

gusts of wind, and waves dashed into the boat. The witnesses for the defendant swore that the extremity was great, inevitable; but the witnesses for the prosecution swore that the danger was not so imminent. Some were thrown overboard under the plea of inevitable necessity to save those who remained in the boat.—Among those thrown over, (if our memory serves rightly,) was a young man of the name of Askins, and his two sisters. Soon after this, the ship Crescent came in sight, and all who had remained in the boat were picked up.

Holmes, one of the crew, assisted in throwing persons overboard. For this he was put on trial at Philadelphia, as above stated. The jury retired from the box at about 3 o'clock on Friday the 22nd, and on Saturday morning returned with a verdict of "Guilty of manslaughter." The United States Gazette says, the verdict was different from the expectations of many, except those who heard the charge of the able Judge who presided at the trial, and who considered the question as purely one of law, and thought the defendant had not made out that case of inevitable necessity which could, in law, establish his only excuse.

New Papers.

We have on our desk a copy of a new semi-monthly paper, in quarto form, hailing from Shippensburg, Pa. It is a sort of historical record, and is entitled "The Indian Chief." We are not able to say whether it belongs to the Broadhead or the Flathead, the Kickapoo or the Winnebago tribe.

We have also received the 1st No. of "The Cumberland Valley," published at Shippensburg, Pa., by W. A. & J. B. KIMROE. It is a neat and interesting sheet—occupies neutral ground, with sundry reservations. Our knowledge of the Senior Editor warrants us in saying that its columns will display considerable ability;—but then, as for its neutrality, we expect to find it a kinder sorter neutral, and a kinder sorter not—but a little more a kinder sorter than a kinder sorter."

Rejected.

The nomination of J. WASHINGTON TYSON of Philadelphia, as Commissary General of Supplies, has been rejected by the Senate of the United States, by a vote of 29 to 11.

"Woman[s] necessary to the happiness of man." It has been so decided by a learned literary society in New York. Who withdraw instanter.

ERRATUM.—In the article published last week in relation to the case of our Sheriff, we inadvertently stated that the Coroner's Commission had been recorded at the expense of the Deputy Attorney General. The Supersedes was the "document" about which we were writing, and that we meant to say was so recorded.

A special election is to be held in Washington county on the 20th inst. for a member of Congress in the place of the Hon. Joseph Lawrence, deceased.

A writer in the Clinton County Democrat laments most bitterly because, as he says, we have referred to Mr. E. O. Jackson as one of the persons who received a portion of the $99,000. Our readers know that we never made such an assertion. Mr. Jackson's name never appeared in this paper in any other way than that persons wishing to engage in "lumber speculations" have been referred to him in the advertisement of Kickapoo & Co. For this we are denounced as a "scape-goat," a "grave-robbing," &c. There is surely no accounting for taste!

If the writer in the Democrat thinks that Mr. J. has been injured by us, we will hold ourselves bound to publish any reasonable article that he may write in justice to the injured, provided he withholds the poisonous breath of slander from our predecessor and himself, which he did not do in the article above alluded to. But if he merely seeks an opportunity to display his taste for vulgar epithets he can save himself the trouble.

Most Provoking Interference.

The editor of the Freeman's Register, at Mount Pleasant, copies our notice of the recent Examination at the Huntingdon Female Seminary; and then adds:

"That editor is certainly taken with the girls at the Seminary. We recommend to the Principal of the Institution to have an eye on his movements in that quarter. He may take a notion to 'see the girls through' a trial of another sort at Gretna Green."

This conduct of our Mount Pleasant friend is very unfair and ungenerous. We would never think or even dream of interfering in his "love scrapes." And if he knew the power of his six lines to stir up the "green-eyed monster" in a certain Miss Somebody in another quarter, he would surely not make the "vile insinuation."

The Rev. J. P. DUBIN, President of Dickinson College, is on his way to Europe.

Twenty-Seventh Congress.

In the Senate, on the 28th Mr. Buchanan presented a large number of memorials, from merchants and others of Philadelphia, for an increase of duties on imports, and the encouragement of domestic manufactures.

In the House the General Appropriation Bill as it came from committee of the whole, was concurred in and engrossed for third reading.

The business of the Senate on the 21st was not of any general importance. Numerous petitions were presented in favor of a protective tariff. In the House the Apportionment Bill was held under consideration in committee of the whole.—After considerable discussion, 60,500 was agreed to as the ratio of representation, by a majority of 22. There were 85 absentees, so that this ratio may yet be changed.

On the 22nd the Senate passed the greater portion of their time in Executive Session, and the nomination of J. Washington Tyson, Esq., as Commissary General of Purchases, was rejected. The House was occupied chiefly in a discussion occasioned by the proceedings of a meeting held in Ohio in relation to the case of Mr. Gidding, which had been entered on the journal the previous day. They were finally expunged from the journal.

On the 23rd neither House was in Session. The members visited the steam frigates Mississippi and Missouri, agreeably to the invitation of the Secretary of the Navy.

In the Senate, on the 25th, nothing of importance was transacted. The House, after the disposition of some preliminary business, again took up the Apportionment Bill, when an amendment was offered so as to make the ratio of representation 53,000. This amendment was debated until the House adjourned.

In the Senate, on the 26th, Mr. Buchanan presented memorials from citizens of Pennsylvania, earnestly pressing upon Congress the necessity of legislative action on the subject of duties on iron.—They set forth that unless the duties of 1839 are restored the iron works must stop. The House was occupied chiefly in the further discussion of the Apportionment Bill.

DROWNED.—We regret to learn that a child of Mr. HENRY POORMAN'S, of Allison township, was drowned in Bald Eagle Creek on Saturday morning last. He had accidentally fallen in, and was discovered only when it was too late. He was aged about three years.

We also learn that a colored man named Charles Grimes was drowned near the Bald Eagle Bridge a few days since. His body, we believe, has not been found.—Clinton County Whig.

During an Anniversary of the efforts to secure the nomination of Mr. Buchanan, of this State, for the Presidency, and Mr. King, of Georgia, for the Vice Presidency. They are old associates in Congress, and incorrigible old Bachelors. Even if nominated, their election is utterly out of the question, inasmuch as the ladies will oppose them.—Clinton County Whig.

THE BRANDRETH PILLS.—Actions at law, penalties, imprisonments and disgrace have not hitherto succeeded in preventing the endeavors of disreputable persons to deceive the public with miserable counterfeits of that popular and universally approved medicine, the Brandreth Pills.

Such has become the impudence of these counterfeiters, that they carry their poison from house to house, using all their endeavors to rob the poor and needy.

In order, therefore, to secure the medicine in its purity, the public will observe that each box has three of my fac-simile signatures thereon—one upon the top of the box, one upon the side, and one upon the bottom of said box—each of which must also correspond with those labels on the certificate of Agency held by every duly authorized Agent, by which they will be fully secured.

Let it be borne in mind that all Pills sold for Brandreth's, without three fac-simile signatures of my name being upon the box, may be considered counterfeit, and be very careful to observe that the signature 'Brandreth's B. not W., or any other letter than B.

Purchase them in Huntingdon of Wm. Stewart, and only of agents published in another part of this paper.

DIED.

On Sunday morning last, ELIZABETH A., consort of John Henderson, M. D. of Huntingdon, aged 57 years. The deceased was a daughter of Col. Allison of Franklin county, and sister of the late Hon. Robert Allison of Huntingdon.

Long impressed with a proper sense of the Christian Religion and its appropriate duties, she manifested her attachment to the cause of her Saviour by uniting with the Presbyterian Church, of which she was an exemplary member for many years. Unostentatious and retired in her manners, her virtues were rather of the domestic kind, and best known and appreciated in the family circle. She was a remarkably kind and affectionate wife and mother. The only consolation that can be offered to her afflicted, surviving husband, children and relations, is the well grounded, cherished hope, that what is their temporal loss is her eternal gain.

N. B. Fellow soldiers, this will in all probability be the last time that I shall have the pleasure of inspecting you; I hope to meet you with arms and accoutrements in good order, equipped according to law.

He cannot be a good citizen who does not qualify himself for the defence of his country, and obey its laws, "in time of peace prepare for war." Our services may be needed in a few months; the British are still pressing their insolent demands and making gradual encroachments on our rights. The time is near at hand when we must either bow beneath monarchical power, or wield the sword of justice in our country's cause. I need not say you will choose the latter.

HATHAWAY'S COOKING

Hot Air Stoves.

THIS celebrated stove is now manufactured by Arthur B. Long, in Lewistown, Pa., which he will endeavor at all times to keep on hand ready for use, he is making the three following sizes: No. 2, small size, receives a stick of wood 2 feet 4 inches long. No. 2 1-2 middle size receives a stick of wood 2 feet 6 inches long. No. 3 largest size receives a stick of wood 2 feet 8 inches long.

This stove No. 3, is calculated for Taverns, Boarding Houses, or other Houses where much cooking is required, and No. 2, and 2 1/2 is calculated for the use of farmers and small families.

There never has yet appeared any system or plan of a cooking stove which has the same advantage that this stove has. Its culinary purpose is not to be equalled.—Its baking qualities are far superior to any other, as the hot air principle is the continuation of heat in the stove by which a much less quantity of fuel is required to perform a much larger amount of cooking or baking than any other stove that has formerly been used.

All orders addressed to Arthur B. Long, Lewistown, through the Post Office, or at his Foundry will be punctually attended to. ARTHUR B. LONG.
