SENATE. Thursday, Jan. 19, 1843.

Several petitions of a local and private character were presented.

Mr. Penniman one for the abolishment of capital punishment.

On motion of Mr. Bigler, the Senate went into the consideration of a bill providing for the payment of the laborers employed on the public improvements, by the Superintendents. Considerable discussion was had on this bill. It was opposed on the ground that laws had already passed making a pro rata distribution of the funds in the Treasury among all the domestic creditors. The friends of the bill however, contended that this did not apply to persons employed by Superintendents to keep the public works in repair. The bill was finally referred to the Committee on Internal Improvements. On motion of Mr. Mothers, the Senate confirmed the nomination of Joseph Kyle of Millin county, as an Associate Judge. On motion of Mr. Stewart, John Findley of Mercer county, was also confirmed as an Associate Judge of Mercer county. The nomination of Benj. Adams as Associate Judge of Beaver county was taken up. Some opposition was made to the confirmation, and the consideration of the nomination was postponed until Tuesday next.

A communication was received from the Governor, stating that Jacob W. Smith declined accepting the nomination of Associate Judge of Schuylkill county, and nominating Joseph Stillwell in his place.

Mr. Darsie offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling on the Attorney General for information in relation to the suit brought by the Commonwealth against Frederick Fritz, for the amount of his defalcation as Collector of tolls on the Philadelphia and Columbia Railroad.

Mr. Tustin, one from Philadelphia for the abolition of capital punishment.

Mr. Hebner, one from Schuylkill, for repeal of the law abolishing imprisonment for debt.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the State Treasurer in relation to the exchange of State stock for stock owned by the state in Corporations.

Mr. Lowry again moved that the House proceed to the election of printers; which was negatived.—Yeas 34—Nays 64.

Mr. Hinchman submitted a resolution, calling upon the Canal Commissioners to report the number of officers employed on the canals and railways, and the amount of compensation paid to each; which was agreed to.

The amendment of the Senate to the bill to regulate the printing, were considered and adopted without alteration. This bill now only awaits the sanction of the Governor to become a law.

Adjourned.

Executive Hypocrisy. If any one acquainted with the course of Gov. Porter doubts his practice of gross hypocrisy, let him read the following extract from his late message, and reflect that at the time he was adopting that document, he was probably engaged in sending out previous pardons, to wrest criminals from the grasp of the law. He says: "The tendency of public opinion, for a number of years past, has gradually been to weaken and relax the exertions of the criminal laws. This morbid feeling has even reached jurors, and other functionaries engaged in the administration of criminal justice, so that it is not an unusual spectacle to see courts and juries convict and sentence on the clearest testimony a criminal on one day, and recommend his pardon to the executive the next. These appeals thus sustained, address themselves with great force to the magistrate entrusted with the power of pardoning offenders, and it is not to be disguised, that unless some check be put upon it, it will, in the end, lead to great injustice and abuse."

By the above the Governor desires to cast the blame of his pardons of convicted criminals upon the Judges and Jurors; but he does not attempt to throw off the responsibility of pardoning knaves and criminals equally guilty before trial!—Are we left to infer that his course in this respect proceeds from sympathy? Is it from a "fellow feeling" that he snatches criminals from the clutches of the law, and shields them from its penalties. If not, we cannot infer what apology the Governor can give for interfering before trial when neither Judge, Jury, or People are consulted.—Har. Telegraph.

"Well! Court week is over, and the way we've taken in rags and muskrat skins is a caution. We also took in a goose and would have eaten it too, if the constable hadn't loved upon it. Bring 'em in the night, friends, & round the back way!"

They eat dogs in the Sandwich Islands. A fine fat barker, for the table, is worth from ten to twenty dollars, and holds the same place there, in culinary estimation, that roast beef, or a good sized roasted grunter does here. Puppies are also served up for the table, and are preferred to kid or lamb. But this last will hardly be considered a novelty; for we often see it in our own country. Indeed we should not be surprised if puppies were to be found at some tables at Harrisburg, at least during the legislative session.—Har. Telegraph.

O'CONNEL AND DICKENS.—A letter from Daniel O'Connell is published in the Liberator Advocate, in which Dickens is assailed in unmeasured terms. O'Connell calls him a miserable, drivelling, scribbling aristocrat of the worst order, and accuses him of being avaricious to meanness; and applies the lash to the ladies and gentlemen in the Atlantic cities who made moustebanks and fools of themselves, by "sucking his button holes, and pulling his coat tail." In conclusion, he terms him a renegade tory, travelling for his own private purposes of lucre and gain.

A New York paper gives the following hit at the abuses of petitioning: "A wag in Albany made a bet that he could get 500 signatures to a petition to hang a venerable Episcopal Clergyman in that city. He wrote in a fair hand a long petition, too long for any body to take the trouble to read, and succeeded in getting the requisite number in a single morning."
