

The question recurring shall the main question be now put? It was decided in the affirmative, yeas 19, nays 14, and the resolution passed second reading by the following vote. Yeas 23, nays 4.

The resolution now coming up for final passage, a motion was made by Mr. Champneys, again to go into committee of the whole for the purpose of amendment. The amendments were submitted and read after some debate, the subject was postponed for the purpose of having the amendments printed.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.
To day, Mr. Hancock, from the county of Philadelphia, submitted a joint resolution directing the Attorney General to procure a writ of Quo warranto against young Mr. Porter, Sheriff of the county of Philadelphia, to ascertain his right legally to act as Sheriff. This is a very proper movement. If Mr. P. is not legally the Sheriff he is endangering the safety of property to the amount of millions.

The infamous bill districting the State for members of Congress reported by Mr. Elwell was negated in committee of the whole, and the House sustained a report to that effect 50 to 46.
This is a quietus to that infamous bill.

SENATE.
Wednesday, Jan. 25, 1843.
On motion of Mr. Pennington, the Apportionment bill, dividing the state into Congressional districts, was taken up.
The bill passed committee and was taken up on second reading but was subsequently postponed, without any progress having been made.

On motion of Mr. Crabb, the bill to abolish the Court of General Sessions was taken up. It was immediately taken out of committee and came up on second reading. The first section passed when the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.
Mr. Deford reported a Congressional Apportionment bill. A motion was made to make it the order of to-morrow. This was objected to and Saturday was named. It was decided to make it the order for Saturday next.

The bill reducing the number of Canal Commissioners and providing for their election by the legislature, and for the curtailment of the expenses of the Canal board, then came up in order. On motion of Mr. Roumfort, the first section was so amended as to make the election of Commissioners take place 10 days after its passage, and the section as amended was adopted.

A debate sprung up on a resolution made by Mr. Lowry to amend the third section, to the effect, that no officer appointed by the Canal Commissioners, shall receive pay for more than one office at one time. After this amendment had been somewhat modified, on the suggestion of Mr. Hinchman it was adopted.

SENATE.
Thursday, Jan. 26, 1843.
Mr. McCully from the Committee on Finance, reported the resolutions for cancelling the relief notes, with amendments.
The report provides for cancelling $100,000 on the 31st inst. and $100,000 on the first day of March and every month thereafter, until the whole issue of relief notes are destroyed.

Harrisburg, Jan. 29, 1843.
T. H. CREMER, Esq.
DEAR SIR:—The House of Representatives have rejected the districting bill prepared by the committee of the House. The Senate bill was then tried and also rejected. Then Deford's bill came up for debate—many amendments were offered—much debate and some asperity was exhibited. The previous question was called, carried and the bill has just passed the House by a majority of three or four. It is not probable in my opinion that it will pass the Senate—In it our district is composed of Huntingdon, Centre, Mifflin and Clinton, not quite so bad as the committee's bill. It will not be possible to get the Executive sanction to a law that will do better for us.

Very respectfully yours, &c.
Oregon Territory.
The Oregon Territory, as claimed by the United States, extends from the Rocky Mountains west of the Pacific Ocean, and from the 42d degree of north latitude to the parallel of 45 degrees and 40 minutes. It contains within its limits some six hundred thousand square miles—an extent of territory greater than one-fourth of the whole area of the United States. To give some adequate idea of the immense country thus embraced, it is only necessary to state that it exceeds in size the united territory of the nineteen states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Tennessee; and is nearly five times as great as the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. It possesses a rich and fertile soil, and an agreeable climate; is well watered by noble streams, and has a sea coast on the Pacific ocean of nearly a thousand miles in length—about equal to the Atlantic coast from Boston to Savannah. From the 42d to the 49th parallel latitude, the claim of the United States does not admit of question; and by treaty with Russia, the north line is fixed at 54 degrees and 40 minutes, so far as that power is concerned.

The Black Tongue.
A fearful epidemic prevails in the vicinity of Bailston, N. Y., of which many persons have died. A correspondent of the Boston Mail, writing of the disease says:—"It sometimes commences with a swelling of the gland of the throat, but more generally, I believe with a soreness at the lower extremity or roots of the tongue. The tongue soon becomes swelled to an enormous size, and, unless soon relieved, begins to turn black, very nearly resembling mortification, which soon causes death. I believe there has been scarcely a case where a person survived the disease, after the blackness began to set in upon the tongue."

FASHIONS FOR JANUARY.—Ear drops are much worn by the ladies, and drops at the nose by small children. Cardinals are more in fashion than the cardinal virtues. Dresses are now made fuller behind than we ever saw them before, and it is quite a pleasant morning's excursion to circumnavigate a full bellie. Sacks are the walking costume of the gentlemen—whether given to them by the ladies or not, we cannot say. Gentlemen's boots are now made too small for the feet—so much so that in some cases the toes peep thro' them. Feathers and jewels are much in vogue, and much credit is given to the ladies for their taste in these particulars. Thin shoes for walking are an article of general consumption with our young misses.

"THE KEYSTONE."—It was the eloquence of Henry Clay, that called Pennsylvania the "Keystone of the federal Arch." She has worn the name in triumph, given by a political opponent; while the locos have spoken of her disrespectfully and felt an assurance that she would always go "without greasing," when the party reins were placed upon her.

THE GEORGIA ELECTION.—The Whig majority in this State at the recent election will reach 4000 votes! A pretty good beginning for New Year's Day—the election having been held on Monday the 2nd inst. If Miller will be good enough to put off the end of the world one year longer, the way we will flog the Loco Focos will be a small caution to them through-out eternity! By the way, the Loco Focos have not heard a word from this election—judging from the expressive silence of their newspapers. Perhaps the poor dear souls are afraid of frightening Amos KENDALL's children again!—York Republican.

A NAUGHTY RASCAL.—President Houston, of Texas, is accused of corresponding clandestinely with Mexico, misappropriating the public funds, parloing sundry acts of Legislature, appropriating 100,000 acres of land, &c. Grave misdeeds in some countries!—Spirit of the Times.

Will the times tell us how much President Houston,—supposing these charges to be true—is worse than "lumber speculators" in Pennsylvania!—Har. Tel.
"Great cry and little wool," as the Devil said, when he shaved the pig.

A NEW READING.—A Descor not remarkable for good eye sight, once in giving out a Psalm, for the congregation to sing, when he came to the lines:
"The Eastern sages shall come in,
With messages of grace,"
put the audience into a roar of laughter, by calling out in a loud voice,
"The Eastern Sages shall come in
With sausages and grease."

AWFUL.—There are said to be two Scripture proofs that females do not go to Heaven! First, [Rev. xii, 1] "And there appeared a great wonder in heaven:—lo! a woman!" Second, [ib, viii, 1] "There was silence in heaven for the space of half an hour!"

It is said that Jersey girls and Jersey horses are very unlike—for a wonder! The horses are shy, skittish, and hard to catch—the girls are tame as kittens and bold as lions. They flock round a fellow like sheep round a salt trough, and can't be driven off with clubs. The New York Morning Chronicle said that.

MARRIED.
On Sunday evening the 29th January inst., by F. B. Wallace, Esq. Mr. JAMES CLARK, to Miss ROSANNA HASKINS, all of Huntingdon county.

Recently, by the Rev. Mr. Satterfield, Mr. JAMES ROBINSON, of Frankstown township, Huntingdon county, to Miss ELIZABETH CANAN, of Mercer county, Pa.
On Tuesday the 17th inst., by the Rev. Wm. J. Gibson, Mr. DAVID ARMSTRONG, of Blair township, to Miss MARGARET ROBINSON, of Frankstown township.
At Milton on Thursday the 12th inst., by the Rev. George Hildt, J. W. WRIGHT, M. D., of Williamsburg, Huntingdon co. Pa., to Miss ANNA MATTHEA GRIER, of the former place.

DIED.
On Wednesday the 11th inst., JOSEPH S., son of John Buel, of Hollidaysburg—aged 18 months and 18 days.
