Purify the Blood.—As the blood, in its lile-preserving course is subject to continual waste, nature has provided for the supply of the exhausting fountain, by the conversion of our food into new blood.

But while such ample means are provided for the manufacture of new blood, nature has been no less solicitous in providing for the expulsion of that which is useless and decayed. This important office is performed by the bowels, and when Nature (who is always struggling to throw off offending matter.) requires assistance in her benevolent intention.

Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills will be found singularly adapted to the purpose, because they remove through the stomach and bowels all corrupt humors from the body, in an easy, safe and effectual manner, producing no effect but what will finally conduce to the perfect purification of the blood, and thereby cure the disease, (by whatsoever name it may be called,) and give perfect health to the whole system.

Purchase in Huntingdon of William Stewart, and of the control of the support of his friends and the public generally repeated by the found.
