

REMARKABLE CASE OF BIGAMY—FIENDISH VILLIANY.—As the conductor of a public press, we have never been called upon to record a case of a more perfect and continued system of rascality than that which we feel bound to lay before our readers this week. Yet such is the peculiar and varied nature of the case—such is its deep depravity, that we are at a loss where to begin or where to stop. We purpose, however, to detail the circumstances as they have come to our knowledge, (confining ourselves to the facts near as possible,) and so doing we intentionally omit the names of the unfortunate females who have been made the wretched victims of a species of villany unparalleled in this country. Their cup of sorrow and mortification must now be full, and we will not run it over by gazetting their names.

It appears that a certain Edward C. Bolinger, (son of the Rev. Mr. Bolinger, minister of the M. E. church, and a resident of this county) about three years since married a Miss P——, a lady of respectability as we learn, and lived with her nearly two years. About twelve months ago he left his home for the purpose of studying the law in Greensborough N. C. leaving his wife behind. On his arrival in Greensborough, he changed his name, and introduced himself to the inhabitants of that town as Sidney T. Smith of Alabama. He exhibited to the gentleman under whom he prosecuted the study of law, certificates purporting to be of distinguished gentlemen in North Alabama, and which represented him as the son of a wealthy cotton planter of that State. He obtained credit to a large amount in the stores of that place, and pretended that he was in the daily expectation of the receipt of a large amount of funds from his father, living as above stated. Soon after he informed his acquaintances that he expected his parents in a short time to pass through Greensborough on a visit to some friends living in Southampton, Virginia. Again he pretended to learn that his father was dead, but that he expected a visit from his mother, and with a countenance indicating grief for his lost parent, he entered a milliner's shop and bespoke for his mother a costly dress of mourning, while he wore crape on his hat!

After this, he succeeded, by stratagem, to become acquainted with Miss E. B—— an accomplished young lady of Guilford county, and daughter of a gentleman of high respectability and of enviable property. He was pleased with her; and with a cold-hearted ferocity of a fiend fresh from hell, determined to make her the victim of his foul treachery and deceit. By artful and false representations, he gained the confidence of her father; and by warm and ardent professions of regard and attachment, induced her to consent to become his bride. He determined in the black malignity of his soul, to become the spoiler of the peace of that domestic circle where, before, all was tranquil happiness and joy. Like the gaze of the basilisk, his treacherous eye was fixed upon that fair victim, and she might not escape. Now he stood before the altar and pledged to Miss B—— his faith, and the nuptial tie was proclaimed to the world by the public journals—when not twenty miles distant lived a lawfully wedded wife, who perhaps at the moment of his marriage with Miss B——, sighed with a throbbing heart, for her husband's return.

The tale stops not here. Soon after his second marriage, Smith alias Boling (a young man of fair complexion and genteel dress) told his new father-in-law that he had been sadly disappointed in not having received the funds from Alabama, which he had so long expected, but still pretended that he confidently expected them to arrive in a short time; stated moreover that he had bargained with a Mr. Edward C. Boling, of this county, for a tract of land, and for which he agreed to pay Boling the sum of $3,700; and thus got his father-in-law to endorse the payment of a bond of three thousand seven hundred dollars, which sum he borrowed to pay for land. Now Smith alias Boling pretended to visit this Edward C. Boling, to ratify this bargain. After a short absence he returned back, and lo! Boling had, by hook or crook, defrauded him out of his money. He remained with his wife a few days, and concluded to go and see Boling again; and such was now the length of his absence that his last wife became uneasy, proceeded in quest of him to the house of the Rev. Mr. Boling, of this county, expecting to meet with him there; but she found him not—Mr. Smith was not known by any of the family;—while there, Mrs. Smith became acquainted with Mrs. Edward C. Boling, whose husband was absent also.

The two ladies remained together for several days, and mutually expressed anxiety for the return of their husbands, never once dreaming that they were the wives of one and the same man. Mrs. Smith, alias Boling, finally returned home with out hearing from her husband—but Smith arrived soon after her return, told a smooth tale relative to his absence, and still complained of his treatment from Boling.

The want of space compels us to pass over many events of interest which transpired after this last return mentioned, until his arrest. His new father-in-law, enraged against Boling, and unwilling that his son-in-law should brook such injustice, sought redress by the force and power of the law. He accordingly had a writ issued for the arrest of Boling, charging him with swindling Sidney T. Smith

On Tuesday last, (our county court being in session,) Smith, in connection with a young man, a relative of Mrs. Smith, arrived at Yanceville, the county seat of this county, on his way, as he said, to Southampton, to take charge of several negroes which he owned there, and to collect a large sum of money then due him; but on his arrival at the court house, he made out to the young man (that his horse was too lame to travel further—sent the young man on to Southampton, stating that he would return, get another horse, and soon be with him. Thus they parted, and the young man is now, perhaps, awaiting Smith's alias Boling's presence in Southampton, or inquiring in vain after the property. We have said they parted. Smith pretended to go back. Col. Lee, deputy sheriff, who had been on the look out for Boling, was informed that he was in the village; on further inquiry he learned that Boling had left town—some one had met him. Col. Lee mounted his horse, and pursued him; he overtook Boling, who was on his way to the residence of his first wife, and brought him to town. Imagine the feelings of his new father-in-law, who was in Yanceville, on that day, seeking Boling's arrest, as he stepped into the court house to observe the culprit, for the first time, and at a glimpse exclaimed—"My God! that's the man that married my daughter!"

Boling having been brought before an examining court, was required to give bail in the sum of $5,000, with two or more securities, which failing to do, was committed to jail, and the witnesses bound to appear at Guilford Superior court, where defendant Boling will have his trial before the Hon. Judge Nash—Milton (N. C.) Chronicle.

ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE IN A BOX.—On the 3d of August, 1840, a man named James C. Cole, of desperately deprived character, who had been before in the State Prison, was again sentenced to that institution for robbery in the first degree—in pointing a loaded pistol at the breast of a broker in Greenwich St. and crying out, "Your money or your life." Weaving of his imprisonment, Cole last week conceived the plan of escaping; and as he was engaged in box making, he resolved to go off from the prison in a box. For this purpose he dressed off and fixed up an empty sugar box, drove nails through the top and broke the points off, and placed wooden buttons inside the lid to fasten it to grooves in the sides; and having nailed it and having directed it to John Leric, corner of Pike and Madison Sts. and instructed two of the convicts to put the box on board the sloop Fanny, he got in, bent himself up, fastened the lid, and was carried by the two convicts, soon after dinner, and placed on the wharf, head down wards, where he remained half an hour before he was taken on board. The sloop sailed, with Mr. Lent, one of the prison keepers, on board as a passenger, who had no suspicion of the contents of the box. A storm of wind sprung up, however, which carried away one of the sails, when a few miles out, and the sloop put back to Sing Sing to refit, when Mr. Lent the keeper left her, and she soon after resumed her voyage toward this city.

The box containing Cole having been placed in the cabin where there was a roasting fire, the poor inmate became almost completely roasted and nearly suffocated for want of fresh air, and twice fainted in his "narrow house"—wishing himself back in his old quarters, the prison. In the interim his escape having been discovered and communicated to Mr. Lent, the keeper, he at once brought him of the boxes on board the sloop, and taking passage on board the first steamer, arrived in this city before the sloop, and proceeded on board of her as soon as she touched the wharf. There, on knocking the lid off the box, he found Cole all doubled and bent up, nearly dead from his confined position, want of air and abstinence from food and drink for about ten hours. He was lifted out and conveyed to prison in this city, where he recovered sufficiently to be taken back to Sing Sing in irons, on Saturday afternoon, there to suffer from the disciplinary appointments of the prison—a severe punishment for smuggling himself off in a box, and then to serve out his long term of imprisonment, unless death shall grant a discharge.—*N. THE HISTORY OF THE FLORIDA OR INDIAN WAR EPITOMIZED.
HORRID INDIAN MASSACRE.—A company of U. S. troops, engaged in protecting our Florida frontier, were fell in with on Thursday night last, by a party of savages at the head of whom was the notorious Tiger Tail, and horrid to relate, three of the soldiers beside one corporal, were murdered in cold blood—the balance having succeeded in making their escape to the fort.

GLORIOUS VICTORY.—We have the pleasure to state that a troop of U. S. dragoons, on a scouting excursion, fell in with a party of the enemy, on Wednesday, and succeeded in capturing three old squaws, after a gallant charge upon the savages, two of whom, it is ascertained were killed in the mele.

INDIAN OUTRAGE AND MURDER.—A party of U. S. troops engaged in conveying some provisions and ammunition, were surprised in a jungle, and the wagons all killed and scalped, the most of the soldiers having found their way back to the fort.—Col.—— next day sent a strong party in pursuit, and an express arrived, stating that they had for two days pursued an Indian trail, and had succeeded in capturing a wife of one of the warriors.

FLORIDA WAR AT AN END.—Our brave and gallant little army have brought this sanguinary war at last to a termination. The noted Seminole warrior, Tiger Tail, and his daughter, have come in to treat (or get treated) and this chief has sent out for the celebrated Sam Jones, who is confidently expected to-morrow, when a final adjustment of all difficulties will take place.

SAVAGE TREACHERY AND OUTRAGE.—Tiger Tail and his daughter, last night, made their escape, and joining with Sam Jones, meta returning party of our scouts, whom they most inhumanly attacked, murdering and scalping a Lieutenant and three of his men. Those who were saved, have just brought the news to the fort, of this daring outrage.

Labor Saving Machine.—The Bangor Whig says: "A Yankee in Boston has set up a one horse thrashing machine, for the convenience of parents and guardians having unruly boys. He'll lick an urchin like thunder for four cents. Small licks do for two cents only, and the most entire satisfaction warranted." Somebody will be starting a penny opposition, and 'lick' all creation.—Tattler.

Mechanics will be taught the use of the Slide rule Gunter's scale, and Sector.

There is no science in the world that does improve the mind so much as the mathematics; by giving it a habit of close and demonstrative reasoning, by freeing it from credulity prejudice and superstition; by rendering it exact and capable of solving the greatest difficulties; and lastly by regulating the imagination and giving the mind the greatest extension capacity that human nature is able to attain.

Who then would be ignorant of a science so excellent, so useful, and beneficial to mankind? Who would not take some pains to attain competent knowledge of an art so truly valuable? How commendable to see youth give their minds to the study of these sciences! It frees the mind from ill habits; and raises the soul above the common way of thinking. There is no thoughtful and contemplative person but would find unspeakable pleasure and satisfaction in the study of them, and to such as are so inclined the subscriber intends to open an evening school on the 1st Monday evening in November, and to be continued three evenings in the week for the period of three months.

Terms of tuition will be moderate, in order to encourage young men to bend their minds to the study of these useful sciences; and by that means may become useful instruments in their generation, that every young man should become so, is the sincere wish of their Humble servant,
