, and will no doubt be executed."

We find another letter on the French side of the Courier, dated July 21, giving the following details:

"We have had a negro insurrection, or rather it was on the point of breaking out when the plot was discovered. All the white population from Natchez to Baton Rouge, and all the negroes who refused to join the insurrection, were to be assassinated."

"There are in our prison 22 negroes who have been given up by their masters; about a dozen more are expected to-day, to be examined and tried. White men are implicated in this servile plot, and were to have been the principal leaders. One of them was taken yesterday near Jackson; he is safe in prison with the negroes. A rumor prevailed yesterday that he would be hung without form of trial. Since Saturday, no one has slept. The militia and citizens keep guard around the prison, and the patrol maintain an active watch, &c."

What Strangers think of the Previous Pardoner.

The New York Courier and Inquirer in speaking of Governor Porter's Previous Pardons says:—"Governor PORTER," of Pennsylvania, though we dare say he is a protestant, deals more lavishly in "indulgences" than any Papist we ever read of in the most traduced ages of the church. Not satisfied with exercising the pardoning power, after the conviction of the criminal, he has in numerous instances manifested the disposition to relieve him from the inconvenience of a trial, and pardoned him previously. The Governor has very recently exercised this mercy to the miscreant, and cruelly to the community, by pardoning a horse thief. We may be mistaken, but it strikes us as it seems to us no one can dispute.

A HUNDRED YEARS IN PRISON.—A late French paper states that a young man aged eighteen years, in 1724, was condemned to the galleys in France, on account of a high crime, for the long period of one hundred years, which was probably intended by the Judge to confine him for life. Remarkable as it may appear, in 1824, the man being in perfect health, after an unremitted series of hardships for one entire century, was discharged, being exactly one hundred and eighteen years old.

THE RAIN.—The recent rains have been productive of most extensive benefits to the farmers, whose fields of potatoes and Indian corn had begun to exhibit symptoms of want, and gave signs of failure; but now hope is again predominant, and good crops are confidently looked for.

TREATY BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND THE GERMAN UNION.

The convention of 1841 is a supplement to the treaty of 1824. This convention for the first time recognizes the German Union. Its adversaries in the German States, who feel very bitter respecting it, declare that it secures to Great Britain three advantages.—1st. The Union has bound itself by this treaty to complete a junction with the northern maritime states, before Great Britain amends her Navigation act. 2d. The Union loses by the treaty the power to grant any advantages to the produce of the United States or the Brazils. 3d. The Union renounces the right to exclude British Commerce from the advantages of procuring Brazilian produce in Germany; whilst Great Britain by her custom laws prevents the German merchants from importing that produce from Great Britain under the German flag.—N. Y. Jour. of Com.

Rose, a colored girl from Mobile, who came North as a domestic in a family from that place, was brought before the Supreme Court on Saturday last for the purpose of being delivered free. Upon being informed by the Court that she was at liberty and could go where she pleased, she replied that she would "go back to her mistress and take care of the children."

The Hon. ENOS HOOK, late member of Congress from Pennsylvania, who resigned some time since on account of ill health, died a few days ago at his residence in Greene county.

A Fact.

The ladies in one of the western states, have resolved never to marry a man who owes more than one year's subscription for a newspaper. If the young ladies about "these diggings" were to adopt such a resolution, there is no telling what would be the consequence. Bachelors would be as plenty and as troublesome as flies in August—population would begin to decrease—business stop—and in short, the country would be ruined, and all because men refuse to pay for their papers every year. Just think of it.—Milloman.

BRANDRETHIAN SYSTEM.

There are any persons who honestly doubt the truth of the Brandrethian System, we would entreat them to ponder well upon the following fact: The food taken into the stomach is converted into blood, which vital stream flowing through all the ramifications of the system, not only imparts strength and continues life, but actually creates, forms, and builds up, each and every part of the animal machine. If the blood, therefore, is pure and healthy, the body which is formed from and supported by the blood, cannot be diseased. If there is a single pain or ache in any part, it proves we have no health. Nothing can be more absurd than to say we have "bad health."

Dr. Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills enjoy the enviable distinction of being feared and hated by the Medical Faculty, because they are destroying disease and spreading health and consequent happiness through the length and breadth of our beloved country.
