

the Presidency.

The following, from a Philadelphia paper, is indicative of public opinion on this subject in that city.

"Saturday morning it was known Mercer would return to the city. Anticipating a crowd, his friends thought it advisable to bring him up privately, and hence he accompanied the ladies of the family in a private carriage to Gloucester Point, and thus reached by the war of the Point House, the residence of his lather in Queen street.

In the meantime, the crowd gathered about Walnut street wharf at which the Conden Ferry boat arrives. About 11 o'cloug, the "John Fitch"—the very boat on which, the dreadful tragedy occurred—came to the wharf, having on board not singleton Mercer, but his father, and his five counsel, Massis, Browne, Vroom, Wall, Matlock and sloan. The balcomy in front of Bloodgood's totel was filled with ladies, and amid the matitude below a great number of the softer sex could also be perceived. As the boat couched the shore, one terrific huzzal rent to air, and the gentlemen threw their hats up, and the ladies waved their white handker-chiefs, in the wind. It seemed like soome gala-day, Mr. Mercer, Sr., and the legal gentleman walked through the crowd—Messrs. Vroom and Browne, arm in arm, with heads bare, going in advance. As the boat couched the shore, one terrific huzzal rent to air, and the gentlemen threw their hats up, and the ladies waved their white handker-chiefs,—and the crowd quietly followed in the residence of the shore of the transition of the Legislature, who stabbed Mr. Bratton, except the adjourn on a disportant to the disport of the ladies of the hist ward to the body of the ladies of the ladies of the ladies of the ladies of the ladies, and amid the matitude below the shore of the transition of the ladies of the ladies of the ladies of the ladies, and a mid the matitude below in the special part of the ladies of the ladies of the ladies, and a mid the matitude below in the residuation of the ladies, and a mid the matitude below in the residuation of the ladies

Court of Common Pleas.
On Monday last a jury was empanueled to try the ejectment case of William MeDiritt.
All the other jurors summoned for this week were then discharged.

We believe this is the third time the case of Foster's Executors vs. McDivit has been tried in this Court. It is expected that it will occupy the attention the Court mearly the whole week.

More Fellow feeling.—Dr. John M. Peale (married man) was convicted of the crime of adultery and bastardy at the April Sessions of the Court in Northum berland county; but before seatence passed he was pardoned by Gov. Porter.

Co The Legislature of this State was to adjourn yesterday.

few extra copies on Land, and could not supply all who called on us. The trial commenced on the 28th alt and continued antil the 6th inst., a period of nine days.

The verdict of acquittal seems to meet with universal approbation. It furnishes a terrible example to the unprincipled libertine of how little mercey, and how little sympathy he may expect from a jury of fathers and brothers, after the perpetration of so infamous a crime as that which sealed the fate of Heberton. After the verdict was announced and Mercer discharged, the crowd gathered around the Court-house gave three loog and hearty cheers of approbation.

The following, from a Philadelphia paper, is indicated:

The official report of the Court Martial upon Captain Mackenzie is published.

The official report of the Court Martial upon Captain Mackenzie is published.

The charges against him are merely recapitulated, and are severally under written, "not proven," and it winds up thus: The Court do therefore acquir Commander Alexander S. Mackenzie, of the charges and specifications preferred dant pay a fine of one dollar, costs of proved by the President.

The verdict of the Court has been approved by the President.

Or The Clinton County Whig has been revived by Messrs. W. P. Coulters and J. W. Ross. It is a neat and spirited paper, and supports Henax Clay for the defendant, Messrs. Bell and M'Murtrie.
