

than ever. He is troubled with doubts. Perhaps he may have proceeded upon an error—perhaps the principle, the high-pressure principle of his action was not the right one. It may be that excitement is not happiness—that our pleasures are fleeting in proportion to their intensity—that indeed, if life be a feast, the amount of satisfaction to be derived from it, is rather diminished than increased by swallowing the viands hastily, and by having a free recourse to condiments, and that a physical economy is as wise and as necessary to well-being, as economy of any other kind. He is almost led to suppose that his "something to be happy with" is a fallacy; he never could hold it within his grasp, and he inclines to the belief that a man probably does well to have a home in himself, that he may not always be compelled to run abroad for recreation, or to appeal to his senses to give vivacity to the hour. If it were his luck to begin again, perhaps he might try the track thus indicated. But that would be too late!—Our experiences oft reach their climax too late; yet others may learn from the example of Snyder Downe; let.

THE EDITOR.

Distressing Accident.

On Saturday last a young man named CHRISTIAN DECKER met with a most distressing accident, near this place, while shooting at ducks with a pistol. We are informed that he pulled the trigger several times without effect, after which he was putting the pistol into his pocket, and while in the act, the load was discharged, entering the palm of the left hand, shattering and tearing it to fragments. The hand was amputated, above the wrist, by Dr. J. B. LUDEN of this borough.

Temperance.

The Rev. T. P. HUNT delivered Temperance Addresses to large assemblages of ladies and gentlemen, in the Presbyterian Church in this borough, on the evenings of Thursday, Friday and Saturday last.

Triumph of Mob Law.

A GOVERNOR INTIMIDATED.—A mob has been at work in Madison county, Indiana. The armed gang of lawless ruffians, banded together by solemn oaths of mutual protection, threatened not only to demolish the county jail, but to assault the judge and Lynch the jury, unless one of their convicted companions was immediately pardoned by the Governor. We regret to say that their threats have had the desired effect upon his Excellency—he has granted an unconditional pardon to Reynolds, the robber.

What the Tariff has Done!

The Whig principle of protection has made us exporters instead of importers of manufactured cottons—exporters instead of importers of calicoes—exporters instead of importers of mixed cloths—and importers instead of exporters of SPECIE.—Why, then, should hard money men oppose a Protective Tariff?

An Odd Case.

The Pittsburgh Sun relates the story of a German who stole a pitchfork from his neighbor Mr. W. The owner of the fork at length found it and threatened Hans with the law. Hans was frightened. Mr. W. gave him his choice, to go with his blessing to the chain gang, or take fifty lashes. He chose the latter, and Mr. W. administered them. Hans goes straightway to the magistrate, and prosecutes W. for assault and battery with intent to kill, and W. in his turn prosecutes Hans for theft! Both were required to give security, and bound to appear as witnesses against each other.

We had thunder and a l—yesterday morning.

Courts of Quarter Sessions of the Peace and Oyer and Terminer.

At the Court commencing on Monday of last week—present the Hon. A. S. WILSON, President, and JOSEPH ADAMS and JAMES GWIS, Esquires, Associates, Judges of the said Courts—the following cases came up and were disposed of as therein stated.

Commonwealth vs. Horace B. Howard. Indictment for larceny—stealing a silver English Watch, the property of Peter Boyle, of Gaysport. "True bill." Defendant plead "not guilty." The evidence in this case proved that the defendant came to this borough and pledged the said watch at a tavern, for his boarding. It was proved to have been stolen from Mr. Boyle, whose name was engraved in the watch. The defendant could not account for the possession of the watch, but related contradictory stories about the same. Verdict "guilty." Sentence of the Court that the defendant be imprisoned in the Western Penitentiary for two years. Counsel—for the Com'th. Messrs. Prosecuting Attorney EVERHART and A. P. WILSON, for the defendant, Mr. A. K. CORNYN.

Com'th. vs. Hugh B. Orr. Indictment for Burglary. "True Bill." The indictment contained two counts; the one charging that the defendant on the 10th day of September 1843, in the borough of Huntingdon, about the hour of one o'clock in the night the dwelling house of William Orison, Esq., feloniously and burglariously did break and enter with intent the goods and chattels of the said William Orison, Esq. to steal take and carry away. The second count charged that the defendant did as above stated break and enter the said dwelling house and steal three American half dollars and a five frank piece, the property of the said William Orison, Esq. The Commonwealth made out a strong case, by a closely connected chain of circumstances, substantially the same that we noticed in announcing the burglary. The jury found the defendant "guilty." The prisoner was then sentenced to four years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.—Counsel—for the Com'th. Messrs. Pros. Atty. EVERHART and McALISTER; for the defendant Mr. A. K. CORNYN.

Com'th. vs. James R. Johnston, Gideon Marlet, Thomas Dougherty, James Donaldson and Win-Grove, Jr., indicted with David McMurtrie, Robert Stratton and James Tague, who did not appear in Court. Indictment for Riot. The Grand Jury returned a "True Bill." The indictment charged that the defendants together with divers other persons to the number of ten and more to the jurors unknown, did on the 30th day of October last, in the borough of Hollidaysburg, unlawfully, riotously and tumultuously assemble and gather together to disturb the peace of the Commonwealth. Also, their count charged them with beginning to injure deface and tear down the dwelling house of Mary Brooks. Defendants severally plead "not guilty."

The defendants were all found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 each, the costs of prosecution &c. Counsel—for the Com'th. Messrs. Pros. Atty. EVERHART and A. GWIS; for the defendants, Messrs. MAGEE, WILSON, BANKS and CRESSWELL.

Com'th. vs. Mary Brooks. Indictment for keeping a Bawdy House in Hollidaysburg. "True Bill." Defendant plead "not guilty." Verdict "guilty." Sentence of the Court—that defendant pay a fine of $5 00, pay the costs of prosecution and be imprisoned in the jail of this county for ten days, and be in custody until this sentence is complied with. Counsel—for the Com'th. Messrs. Pros. Atty. EVERHART and CRESSWELL; for the defendant, Mr. A. GWIS.

Com'th. vs. Joseph Jones. Indictment for Assault and Battery upon the person of William Barnett. "True Bill." Defendant plead "not guilty." The defendant was found guilty, and was fined $10 and the costs of prosecution. Counsel—for the Com'th. Messrs. Pros. Atty. EVERHART and WILSON; for the defendant, Mr. BLAIR.

Com'th. vs. William Barnett and David Strong. Indictment for Assault and Battery on the person of Joseph Jones. "True Bill." Continued to next Sessions.

Com'th. vs. Erasmus Jones, John Parks, Jr. and Thomas Parks. Indictment for Riot and Assault and Battery. "True Bill." Continued as above.

Com'th. vs. Joseph Jones, John Parks, Jr. and Thomas Parks. Indictment for Riot and Assault and Battery. "True Bill." Continued as above.

Com'th. vs. County Commissioners. Indictment for not repairing bridge. "True Bill." Also continued as above.

Com'th. vs. Samuel Belford. Indicted with David K. Freeburn, who did not appear. Indictment, continued from January Sessions 1842, "for setting up and exposing to be played at Faro Bank." The defendant plead guilty and submitted to the Court. After hearing, the Court fined the defendant $5 00 and costs of prosecution.

There were also two cases of surety of the Peace heard and disposed of by the Court.

As will appear from the above, there was an unusual amount of Commonwealth business, which occupied the time and attention of the Court until Friday afternoon. The Grand Jurors were discharged on Thursday.

A Sign.

The Globe contains an article signed 'Elias Ellis,' in which the writer urges the propriety of abandoning Mr. Van Buren, as the Loco Foco candidate for President, and taking up Gen. Cass. Col. R. M. Johnston, too, it is contended, is stronger at this time than Van Buren, and would command more votes among the people. A strange article to appear in the Globe, which is the great Van Buren organ.

The Ladies' National Magazine.

The December number of this highly popular and interesting work is before us. It is adorned with three splendid engravings and the usual plate of fashions. "The Swiss Girl," is one of A. L. Dick's most happy efforts. "The Toilette," a beautiful vignette title page, represents a sweet looking girl dressing her hair—it is designed expressly for this work, and engraved by G. B. Ellis.

"Embroidery and Embossed Birds," designed, engraved and colored especially for this work, by F. Quarre, Esq.

Fashions for December, representing the latest style for cloaks, hats, and winter costumes, beautifully colored.

For dresses green, brown and blue are favorite colors.

From the number before us we extract the following poetical effusion:

THE SWISS GIRL.

BY ANNA WHARTON.

She stands among her native hills,
But from her azure eyes
The soul and patient soul looks out
As twilight in the skies,
She thinks not of her native cot,
Or sheep-fold in the vale,
Of merry sisters round the hearth,
When beats the wintry hail.

They say she daily climbs the height,
To muse and look alone,
O'er winding vale and snowy hill
Toward the far-off Rhone!
For there her lover toils for wealth
In plains of gay Champagne,—
It is her dream to see him first
When he returns again.

Dream on!—for faithful to his vow,
He nightly turns his eyes
To where the faint but rosy east
Tells of his Alpine skies.

Dream on!—he longs for thee sweet girl,
As rings-dove for his nest,
And soon the wand'ring shall return
To love, and home, and rest!

The next number of the Ladies' National Magazine will commence a new volume. We will give the prospectus in our next.

☞ The venerable Col. JOHN TRUMBULL, one of the links between the past and present, was the last survivor of Washington's military family, died in New York on the 10th inst., full of honors, at the advanced age of 87. He was Aid-de-camp to the Father of his country, and has become celebrated for his historical paintings—particularly that of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence. He will be interred at N. Haven, by the side of the wife of his youth. The graves of John Trumbull and Noah Webster will almost render New Haven a place of pious pilgrimage.

New York Election.

The Newark Advertiser condenses a few interesting items in relation to the recent election in New York. The editor says it has returned in a majority of some 16 or 18,000 for the Van Buren party. The whole vote is very small, not more than 360,000, or near 100,000 less than 1840. It said that not more than three fourths of the whigs went to the polls, the Assembly will stand about the same as last year—94 Locos and 36 Whigs. The Locos elect 8 of the 9 Senators, (a loss of 4 to the Whigs) so that the Senate will stand 26 to 5, an increased majority. The Abolitionists increased their vote to 20,000 in the State. The Native Americans polled $2,925 in the city, the 11th ward alone giving 1120. The Whigs of the State do not appear to have deemed the occasion important enough to call out their strength.

Mr. McKenna.

The Hon. T. M. T. McKenna, of Washington county, having been named by many of his friends as the candidate of the Whig party, for Governor in 1844, the Washington Reporter has put forth the following paragraph, by which it appears that he could not, if selected, be prevailed on to accept the nomination.

MR. MCKENNA, of our own county, is a great favorite, and is considered decidedly the most popular man named. If he would permit himself to be run, we have no doubt he would be the strongest man, in every respect that could be selected by the Whigs. But we fear he cannot be prevailed upon to give his consent. He has an insurmountable repugnance to public life, and most assiduously courts retirement and the sweets of domestic seclusion.—Office has no temptation for him. His home, and his profession, at the head of which he stands, so entirely engross his attention, that we think it likely that he could not be induced, for any consideration whatever, to abandon them, even with the certainty of obtaining the Chief Executive office of the Commonwealth.

Most Daring Contempt of Court.

On Wednesday last, Hugh B. Orr, was convicted of burglary, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of this county, and sentenced to four year's imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary. On Thursday morning about day-break, the convict made his escape from the jail, through a hole which he picked through the wall after a whole night's hard labor—leaving behind him his hat and boots. Sheriff Shaver immediately offered a reward for the apprehension of the burglar now in the enjoyment of the "largest liberty;" but nothing was again heard of him till Friday, when it was discovered that he had returned to pay our town a visit the previous night, when and where he stole His Honor Judge Wilson's hat, and also left one of our brothers of the bar minus a pair of boots, with which he made honorable tracks to "parts unknown." A fair exchange, says an old maxim, is no robbery, and the refugee, in view of this, left just as good a hat and boots at his late residence, the jail of Huntingdon county, which hat and boots are said to fit the persons with whom he "swapped" exactly.

Orr is a polished and scientific fellow, and under the cover of Judge Wilson, and with the understanding of Attorney Blair, he can probably get to Texas, or some other fit place, without detection, where he no doubt can get a Judge's commission—he cannot steal one on his way there—and become a respectable citizen of the "Infant Republic."

Amount of Treasury Notes outstanding on the 1st inst., $4,319,974 79.

Whig Liberty.

It is a common saying, says the York Republican, for the Locofocos to charge illiberality upon the Whigs; but we think that we know of an instance which will refute the accusation. Col. RICHARD M. JOHNSTON, Locofoco aspirant to the Presidency, and beyond all question the second, if not—and we think he is—the first choice of his party in Pennsylvania, is now on a tour which it might be true, if not generous, to style Electioneering, through some of the States. He was in Philadelphia on Friday, but previous to reaching that city he had been as far 'down East' as Vermont. There he was hospitable received, and at the capitol of the State was handsomely treated by the Whig authorities and the Legislature then in session.—He was greeted by an address from Gov. MATTOCKS—an honest, upright and clear-headed old gentleman who, after serving eight sessions in Congress, declined a re-election and bragged that he had never made a speech in that body. His welcome to Col. JOHNSTON, however, shows that he can speak to a good purpose, and although in our view, somewhat eulogistic of the so-called Tecumseh-killer, we copy it as well to show how willing Whigs are to do even more than justice to persons who have really done the state some service, as for the sake of the rebuke which it gives to the slanderers of Gen. HARRISON. The more Gov. MATTOCKS' brief address is read, the more beauties it will be found to contain. Here it is:—

Col. JOHNSTON: Sir—in behalf of the Legislature of Vermont, and in the name of the entire population of this honest little State, I bid you welcome to this fair Capitol.

Sir, you are a Statesman and a Soldier. At the Thames you led a charge with a dashing gallantry that has never, never been surpassed. You have fought and bled—aye, bled—in Freedom's cause. You are brave and generous to a proverb. Can there be any higher praise? There can: you indicated the honor of your fellow citizen and your General when some who knew him not essayed to tarnish the military fame of that hero, now, alas! no more.

Magnanimous man! again I say, welcome, thrice welcome, here amid the descendants of the Green Mountain Boys.

Please to pardon, sir, the conciseness of this address, for I am an old man of few words, but sincere.

The Election in Massachusetts.

NO GOVERNOR BY THE PEOPLE.

We are indebted to the Boston Atlas for the election returns of that state. In the city, the Whigs have nearly 2000 majority. The result for Governor in all the four towns, is thus:

Briggs, the Whig candidate, has	57,069
That Marcus Morton has	52,770

Making Mr. Briggs' majority over Morton 4,299

For all other candidates than Mr. Briggs, there are

For Mr. Briggs, there are	61,625
For Mr. Briggs, there are	57,066

Leaving the majority of other votes against Mr. Briggs,

For all other candidates than Morton, there are	65,924
For Morton, there are	52,790

Leaving the majority against Morton 13,154

According to the Atlas, twelve whigs are elected to the Senate, namely in Suffolk, Hampshire, Franklin, Barstabile, and Nantucket and Dukes—and 7 Democrats, viz: in Hampden, Berkshire, and Bristol.

The Representatives are as follows—153 Whigs, 109 Democrats, and 137 no choice—against 176 Whigs, 176 Democrats, and 56 "no choice" last year.

The Atlas says that Mr. Grinnell, the Whig candidate for Congress for the tenth district, is elected by a clear majority of 636 votes.

The Atlas, in the extra, containing the above news, issued at half past 1 o'clock, says:

"Thus it will be seen that, up to the moment of preparing this Postscript, there is a Whig majority of FIVE in the Senate Board, and a Whig majority of FORTY-FOUR in the next House of Representatives. Of the towns that have not chosen, many have voted not to send—and many have no right to send, having exhausted their constitutional right to be represented.

If the Whigs towns that have yet a right to choose Representatives, will only do their duty in this respect, there is no fear but that the Commonwealth will be placed in the hands of those whom the People may safely trust, and who will administer her public affairs according to the counsels of prudence, integrity and patriotism. LET THEM DO THEIR DUTY."

The Confession of Storech—The Murderer of Mrs. Horn.

Further particulars of the confession of John Storech, who recently committed suicide, are given in the Baltimore Sun. It seems that on a certain occasion, he confessed the knowledge of the murder to his wife; and on the following day, he detailed the whole affair to Justice Bushey. He stated that one night, a short time after the murder of Mrs. Horn, he called at Horn's house, and sat down by the stove; after a little Horn came and sat by him, and said, "Storech, I'm in a good deal of trouble, and I want to tell somebody about it." Horn then having a German bible in his hand, asked Storech to swear that he would never tell anybody, and he would confide in him. Storech consented, and then, in his own words, "Horn swore him an oath on the bible, as hard as he could swear." Horn then told him, that one night, (supposed to be the 23d of March), after he and his wife had been some time in bed, Malinda got up and went down stairs, and staying longer than Horn could account for, he went down after her, and found her on the front porch talking to a young man named Franklin Rhinehart; that he then took the fire shovel, and (it is presumed after Rhinehart left, if the tale be true), beat her with it and killed her." Upon this statement Storech asked him what he had done with the body, and Horn replied, "Oh, don't trouble yourself about that; I've put that away all right."

A day or two after this confession Storech committed suicide by cutting his throat.

Mr. Crawford the newly elected Governor of Geo., was installed into office on the 8th inst.

PROGRESS OF PUSEYISM.—The editor of the Allegheny Banner says he saw a beautiful young lady of the Episcopal church, walking along Federal street with a Bishop on her back and a Cardinal on her shoulders.
