

The "Bargain and Sale."

The Philadelphia North American says there is no doubt of a coalition having taken place between the birds of a feather, our worthy Governor David R. Porter, and our no less worthy President John Tyler. It is an alliance of mutual benefit. Our Governor's brother, James Madison Porter becomes Secretary of War, and our Governor's friend Calvin Blythe becomes collector of the port of Philadelphia; for and in consideration of which and other little matters, our Governor promises to secure to our President the nomination of Pennsylvania, in a "Democratic" National Convention, and the vote of that nicely managed and convenient State in the presidential contest.

But then there are some very captious and querulous fellows, who will never let nice plans slip along easily and quietly, but will be always thrusting their own obstinate wants and wishes in the way, who not having been made parties to this contract, look very dubious and disagreeable at its results. They seem to be of opinion that our Governor is not going to manage this matter so very easily as he supposed, and that Pennsylvania "Democracy" has been so long led by the nose, that it feels disposed to try how it can get along by following that organ of its own accord.

So these contumacious persons have got together and decided that a certain Mr. Henry A. Mullenburg is a very honest and capable person, who will make a very good Governor, and therefore, say they, Governor he shall be in spite of David R. Porter and John Tyler; and then there is a certain Martin Van Buren whom they think will make a much more "democratic" President than the aforesaid John Tyler, and they think that Pennsylvania will be obstinate enough to give him her vote, all the hems and haws of the Porters and Tylers to the contrary notwithstanding.

These rebellious wights think it very hard that so good a berth as the Collectorship should have been given to Mr. Calvin Blythe, when so excellent a democrat as General Keim, a native of Philadelphia and backed by 10,000 good Pennsylvania democratic names, was an applicant for the office. They think it is paying poor compliments to the democracy of Philadelphia, that one out of their number should not have been chosen to fill one of the best offices in the gift of the government, located in their own city.

Such is the condition of things in the great Democratic hybrid party in Pennsylvania, as disinterested spectators can look on the more composedly as we are certain this must end in some change in our State Administration, which, whatever its character, cannot fail to be for the better, for it could not possibly be for the worse.

APPOINTMENT BY THE POST MASTER GENERAL.—John A. Hall, Postmaster at this place in place of Amory Moore removed.

This is another specimen of Tylerism. Mr. Hall held this office when the present administration came into power. It had been in the family of the Halls for about twelve years. Mr. Moore was appointed by Mr. Granger on nearly unanimous recommendation of the Whig party here. He has discharged the duties with promptness and fidelity, and to the entire satisfaction of all parties, so far as we know or believe. Some three or four weeks ago it was reported that an effort was making to remove him. A petition was immediately circulated for his continuance, and remonstrance against the appointment of Mr. Hall, who on his removal cursed the Administration—declared he would not hold an office under it, and removed to the State of New York, where he has lived ever since. In less than half a day about ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY names were signed to the petition for Mr. Moore, without distinction of party, besides strong recommendations from most of the business men of the place, but all would not do. Locofocoism must have a subservient tool, even if it should be imported from the State of New York. We do not envy the new Postmaster his situation.—[Warren Pa. Monitor.]

PORTER'S LAST VETO.—Pennsylvania is thoroughly disgraced in the person of her Executive. The people of the other States of the Union look on appalled at the extent to which he has allowed his vile political predilections to carry him, and are speaking of him in the most unmeasured terms of condemnation and utter contempt. As a specimen of how low he has fallen in the public estimation abroad, we clip the following extracts:

From the New York Tribune.
"This (the veto) is a proclamation of profligacy—a bold barefaced avowal of party baseness, of which no other Governor in the Union could have been guilty!"

From the Baltimore Clipper.
"The bill which the Governor has vetoed was passed by his political friends; but because he thinks the State could be distracted more advantageously for his party he rejects the bill. Had such a man the power to hang his political opponents without trial, he would be apt to exercise it if he could thereby promote party objects. We hold such intolerance in utter abhorrence, and despite the man who would be guilty of it."

We are glad to learn from the papers of Philadelphia, that business is becoming brisk in that city, and shows a fair prospect for a good spring trade.

A PARAGON.—Benjamin D. White, recently convicted at Le Roy, Genesee co., N. Y., of the murder of his father, has been sentenced to be hung on the 29th day of April next. The father was a pious man, and the son a Deist. After his conviction, White made a long rambling address to the Court, in abuse of Christianity and his deceased father, whose murder he confessed. He manifested no penitence and was anxious only that a narrative he has written in support of Deism, should be published.

THE NEW GAME.—After trying two years what could be done with the whig party, by giving them some of the offices of the Government, and finding that the party was incorruptible, and could not be Tylerized, the Administration commences its new game, by attempting the same scheme with the locofoco party, hoping for better success in that quarter. But the indications are any thing but favorable. The appointment of Mr. Porter, for instance, as Secretary of War, is denounced by the Locofoco papers of Pennsylvania, as a base scheme to distract and divide the Democracy of the State; but which will nevertheless, utterly fail in its intended effect.—[Alex. V. Gazette.]

VELVET CARPETS.—This article is made on a similar principle to "velvet paper hangings," with which most people are familiar. The base is of a cheap and strong cotton sheeting. The figures are formed of old woollen cloths of various colors ground up fine, and secured to the base by a strong copal cement. The rich and elegant figures are rapidly formed by a peculiar process and operation of machinery. This carpet is calculated to be very durable, and will come into market cheaper than any other kind of handsome floors.—[English paper.]

THE TRIUMPH OF CHRISTIANITY.—It is somewhat singular fact, says the Newark Advertiser, "that the property purchased by Gibbons in Switzerland, with the profits of his history of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, has fallen into the hands of a gentleman who expends a large sum annually to the promulgation of the very gospel which his predecessor insidiously endeavoured to undermine; and that the press employed by Voltaire at Ferney for printing his blasphemies, is now used in Geneva in printing the Holy Scriptures."

GOV. CASS AND HIS DOCTRINES.—A letter from Gov. Cass is published in the Detroit Gazette, in which he announces himself as a candidate for the Presidency, and desires his name to go before the locofoco National Convention. In this letter he says he is opposed to a National Bank—deems it the duty of the Government "to afford incidental protection to those branches of American industry which require it," and opposed to the distribution of Public Lands; in favor the general principles of the loco loco party.

PRACTICAL MILLERISM.—Extract of a letter from Portsmouth, N. H.
"You probably have heard of the death of your old acquaintance John H. Shortridge. He was in haste for the coming of our Saviour, and being a full believer in the doctrines of Miller, mounted a high tree with his ascension robes on, and attempted to make a flight to Heaven, but landed on the earth and broke his neck."
"John Tilton was something similar in his career. He always believed he could fly, and undertook it one day from a barn top, and soon reached a dung heap much bruised. Tilton said the flying was pleasant; it was only the lighting hurt him."

A GOOD MEMORIAL.—A memorial to the Legislature is being circulated in Philadelphia, asking for the passage of a law to prevent such persons as make assignment of their property, from preferring some creditors to the exclusion of others. The repeal of the Bankrupt Law will no doubt revive this pernicious practice unless checked at once by proper legislation.

THE WORKINGS OF CONSCIENCE.—Mr. Peter Haldeman, of Columbia, a few days since received the following note:
SIR:—When I was a boy I was in your store and saw a Hymn Book which pleased me, and I took it, not knowing, in a measure, what I was doing and that restitution must be made for such things. I now send you 62½ cents for the Book because I wish to make my way to Heaven.

APPREHENDED.—The St. Louis Republican says: Orin Porter Rockwell, the Mormon who has been accused of being the person who attempted to assassinate Ex-Governor Boggs last fall, was apprehended on board of a steamboat at the wharf, and committed to jail. He will now have to stand his trial.

SHAD, MELLONS AND SNOW.—The Forum says, we observed several large ripe watermelons lying in the snow yesterday morning on board the brig R. F. Loper, brought from Pernambuco by Captain Sheed. Mellons and snow are seldom seen together, and our markets are well stocked with shad.

HARD TIMES.—There being no funds in the treasury at the time of the recent adjournment of the Legislature of Maryland, certificates of indebtedness were given to some of the members, who, per force, were compelled to borrow money in order to get home.

President Durbin, of Dickinson College, and John Tappan, Esq., of Boston have been appointed Delegates to represent the American Bible Society in the next anniversary of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

NEWS-PAPER WR.—Married.—In Gettysburg, Mr. George Mouse to Miss Ann Humor.
The "Picayune" calls this a humorous instance of mouse catching! and the "Star" thinks it will be much funnier when the little b-rats begin to squeal.

COUNTERFEIT COIN.—Ten-cent pieces, of German silver, are in extensive circulation; shop-keepers and others should be on their guard, as they are executed in a manner well calculated to deceive the most careful person.

A WHAPPER.—That Comet with the long tail, it is said, now turns out to be nothing more than Venus with rather an extraordinary bustle on.

TEMPERANCE TAVERNS.—The Legislature of N. York have passed a bill authorizing the granting of license to keep tavern, without including the authority to sell spirituous liquors.

CRUEL VETO.—Gov. Chambers of Iowa, has vetoed a bill divorcing 19 couple, which passed the legislative council of that territory.

The trial of Mercer for the murder of Heberton, was to commence at Woodbury, N. J., on the 21st inst.

The papers state that upwards of two thousand persons have recently become professors of religion at Albany.

Gov. Hubbard, of New Hampshire, has been re-elected by a very small majority.

On Friday, the 17th inst., near York, Theodore, infant son of Abraham and Justina Cremer, aged 9 months, 3 weeks, and 5 days.

"Yes! thou art fled, ere guilt had power To stain thy cherub soul and form, Closed is the soft ephemeral flower, That never felt a storm!"

"Thou wert so like a form of light, That Heaven benignly called thee hence, Ere yet the world could breathe one blight O'er thy sweet innocence."

TEMPERANCE.
A Bible Temperance Meeting will be held on Tuesday, the 11th day of April next, at the Old Court House, in the borough of Huntingdon on by the advocates of Bible Temperance.
March 29, 1843.

Temperance onward!
The Washington Total Abstinence Society of Hollidaysburg, intend holding a Mass Meeting in Hollidaysburg, on Wednesday the 5th day of April next, to commence at 11 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of celebrating the anniversary of the day on which the Washington Banner was set afloat in Baltimore. Several speakers are expected from a distance. We invite all who are friendly or unfriendly to the cause to attend. Attend Washingtonians, attend Martha Washingtonians.

Temperance Ladies and Gentlemen of the old Society attend, "our aims are one." Manufacturers and retailers of alcohol attend, we are not your enemies, your business is your enemy, and has been our enemy, quit it or you will see the day that it will "sting like a serpent and bite like an adder."

Drinkers of the poison—temperate and intemperate attend, "come with us and we will do thee good." Neighboring Societies from Huntingdon county and the adjoining counties, send us help, send your committee's, send your speak'rs and let our watchword be onward, until the smoke of a distillery and the breath of a drunkard shall no longer pollute our atmosphere.

By order of the Executive Committee.

HENRY L. ELDER,
No. 493 Market Street, above 13th No. 14 side, Philadelphia.
HAVING reduced his prices of Hardware to the lowest rates for cash, and in his advertisements, named some of the articles with the prices annexed, he finds that others in the same line of business have offered those particular articles at the same prices, saying they sell as low as Elder. Now the object of this card is to invite purchasers to ascertain the lowest prices for which they can purchase every description of Hardware elsewhere, and then enquire at his store, and they will be convinced that he is selling all his goods at similar low prices, and that he is doing what he professes to do—buying only for cash, and selling only for cash—which enables him to do business at such rates as cannot fail to make his Store the depot for those who wish to get the most for their money.
He has added to his large stock of Hardware a complete assortment of window glass, which he will sell at a scale of prices corresponding with the reduced prices of his Nails, Sythes, and Hardware generally, at wholesale and retail.
