The Apportionment Bill.

The Washington Correspondent of the U. S. Gazette, in his letter of the 5th inst. says:—"There is a strong probability that the Apportionment Bill will pass the bell, and threw from the belify the college windows, dislodged and threw from the belify the college windows, dislodged and threw from the belify the college windows with the clause requiring the State legislatures to lay off the States into single Congressional districts, and to lay off the districts, too, in such a way that each shall be composed of convenient and compact territory. This is the fairest and most republican mode of electing members of Congress, because if gives the people an opportunity of voting for men whom

Loco foco editors and politicians de-nounce the Bankrupt law, but neither hesitate to "take the benefit?" of it—the latter by availing themselves of the bene-fit of the "rascality" law, and the former by publishing such intentions. Consis-tency is said to be a "jewel," and that is probably the reason why the loco-focos cannot afford to wear it.—Nor. Free Press.

Another Braddee Case.—We notice that Constable Hague, of Pittsburg, arrested a stage driver a few days since, 8 miles below that city on the Beaver road, for robbing the mail in Ohio. It is said that he is connected with an extensive gang, and is only an instrument in their hands.—Indiana Register.

A WARNING .-- The Houston (Texas) A WARNING...-The Houston (Fexas) Telegraph warns young men about to emigrate to Texas, to beware of intemperance. It says Texas can offer naught to the intemperate but an early grave. Of a party of seventeen persons, who emigrated from New York three years ago, one only survives. This mortality is attributed to intemperance.

The Ledger states that last week, a poor woman living in Cohocksink, gave birth to three children. This is hard luck for such times as the present, but what is still more hard, the father is out of employment. For cases of this kind there should be a fund raised by a tax upon bachelors, and expended by a committee of old maiden ladies.

He cannot be a good citizen who does not qualify himself for the defence of his country, and obey its laws, "in time of peace prepare for war." Our services may be needed in a few months; the British are still pressing their insolent demands and making gradual encroachments on our rights. The time is near at hand when we must either bow beneath monarhical power, or wield the sword of justice in our country's cause. I need not say you will choose the latter.
