

but only by itself." Let such, therefore, as doubt, try it by the record itself. But quare, Master Kickapoo, should not the commission of a Justice of the Peace who refuses to bow to your iron rod be superseded? Should such conduct be suffered by one who "was and still is Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," as appears by the 23,000 majority, and the affidavit of John Cresswell?

The Tariff Question.

We copy the following paragraph from the "Watchman" of last week.

Who are the friends of the Tariff?—Mr. Ingersoll, a few days since, asked leave to introduce a bill for the purpose of raising revenue, and giving protection to American Manufacturers, and upon the question of granting leave to introduce it, every Whig, with one or two exceptions, voted NAY. And yet these men and their supporters claim to be the friends of a Tariff!! Out upon such contemptible trickery—such barefaced hypocrisy!!!

The above contains "a story not half told," as its author must very well know. It is fresh in the memory of every one that the Whigs passed two Tariff Bills during the present session—that John Tyler vetoed them—and that the Loco Foco, generally, rejoiced at the fate of those bills. After the veto came, Charles J. Ingersoll, who declared he "would have been a Tory had he lived during the Revolution," asked leave to introduce a lame and objectionable bill, which we are now told was "for the purpose of raising revenue, and giving protection to American Manufacturers." On the question to grant leave, only 43 voted in the affirmative, including the "Corporal's Guard." Now how does it come that Mr. Tory Ingersoll's bill received only 45 votes in a House which contains more than 100 Loco Foco votes, and these Loco Focos the "true friends of the Tariff"? The Ambiguity is palpable, and yet the Loco Focos want to make political capital out of the fact that the Whigs would not follow the lead of a "Tory!!!"

But, as our neighbor seems not to know the true doctrine of the Loco Foco party in this State in regard to a Tariff, we will respectfully call his attention to the following resolution which the Loco Focos in our State Legislature passed through its second reading by a vote of 55 to 35, on the 24th of June last:—

"Resolved, That the Legislature of Pennsylvania recognize the doctrine of laying imposts on the commerce of foreign nations, coming into the United States, sufficient only to defray the ordinary expenses of the general government, and that a Tariff exceeding that amount is oppressive in its effects on the consumer and unproductive of any good to the country."

Now, the above resolution, which may be found on the Journal of the House of Representatives, contains the very essence of the Loco Foco doctrine on the subject of a Tariff. They clearly repudiate a Protective Tariff, and recognize no other than an insufficient merely to "defray the ordinary expenses of the general government."

If the Loco Focos wish to turn over to the friends of a Protective Tariff, let them do it honestly and fairly; and we will be glad to see them do so; but we despise the hypocrisy which would make us believe that they are the "true friends of the Tariff" when they are in fact its bitterest enemies.

The Loco Foco Movement.

In alluding to the call for a Workingmen's Convention we mentioned, last week; that we did not believe that the Farmers, Mechanics and Workingmen in this county can again be induced, by deception, to support the measures of the Loco Foco party, planned for our defeat. We are daily confirmed more strongly that that belief was well founded. The Workingmen's (no-party) "Society," like many a dog, has had its day. The honest portion of our citizens see through the whole scheme, and none but the legitimate Loco Focos belong to that party. Every Loco Foco, however, ruffian dandy, fop, soap-lock, idler, vagabond and all, who have always been members of the Loco Foco party are now workingmen, and compose the head, body and tail of the new party, which professes no creed or principles, has no other ultimate object in view than self aggrandizement, and invites all—no matter what their principles—their professions—their practices—their calling—or their standing may be, to come and join with them!

It may be that there was reason last year for dissatisfaction at the nominations of our party. We know that such dissatisfaction did exist, and that that was the means of the defeat of a part of the Ticket. But who will say that there is any cause for such dissatisfaction this year; or who can point to a man who is dissatisfied and can say one word against the whole or any part of the ticket formed by the County Convention on the 10th inst.

"The peculiar situation of the times and the oppressive burthens now borne by the laboring population," say the Loco Foco Central Committee, "render it advisable that they should (without distinction of party) take the affairs of Government into their own hands." Now the only men to be elected this fall who can in any manner effect these "burthens" either for better or worse, are the members of the Legislature. From among the "laboring population" the Democratic County Convention have selected JONATHAN McWILLIAMS and BRUCE BLAIR as candidates for that station. The former is a man who toils daily in his axe factory, and the latter is an industrious farmer. Are these not the proper kind of men to represent Huntingdon county? Certainly they are. Why then oppose them? Simply because they are not Loco Focos, and because they will never support the reckless Administration that imposed those "oppressive burthens," of which the Central Committee speak, upon the shoulders of the "laboring population." This is the grand secret of the opposition. Who, then, will encourage it?

Some may ask why we style those whose names are appended to the call for the Convention the Loco Foco Central Committee, when at least one sound, firm and unflinching Whig is numbered among them. We will explain. That man was appointed on said Committee without his knowledge or consent—he never signed the call, and has perhaps never seen it. We believe that he cannot be found opposing the ticket formed by our party on the 10th of August. Though a friend to the Workingmen in every sense of the word, he will never assist to delude and humbug them as is now again attempted by the minions of Governor Porter.

Our space will not permit us to say any thing further on this subject at present. More anon.

We learn from the "Perry Freeman" that the Loco Foco Senatorial Conference of Perry county have been instructed, by the County Convention to support Henry C. Eyre, of Union county, for State Senator.

It is hoped that all will read the communication signed A Laborer, which may be found on the fourth page of today's paper.

The Clinton County Democrat is informed that his "knock-down arguments" won't "win" any better than his flap-doodles.

By the advertisement of today's Journal, Esq., in another part of this paper, it will be seen that a pretty extensive robbery was committed in Birmingham, on the night of the 19th inst. Charles F. Deatrich is supposed to be the robber. Southern and Western editors will confer a favor by noticing the fact, and at the same time be guarding against the perpetration of similar villainies.

Last week HENRY CLAY was nominated for the Presidency by the State convention which assembled in Maryland.

Post Office Regulations.

As erroneous opinions prevail among the community on the subject of the duties of Postmasters, we make the following extracts from the instructions of the Postmaster General of the United States to Postmasters:

The law fixes three classes of postage, viz: On letters, on newspapers, and on pamphlets. There are two rates of pamphlet postage; the first chargeable on pamphlets that are periodical, and the second on those that are not. In determining the rate of postage on any article, you will always bear in mind that every thing sent in the Mail, which is not either a newspaper, or a pamphlet of one of the two classes, is to be charged with letter postage.

Letter postage to be charged on all handbills, printed or written; prices current, sealed or unsealed; prospectuses, proposals for new publications, circulars, lottery bills and advertisements, blank forms, deeds, law processes, policies of insurance, and manuscript copy for publication. Also on all packets that are closely enveloped and sealed, so that what they contain cannot be known.

In order that frauds may be readily traced and detected, postmasters must be careful to mark or stamp every transient paper, magazine, or pamphlet sent from their offices.

"The union of two true hearts in marriage is a scene which art decorates with the most splendid and imposing works of her hands, innocent curiosity flocks to it as a marvel and a show, the moral sentiments of mankind sanction it, religion blesses it. Christ himself once hallowed it with his presence, and God adds to it the choicest smiles of his providence."—Burnap.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Our Senator.

FRIEND CREMER: I observe in your paper of last week, a communication signed "Justice," written undoubtedly to further the claims of Perry county to the next Senator. Now I can only say in the outset, that I do not care from which county in the district the candidate is taken; yet I must protest against the position assumed by "Justice." He would lead the reader to infer that every county composing this Senatorial district except Perry has had a member of the Senate since the district has been in its present shape. Such is not the fact. Truth and Justice cannot well be separated, and truth says that McCulloch, whom "Justice" gives as the Senator of Mifflin, was elected, and his term of service had expired before the apportionment of the State into the present Senatorial district; so that Perry cannot urge her claims as prior to Mifflin. Nor do I wish it understood that I propose thrusting the claims of any one upon our friends, as the only precursor of success.

Neither men nor their locality can induce me to press the claims of any one; any issue of that kind will tend only to engender disaffection and unkind feelings. I hope every writer will place the question on the more important ground. The importance of success at this time—and of success with some man, whose principles are known and openly avowed—who in truth is opposed to the present oppressive and unequal taxation—the squandering of the public money—the increase of officers on our public works—and is in favor of a just Apportionment Bill, and the strict accountability of official agents—who is an open advocate of a Protective Tariff, and a National Institution to give permanency and regularity to our currency—and who is in favor of the distribution of the proceeds of the Public Lands among the States. If such a man be selected, I care not where he lives—whether in Perry, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Juniata or Union.—HE MUST BE ELECTED. Let no paltry notions of his place of birth—or where he may call home, influence any man who values his principles. Let our object as a people be more noble than such as will be gaged by county pride.

The motto of your paper, "One country, one constitution, one destiny,"—should be the guide of every American Freeman.—Local questions have proved the rock on which the people have too often seen their hopes shipwrecked—and if any portion thereof will they be the victims thereof—themselves only.

In conclusion, I trust that our conferees will meet, and among all the many good men they may have before them, they will select that man who will prove most efficient and faithful in the support of such measures as are now known to be the only ones which can bring us out of trouble.—LEONIDAS.

Huntingdon, Aug. 29th 1842.

To the Senatorial Conferees.

MR. CREMER: I am right glad to see a correspondent in your paper giving his views and wishes upon the subject of our next Senator. It is the true republican plan, and I should like to see it become general. I differ however from "Justice" as to the claims of the counties. Mifflin county has not had a Senator since she has formed a part of this district. If that gives any claim, she at least possesses the same as Perry; and among her citizens there is one whose merits I should like to have brought before the conference. I allude to SHEM ZOOK. Mr. Zook is a plain, unpretending, practical man, possessed of a sound and discriminating mind, whose knowledge of the situation of our affairs of government, and whose practical knowledge of their unfortunate effects upon the farming interest, cannot but render him a useful and efficient member of our State Senate. By giving the above an insertion you will oblige a friend to the cause of the people.

The true patriot exhibits his love of country by administering to the comfort and happiness of the community in which he resides. He who discovers and makes known the means of preserving the health, and consequently the happiness of his fellow citizens, evinces as much patriotism as the general who meets and conquers an invading foe. But what is he who joins the invader's rank, or spreads disease and death among the people? A traitor! Dr. Brandreth has discovered a medicine called Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills, which has proved a blessing to the people. But Druggists have joined the enemy's ranks by counterfeiting these Pills, and are selling poisonous drugs in their name; there fore buy not of them, they cannot be genuine.

Purchase them in Huntingdon of WM. STEWART, and only of Agents published in another part of this paper.

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD has been offered for months, to any one who will use a bottle of Hays' Linctus for the Cough without being cured. Of thousands sold, no one instance has it failed. Sold everywhere to be had.

June 8, 1842. THOS. READ, Huntingdon, and JACOB SNYDER, Hollidaysburg.

RHEUMATISM AND GOUT.—We have the affidavit of Judge Fitch of Columbia, that the present proprietors have just given $200 cash for the Indian Vegetable Elixer—which may now be had of Constock & Co. and may warrant that internally, with Hews' Nerve and Bone Linctus externally, to cure any case of Rheumatism or Gout, and will live strictly to the warrant, to return the price, if the directions are followed and the cure is not made. Some most remarkable cures have just been made, and none afflicted should fail to avail themselves of those remedies, especially on these terms. The respectable Drug house warranting these articles, would never lend the sanction of their names to any thing of the kind, unless satisfied of its utility.—A. Y. Evening Post.

DIED.

On Sunday, August 28th, Mrs. MARGARETTA T. PRICE, wife of Joseph Price, and daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth Read, of this Borough, aged 19 years and 7 months.

Communicated.
"Leaves have their time to fall,
And flowers to wither at the north wind's breath,
And stars to set—but all
Thou hast, all seasons for thine own, oh! death."

How sensitively do the words of the poetess touch the heart, as we notice this victim to that insatiate archer. But a few days have passed, since the cheerful eye and happy smile of the deceased gladdened the gay circle of her friends, at her own bridal. Alas! how changed! Ere her budding hopes had blossomed, the garlands of the bride gave place to the habiliments of the tomb—the hopes of life to the realities of death—and the laugh of joy to the sigh and tear of mourning. Throughout a lingering illness, with christian meekness and resignation she said, "not my will but Thine be done." Confident in the redeeming blood of the Saviour, she left the cares of this world, calmly relying on the hope set before us. As she lived beloved, she has died mourned by a large circle of companions and friends.

"Go, all undimmed, in thy glory go!
Young and crowned bride of death;
Take hence to heaven
Thy holy thoughts and bright,
And soaring hopes, that were not given
For the touch of mortal blight!
Might we follow in thy track,
This parting should not be!
But the Spring shall give us violets back,
And every flower—but thee!" B.
