rent, keep his clothes whole? Not a parbanks—we have got free trade, and we have come down to the real specie basis. So tar, we have come down to the real specie basis. So tar, we have come down to the real specie basis. So tar, we have conquered—we have won the battle. Now, then, let us see what is the cost of our victory. In the first place, all wages must come down, or, I may say, in truth, have come down—there is not alboring man of my acquaintance, far or near, that has not been cut down already. But this is a small part of the matter—three-fourths of us connot get employment at any wages! And then our wives and daughters, who used to get work and help us along—they are all out. My old woman, used to work for one of the Bank Artistocrats, and did his lenen up at seventy-five cents a dozen. She would have some five or six dozen of them a week, all cash. Then my daughter Nancy worked for a large hatting establishment, also one of the Bank Whigs, and used to get her three dollars and a quarter a week—cash down from there, too every Saturday night.—

Tent, keep his doll of it. "Well," said I, "the power have done of it. "Well," said I, "the power have conquered—we have won that pulled down can bill up. We had a good tartied of it. "Well," said I, "the power have we wanted, and good these, we had plenty of gold and silver, we had as much work as we wanted, as good Tarties, Records, Besters, Records, Besters, Records, Besters, Records, Besters, Records, Dead Books, Day Books, Ledgers, Journals, Check Rolls, Memorand, and So extended with match they are preferred to every devery description, such as Docksts, Records, Deed Books, Day Books, Ledgers, Journals, Check Rolls, Memorand, and the wind blev furiously, and the ways threat end to swallow the vessel, have a sale as a selection of Journals, Check Rolls, Memorand and the wind blev furiously, and the was alleady to get with the preferred to devery the Bank Whigs, and used to get her three dollars and a quarter a week —cash down from there, too every Saturday night.— We had a merry time of it—no trouble to pay our rent, but on Sunday we were all brave in our new clothes, and our Nancy was a fine lady! The young house carpenter, who was just out of his time, used to come and go with us to church, and he talked of building a nice house and all to come and go with us to church, and he talked of building a nice house, and all things looked fine for us. Well, now the victory has taken all things from us. I am afraid we have not only pulled down the Bank, but we have fallen under it.—
It is a sad change that come over us—and so sudden, too. Pour Nancy came home it crying the other day, just as I got home. It will be to the day, just as I got home. I'we will be to the day, got and I. "Why, father," said she, "my employer has sent me home. He discharged all the girls in the shop to day, and until they get a new bank, he cannot go on." With that I heard another sigh in the room, and there stood the old woman with that I heard another sigh in the room, and there stood the old woman wiping her eyes. "Why, Betsy," says I, "what's the use? I dare say the mill will go again." "No, no," says she; "the very best gentleman, the kindest hearted man I ever saw, that I worked for, has man I ever saw, that I worked for, has failed—he paid me his last to day, and God knows where I shall now find another paymaster after him." Well, so it was. Neither of them reproached me, but I felt a sort of convicted—they were both good souls and too kind for that. Well, in walks my particular friend, neighbor Talkfast, the patriot. I reekon he got snatched. He began in the old way, to talk about banks, and bank thieves, and great rogues, and all that; but the old woman took him short. "You may talk of rogues as much as you please," said she: rogues as much as you please," said she;
"buttell me who took the bread out of my children's mouths? You can be a fine politician, and walk down to Chesnut street every day, and let your poor wife stand in the market, selling her little things, to keep a house over your head; but my husband is an industrious man, and wants work and to lay up a little for whenhe gets old. Can your specie folks find him work?" Now this was as an old sailor of my acquaintance used to say, giving him a shot between wind and water. Neighbor pulled his hat over his head and walked Spanish, I tell you : and I sat down as quiet as a lamb, and began to think the thing over. Says I, "old woman get me out the pen, ink and paper, and I'll try and mend it." With that, her face brigh-Livingston Ploughs,

COUGHS & COLDS

These very distressing complaints often ead into CONSUMPTION through ne glect at the first attack. I would therefore advise those whose cough begins to become troublesome, and the Expectoration scanty, with more or less soreness of the throat, difficult raising of phlegm, &c. that they sho'd immediately apply for a suitable medicine, which is Dr. DUNCAN'S EXPECTORANT Remedy for Consumption, &c. This medicine I have found in every instance to remove those unpleasant annoyances in a few days. One single bottle will in most cases, prove this assertion. Therefore, you who wish to escape the early seeds of Consumption, avail yourselvet of this opportunity, and again enjoy the blessings of health.
