

Birth of a Royal Princess.

For Majesty Queen Victoria has graciously given birth to another Princess. This event was made known through the columns of the metropolitan papers on the 25th ult.

Buckingham Palace, April 25. This morning, at four o'clock, the Queen was delivered of a Princess. Judging of what may, by what has occurred, there seems every chance of Mr. O'Connell's wish being gratified, that the Queen should have as many children as his grandmother—two and twenty!

Death of the Duke of Sussex.

The death of the Duke of Sussex, who expired at his apartments at Kensington, on Friday the 21st inst. about half past 12 in the day, has excited more than ordinary attention. For some days previous not the slightest hope was entertained of his recovery, and the fatal termination of his illness, though it excited little surprise, has been productive of an almost universal feeling of regret at his loss. The journals most opposed to the liberal policies of the Duke express the highest respect for his amiable and independent character, and a becoming estimation of his scholarship and attainments.

Robbery of the Public.

For some days past, a notice has been published in the Government papers, by the Secretary of the Treasury, that information had reached that Department, that on the 26th day of July last, a package was made up at the office of the Collector of the Customs, at New Orleans, containing—Treasury Notes of the United States, which has been received at that office, and had been paid and cancelled by writing upon their face, and by a receipt endorsed upon them, which package had not been received at the Treasury; and that it had been ascertained that some of the notes thus paid and cancelled, had been paid into the Custom Houses and to Receivers of Public Moneys, bearing very slight indications, if any, of a prior cancellation, from which it was apprehended that others of the same description might be in circulation, &c.

We now learn from the New Orleans 'Tropic,' of the 1st inst., that the amount of Treasury Notes contained in the package above referred to, was one hundred and thirty thousand dollars; that enough has transpired of the facts ascertained in an investigation made by an agent sent to New Orleans from the Treasury for that purpose, to render it quite certain that the money did not leave the city of New Orleans; and that the records show that some of the identical notes comprising that package have again been received in payment there, and forwarded to Washington!

The guilt of this extensive robbery rests at present between the Custom House and the Post Office at New Orleans; not that any officers of either should be presumed guilty until proved to be so—but it is certain that the robbery can only have been perpetrated, as the 'Tropic,' says, by some person or persons familiar with the mode of conducting business in those establishments.—Nat. Intelligencer.

England, France and U. S.

The New York Herald says: "About the month of August it is expected that the British Cabinet will send over Lord Brougham and Sir John Macgregor, of the Colonial Department, as commissioners for arranging the terms of a new commercial treaty. On their arrival Captain Tyler intends to appoint Daniel Webster and John C. Calhoun, Commissioners on the part of the United States for a like purpose. The commission will be opened in Washington in December, there to discuss, arrange and settle the terms of a grand commercial treaty, that will be a leading movement in the general establishment of free trade throughout the world.

The French ministry has also indicated the same purpose, and will follow in the footsteps of England."

LOCUST YEAR.—A correspondent of the Hartford Courant says: this year, 1843, is the "locust year." He says, "I well remember three 'locust years,' in the years 1792, 1809, and 1826, and my father told me that he remembered one in the year 1758, and another in 1775.—There being seventeen years between each of these dates, is strong evidence that they return once in seventeen years, and accordingly the present year, 1843, may be expected to be locust year. I wish you to publish this at this time, that the etomologists may have an opportunity to make observations, and if it should be a locust year, publish the result of their observations."

MORE BOROUGHS NOTES.—The people of the borough of York have decided upon an emission of small notes by their Council, and the Gettysburg Star is advising the people of that borough to do likewise. The contagion is spreading, and we need not be surprised to see every borough in the State following the example. The truth is, the unexampled contraction of the currency has made people desperate, and they are determined to have money, no matter how trashy it is. These evils are but a part of the fulfilment of Whig prophecy. [Carlisle Herald.]

TROUBLE IN COURT.—The Philadelphia Inquirer of Friday last says—A difficulty occurred between the Grand Jury of the city and county, and Judge Jones of the Quarter Sessions. The Judge, it seems, rebuked the Jury for their alleged delay, and announced that they would be discharged on Thursday. Against this, the Jury protested, as they had important business in hand. Their protest was submitted in form, whereupon the Judges consulted together, when Judge Jones announced to the Grand Jury that they were discharged. Upon this, the foreman rose and said:

"I am directed to inform this Court," said the foreman of the Grand Inquest in a firm voice, and rising from his seat, "that the Grand Jury have adjourned to meet to-morrow morning at ten o'clock at the usual place, and that they intend so to meet."

"Go on with the trial of the case now before the Court," said Judge Jones, apparently taking no notice of the remark of the foreman, and addressing his conversation to the Attorney General. The Grand Jury then left the Court in a body, and had an informal meeting at their room, where they made some preliminary arrangements to redress what they consider an infringement upon their rights.

STRANGE ACCIDENT.—A little girl, aged 11 years, the daughter of Mr. Daniel Fix, of Reading, Pa., accidentally hung herself on Friday last. The Journal says: "She was sent by her mother into the garret for the purpose of unloosening a rope which the children used as a swing, and also a cloth line. As she was absent longer than anticipated, the mother went in search of her and found her in a sitting posture, lifeless, and with the rope entangled around her neck and arm. All efforts to resuscitate her were unavailing.—It is supposed, that having mounted a bed which stood near, for the purpose of detaching the rope, she slipped and becoming entangled met a most terrible death."

NOT YET SIGNED.—The bill for the sale of the Main Line of the Public works—the General Appropriation bill—and the resolution authorizing Geo. M. Dallas and Wm. M. Meredith to prosecute those persons implicated in the bribery transactions of 1840—are still in the hands of the Governor, where in all probability they are to be strangled to death. The latter particularly stands a poor chance for its life. To sign that might be opening the door to his own conviction. Any stronger evidence of his participation in those acts, however, need not be required, than his refusal to sign this resolution. The conviction is irresistible.—Pennsylvania Intelligencer.

PANTHER HUNT.—The last Sullivan county Watchman gives an account of a panther hunt in the town of Collium, in that county, on the 12th inst. The panther was shot in his den, the entrance of which was too small for a man to crawl into it. A lad named William Lane armed himself with a Spanish Dirk and hunting axe, and in he crept, and soon buried the axe in the head, and cut the throat of the ferocious beast, which soon put an end to his struggles. He then hauled out the panther, which measured 9 feet 7 inches from his nose to the end of his tail. The editor thinks this throws the story of "old Put and the wolf," entirely into the shade.

The splendid farm, the property of Edward Coleman, dec'd., situate within three miles of the city of Philadelphia, containing 97 acres, with a stone dwelling, fine barn, &c., was sold at auction a few days since at $193 per acre—amounting to $18,721. The farm is one of the very best in the State of Pennsylvania, renting at the present moment for $1100 per year. A short time since $40,000 was refused for this property. It was sold clear of all encumbrance, and the bidding was spirited throughout, 50 cents being offered and taken at the close.

A fair damsel brought a suit against a faithless swain, for breach of promise of marriage, before a Western jury. No evidence of the promise could be adduced; but the sympathies of the jury were not to be cut off in this way, and they unanimously decided that if he had not made any promise, he certainly ought to have done so, and rendered their verdict accordingly.

A UNION.—The Keystone, Reporter and Gazette, will be united about the 1st of June. The way they'll put it into Davy R. will be a caution. When they tell all the rascality of him that they know, the truth will even then be only half told.

A PUZZLE.—Two boys having found a number of nuts, when they divided them two by two, there was one over; three by two, there was one over; four by four, there was one over; five by five, there was one over; six by six, there was one over; seven by seven, they came out even.—What number of nuts had they found? P. Q. R.

A SHERIFF ARRESTED.—Sheriff Hart, of New York, was arrested by the Coroner on Friday, on numerous writs, for many thousand dollars, issued by persons who have executions in his hands.

The best lip salve in creation is a sweet kiss. The remedy should be used with great care, however, as it is apt to bring on an affection of the heart.

U. S. Government Stocks have been sold in London at 107.

A FRIENDLY HINT.

It is now more than a year since I disposed of the "Huntingdon Journal," and during all that time, I have been writing patiently, upon those who are in my debt, for subscription and advertising. I have been living on promises; and what is more, those to whom I am indebted, have been obliged to take "promises" from me; and they like myself, are getting out of patience with this kind of a "credit system." Now by way of a hint I wish to say to all who know themselves to be in arrears to me, that I must have my accounts closed; and there is another part of the story—I WILL. I am not disposed to be ill-natured, but mind I tell you all, I am out of money—nearly out of credit—and a settlement must be had between this and August Court—or well I won't say what.

A. W. BENEDICT. Huntingdon, May 5, 1843.—tac.
