

THE HUNTINGDON JOURNAL.

Huntingdon, April 12, 1843.

"One country, one constitution, one destiny."

V. B. PALMER, Esq. (No. 104 S. 3rd St. Philadelphia,) is authorized to act as Agent for this paper, to procure subscriptions and advertisements.

"FRIENDSHIP'S OFFERING."—Whoever borrowed this "Annual" for the year 1836, from a person in this Borough, is requested to return it to the owner, or to this office, if the owner is unknown. Huntingdon, April 12, 1843.—ff.

We are informed that for some time past very few if any public documents have been at the disposal of the Members of the Legislature. This statement we consider due to our members as an explanation to their constituents, some of whom may have considered themselves neglected.

Mercer's Trial.

A great portion of to-day's paper is occupied with this highly interesting trial. The remainder of it will be given next week. Our readers will no doubt be pleased to hear that the jury, after a retirement of about twenty-five minutes, returned into Court with a verdict of "NOT GUILTY." Mercer is again with his friends in Philadelphia.

Commander Mackenzie.

The New York Express says:—It is said a letter has been received from Washington stating that Commander Mackenzie is acquitted, and that the President has approved it.

Special Military Election.

At a special election held in this Borough, on Saturday last, to fill the vacancy in the office of Major, occasioned by the resignation of W. B. Ziegler, DAVID M'CURTAIN, Jr. (of Jas.) was elected.

The Norristown Free Press came to us last week enlarged and improved. Mr. REDDILL, the editor, has sold an interest in the paper to Mr. WILLIAM BURKE, who will hereafter be associate editor.

Mr. M'ROBERTS, United States Senator from Illinois, died, recently, at Cincinnati. He was on his way home from Washington, after the adjournment of Congress.

From Harrisburg.

CANAL COMMISSIONERS BILL.—Our "Democratic" Governor has vetoed this democratic measure. On Tuesday, the 4th inst., the vote was taken on the final passage of the bill, and resulted as follows—yeas 57, nays 50. It requiring a vote of two thirds to carry a bill when it is vetoed, this was lost by one vote.—One Whig, Foreman, from Lancaster, voted to sustain the veto. Had he been faithful to his constituents, the bill would have passed by the constitutional vote.

Immediately after the vote was taken on the vetoed bill, Mr. Heckman submitted a new bill, being precisely similar to the bill vetoed, with the exception of the second section, providing for the election by the Legislature. Several amendments were offered, all of which were voted down, when the bill passed by a vote of 23 to 1. Mr. Karns, of Allegheny, alone voting against it. The next day it was taken up in the Senate; and, after considerable debate, passed by a vote of 22 to 2. It is now in the hands of the Governor.

BRIBERY AND IMPEACHMENT.—Pennsylvania is again disgraced by her high officers attempting to bribe her legislators.—While the Canal Commissioners Bill and the veto thereof were under consideration, William Overfield, one of the Board of Canal Commissioners, offered JACOB HILL, a member of the House of Representatives from Armstrong county, an appointment to an office with a salary of $800 00 or $1000 00 if he would sustain the veto.—Mr. Hill declared this to the House, whereupon a Committee was appointed to investigate the matter. When put upon oath before the Committee, he declared that "William Overfield said to him that the Legislature had got them (the Commissioners) into a tight place, and if he would help them out and sustain the veto he should have an appointment for himself, or for any one he would ask it for." The House passed a resolution for the appointment of a Committee to prefer Articles of Impeachment against him. The Senate will probably feel itself bound to give Mr. Overfield his walking papers.—We have no doubt but bribery was attempted in other quarters, and more successfully.

STATE PRINTERSHIP.—In pursuance of the law of the present session, the Legislature proceeded to the election of State Printers—one for the English and one for the German printing. Three ballots were had, at neither of which a majority of votes were cast for any one candidate.—There was much interest manifested during these proceedings; and if we had more room we should give a more extended notice of them. A supplement to the act has since been passed, giving the printing and binding to the lowest bidder for a term of three years, with surties in $10,000 for the faithful performance of the work. The supplemental bill is now in the hands of the "Veto-King." Perhaps he will veto the bill and ask to have the appointing of State Printers in his own dear democratic hands.

THE KEYSTONE TURNED AGAINST PORTER.—Among the many exciting movements at Harrisburg, it is proper to notice a strange, sudden, and unexpected summer of the Keystone, hitherto the mouth-piece of the Governor, ready to defend and whitewash him at all times and under all circumstances, so that it earned for itself the name of the "Kickapoo Organ." In a long leading article it says: "We have sacrificed much in the honest conviction that we were doing right in sustaining the present state administration, and as proof, that we have sustained it ardently and zealously, we need but refer to the columns of our paper during the last four years. We shall continue to support that administration in all its democratic measures, but we will repel all efforts to make the columns of the Keystone team with TYLERISM! Communications, glowing with the beauty and power and majesty and glory of JOSE TYLER, have been presented to us in manuscript, directly from the hands of DAVID RITTENHOUSE PORTER, which we felt called upon, by every consideration of duty and of patriotism, to reject from our columns."

This is strong evidence of a "bargain and sale" between David R. Porter and John Tyler. Who can doubt but that our worthy Governor has stipulated to sell his party—body and soul, hoof and horn—to our scarcely less worthy President, for and in consideration of a cabinet appointment for our worthy Governor's worthy brother, James Madison Porter, and for various other little et ceteras?

NEW JUDGES.—On the 4th inst., N. B. ELDRED's nomination as President Judge of the district composed of the counties of Dauphin, Lebanon, Schuylkill and Carbon was confirmed—yeas 24, nays 3. GAYLORD CHURCH, Esq., of Crawford, was nominated to the President Judgeship of the district composed of the counties of Erie, Crawford, Venango, Warren and McKean, vacated by the transfer of N. B. Eldred. The rules were dispensed with, and the nomination confirmed by a vote of 18 to 1.

REFORM AND RETRENCHMENT.—The bill providing for the reduction of salaries of officers, usually called the "reform bill" has passed both branches of the Legislature by large majorities, and is now in the hands of the Governor. This is a bill of great importance, as it will, if permitted to become a law, save the Commonwealth upwards of THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS per annum.

DISGRACEFUL AFFRAY IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.—EXPULSION OF A MEMBER.—IMPEACHMENT &c.

By a letter from Harrisburg, dated 8th April, we learn that while the articles of impeachment preferred against William Overfield were under discussion, a most disgraceful scene was witnessed in the House of Representatives. An article appeared in the State Capitol Gazette, charging M'Gowan and Bacon with selling their votes to J. P. Brawley to sustain the veto of the Canal Commissioners Bill. M'Gowan demanded explanation from Bratton, the editor. Altercation arose. M'Gowan struck Bratton who returned the blow. M'Gowan struck Bratton with a chair. Bratton then fled behind the Speaker's chair, closely pursued by M'Gowan, who, while in pursuit, drew a dirk-knife from his bosom and aimed a blow with all his force, which fortunately struck the shoulder blade and bent the dirk. It was some time before order could be restored in the Hall. A short time after this occurrence, M'Gowan was taken into custody and held to bail in $1000, and the House appointed a Committee to prepare a resolution to expel him.

On Saturday morning last, the Committee to whom the subject was referred, reported to the House articles of impeachment against Wm. Overfield, one of the Canal Commissioners, for attempting to bribe Mr. Hill to sustain the veto of the Canal Commissioners Bill. After some discussion the subject was postponed. The bill authorizing the Banks to issue small notes was taken up in the House on Saturday, and passed second reading.

The following appointments were made for this district at the Baltimore Conference, last month.

Mr. EDITOR:—
For the "Journal."

I am pleased to find that the mental improvement of our youth is beginning to excite some degree of interest among their parents and friends, and that the late "exhibition" of the Society connected with the Academy was well attended. The only thing I regret is, that some B—— in attendance upon that occasion has seen fit to expose his puerility, by a one sided notice of the young lads engaged in the various performances, the consequences of which can only do injury, and needlessly engender bad feeling among the members of a Society whose wholesome restrictions, I am pleased to add, exclude barred boys from any participation in its proceedings. Had the "nice young man" who writes either for office favours, or to court the tender passions by puffing would be relatives, contented himself by giving an unvarnished description of the proceedings of the Society, he might have received the approbation of parents and escaped the scorn of boys; but this would not have answered his purpose.

The erudite and critical D—— talks about "the selection which lads make," and advises them in future not to commit a piece to perform in public or before their Society, "which they do not thoroughly understand, and if they are too young to make a selection their friends should make it for them." As to the pieces selected I presume their teacher should be their judge, and as he is fully capable to do this as well as to defend his conduct in the matter I will leave it to him with the single remark, if the boys did not understand their pieces, they are at least able to read the gospel graduate whose gigantic intellect is engaged in the Herculean task of drawing unjust distinctions between the performances of children. Let me in conclusion advise Mr. "W." with whom it seems "kissing depends upon a quid pro quo," to put himself under the guardianship of his friends, and when next his critical bumps become obstreperous, to submit his performance to their inspection, so that they may understand what he does not.

For the "Journal."

If you "Exchange" with the Telegraph (Harrisburg) why don't you scold in your paper, about the irregular receipt of it at the Huntingdon P. O. There are three numbers now due, and at the same time, since the commencement of the present session of the Legislature, has it been forwarded with that regularity which it ought; and it went do for its proprietor to cast all the blame on the Post Masters, I can tell him.—The texture of the paper, when it does come, denotes its having remained on the Bank too long before it was folded—something wrong in the packing department, and it is very probable, the "Devil" neglects his duty (and that is rather extraordinary) in delivering them at the Post Office.

AN OLD TYPO.

"An Old Typo" wants us to scold our brother of the Telegraph. Scold indeed! No—we would rather "grin and bear" wrongs than redress them by usurping the peculiar prerogative of the old woman of the fish market. The Telegraph came to us as regularly during the present legislative session as could be expected, except when all the mails were irregular on account of bad roads, for which we cannot hold editors responsible.

The Editor of the Boston Post says, all that is necessary for the enjoyment of sausages at breakfast is confidence.

STAY LAWS.—"What do they mean by the 'Stay Law,' the papers are talking about so much?" said a young married lady to her better half the other evening. "It is a law against wearing corsets, my dear." "Well, they may pass it and re-pass it as much as they please, but I'll never give up mine. What business have legislators to meddle with such affairs, I should like to know."

A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER.—It is very probable that the Tremont Theatre in Boston will be converted into a Church, for the accommodation of the congregation worshipping under the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. E. N. Kirk.

CARBON.—This new county is supposed to contain a population of between 8 and 9000. And to have about 2,500 taxables. Mauch Chunk, it is presumed, will be the Seat of Justice.

A FACT.—It is well said by an exchange paper, that some people trouble themselves more about the payment of the debts of the States than they do about their own.
