Whig and Antimasonic County Ticket.

ASSEMBLY.
HENRY BREWSTER
ROBT. A. McMURTRIE.
PROTHONOTARY,
JAMES STEEL.
REGISTER & RECORDER,
JOHN REED.
TREASURER,
JOSEPH LAW.
COMMISSIONER,
WILLIAM BELL.
CORONER,
SAMUEL P. WALLACE.
AUDITOR,
SETH R. McCUNE.

Our Convention and our Ticket.

The Whig and Antimasonic Convention which met in this place on Wednesday last was numerously attended—every election district, we believe, fully represented; and it is thought doubtful whether a more intelligent and respectable body of men ever assembled in this county on a similar occasion. A spirit of harmony and good order prevailed throughout its deliberations.

The ticket formed by such a Convention, as might be expected, meets with the approbation of the party—so much so indeed, that we have not heard a murmur against it.

JAMES STEEL, Esq., our present able and efficient Prothonotary, has been re-nominated for that office. He is a gentleman so extensively known that he needs no introduction from us, certainly; and eulogy could not add to his fame as an excellent officer.

JOHN REED is re-nominated for Register and Recorder. He held the same office three years by appointment, and has twice been elected by the people, which speaks loudly in praise of his qualifications. He is well known to the citizens of this county, and it is universally admitted that a more honest and capable officer could not be found anywhere. Going upon the principle that the offices are not for the benefit of the incumbents, but for the benefit of the people, the latter are not yet willing to give up their claims upon the services of the present Prothonotary and Register and Recorder.

HENRY BREWSTER and ROBERT A. McMURTRIE, Esqrs., have been re-nominated for members of the House of Representatives. Their conduct generally, during the last session of the Legislature, is approved of by their constituents; but on the "Division Question" we believe there is a division. By way of compromise the "upper end" got a candidate in favor of a new county out of parts of Huntingdon and Bedford, and the "lower end" one opposed to the new county. Messrs. Brewster and McMurtree were able and efficient members last winter, and were both highly esteemed by their fellow legislators. They are gentlemen into whose hands the interests of their constituents, and of the Commonwealth, may be entrusted without danger of betrayal or abuse.

JOSEPH LAW, Esq., the nominee for the office of Treasurer, is a man every way qualified for the duties of that office. He is known as a consistent, devoted Whig, in principle and practice—a citizen of Morris township, where he has for many years been a Justice of the Peace, until last spring, when his commission expired. He is lame and disabled of making a livelihood by labor; and therefore, in voting for him we shall have the double satisfaction of voting for a good Whig and one worthy of reward.

WILLIAM BELL, of Allegheny township, is the choice for the office of County Commissioner; and we are told by those who are personally acquainted with him, that a better man for the office could not be found in the county.

SAMUEL P. WALLACE, the candidate for Coroner, and SETH R. McCUNE, the nominee for Auditor, are both good men and true Whigs, and well qualified for the respective offices for which they have been nominated.

We again say that when nominations have been once fairly made, by a majority of the representatives of the people, there is but one course for all who desire the welfare of the party to pursue, and that is to give all such nominations their hearty support.

Arouse, then, Whigs of Huntingdon county, buckle on your armor, and prepare to give this ticket—a ticket every way worthy your cordial support—such a majority in October as will forever banish from the minds of your opponents the idea of electing a locofoco in this staunch old Whig county.

THE FAIR—The fair members of the Presbyterian Church of this place, had a fancy sale last week in the old Court House, which was well attended, and we believe, liberally patronized. A more extended notice of it will be found in another column, from the pen of a correspondent, to which we invite attention.

DEDICATION—The large and splendid Presbyterian Church edifice in this borough, was dedicated to the worship of Almighty God, on Wednesday last, with appropriate ceremonies. The Rev. J. W. Yeomans, D. D., of Danville, preached an excellent sermon to a large concourse of people assembled on the occasion.

On the 7th inst., the farm of Mr. James McQuiston, near Butler, Pa., was consumed by fire, together with its contents, his whole crop.

Whig Nominations.

Our friends in the different counties of the State are going on to make their nominations with great spirit. This is right; and if the Whigs but understand and do their duty when the election comes; there will be a voice heard from Pennsylvania—the Iron State of the Union—that may confuse Secretary Walker's ideas on the subject of "reducing the details of the Tariff to the revenue standard."

UNION COUNTY—The Whigs of this county have made the following nominations:

Sent for—Jacob Wagonseller. Assembly—Jacob McCurley. Register—Daniel Bellman. Treasurer—Archibald Thomas. Commissioner—Jacob Martin. Auditor—James Harrison.

LEBANON COUNTY—Our friends in this county have put in nomination the following ticket:

Senate—John P. Sanderson. Assembly—John Bassler. Register—A. P. Hibbsman. Clerk of the Courts—John C. Seltzer. Treasurer—Jefferson Shirk. Commissioner—Jacob Shaeffer.

We are personally acquainted with Mr. Sanderson, the nominee for Senator on the above ticket, and can only add that a better nomination could not have been made. Mr. S. is a young man of great tact and ability, and therefore well qualified to succeed his gentlemanly predecessor, Levi Kline, Esq.

CAMBERIA COUNTY—The Whigs of "Little Cambria" have put the following ticket in nomination:

Assembly—Michael Dan Magehan. Prothonotary—John Linton. Commissioner—Emericus Bender. Treasurer—Robert L. Johnson.

This is said to be a strong ticket, and one that can be easily elected.

MORE LAWYERS—Last week EDWARD A. LESLIE, Esq., of Harrisburg; JAMES K. KELLY, A. P. JACOB, and WM. H. IRVIN, Esqrs., of Lawstown; and WILLIAM J. JACOBS, Esq., of this place, were admitted to practice in the several Courts of Huntingdon county.

"CLAY MEN LOOKING UP," is the caption of an article in the last York Republican, stating that the delegates from that county to the September Locofoco Convention, have all been good Clay men. We think they are looking quite in the contrary direction.

The Shunk Organ.

Gov. Shunk has determined on having an organ at the seat of Government, in which he can place confidence, to support his re-nomination. We were told at the out-set of his administration that the anti-democratic practice of having an official organ to support the administration in all its acts, whether right or wrong, would not be followed by Mr. Shunk; but it would appear that he has changed his notion in this respect. The "Home Journal," a military paper, has been removed from Philadelphia to Harrisburg, where it has made its appearance under the title of "Pennsylvania Reporter and Home Journal," avowedly as the organ of the State Administration.

The Pennsylvania Intelligencer, after noticing the appearance of this paper, says:—
The administration finds itself in such bad odor, and has so little confidence in the "Union" and "Argus" that it has deemed this step essential, as the only means of effecting a re-nomination of the present Governor for a second term. The paper is filled with fulsome eulogy of Gov. Shunk, and administers some homethrusts at Gen. Cameron and his friends, of which the following paragraph may serve as a specimen:

"We may also expect to see allied with the whigs, a few disappointed and unprincipled politicians, who, unable to obtain place or plunder under his administration, will join the common enemy. To this we have no objection. They are a class of politicians who are an injury to any party to which they belong, as they prevent more worthy men from attaching themselves to it. The sooner the rotten members are lopped off, the sooner the body politic will be restored to a sound condition, and the more vigorous and permanent it will become."

Doubtless all the corruption and rottenness in the ranks of the Democracy will disappear at the advent of the Reporter! Rare specimens of union and harmony in the ranks of this party may be looked for.

Great interest was felt for the arrival of the steamship Great Britain, she was expected to arrive daily. She is constructed, as most readers will recollect, entirely of iron, carries six masts, is 320 feet in length, about 3200 tons burden, and is worked by a screw, submerged at her stern, instead of paddle wheels at her side. Her four engines are 250 horse power each, and she is altogether the largest and most remarkable ship ever built. Full particulars are given in another column.

CONVICTION OF BORN—The trial of Jabez Boyd, at West Chester, charged with the murder of Westly Patton, was brought to a close on Tuesday, by the rendition of a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. The examination of witnesses was concluded about three o'clock on Monday, and on Tuesday morning, after arguments, the case was given to the jury. They were out about one hour.

We are informed, says the New York Tribune, that the Account Books, Checks, and other manuscripts belonging to Crocker & Warren have been recovered, having suffered no further injury from the fire than the total erasure of all entries made in blue ink, while those made in black were uniformly legible. If this is true it is a fact which should be generally known.

During a storm at Richmond Va., on Friday last, two young ladies one the daughter of Mr. P. K. White, and the other, a daughter of Mr. Samuel Putney, while sitting on a sofa together in Mr. White's residence on Union Hill, were struck by lightning and instantly killed.

An Ohio paper states that cows are selling on the Reserve at $6 a head, for want of feed, and several thousand sheep are to be driven to the Western prairies, to feed on wild grass for the winter.

On the 7th inst., the farm of Mr. James McQuiston, near Butler, Pa., was consumed by fire, together with its contents, his whole crop.

DAUPHIN COUNTY—The Locofocos of Dauphin county have nominated John M. Foster, Esq., of Harrisburg for Senator, and Michael Keller and J. Rathvon, as their candidates for the Legislature. These nominations are spoken of as an administration triumph.

It appears that the Governor led on his forces in person, using the influence and patronage of the administration to defeat the delegates pledged to support Jos. W. Calk, Esq., for Senator, who was deemed the anti-administration candidate. Dignified, truly, for the Governor of Pennsylvania to be managing a delegate meeting! or to use the Dauphin county phrase, "fixing" delegates.

If the Native Sentinel be good authority, these delegate meetings were attended with more spirit than was ever witnessed by us in these truly interesting little assemblages of the people—a whole barrel of brandy having been brought into the South Ward to procure votes. In our opinion so strong an argument as this is as well appreciated in that ward, as any place in the range of our acquaintance. Rich time, eh, boys?

The Butler Democrat announces, by authority, that CHARLES C. SULLIVAN, Esq., declines being a candidate for Canal Commissioner.

APPOINTMENT BY THE PRESIDENT—STEWART STEEL, of Pennsylvania, Consul for Dundee, in Scotland, in place of Edward Barker, recalled.

Gov. Shunk has appointed Fergus Cannon, editor of the "Indiana Republican," Associate Judge of that county, in the room of James McKenna, Esq., deceased.

Carter and Parke—The Court of Errors, at Trenton, on Friday, affirmed the judgments in the case of Joseph Carter and Peter W. Parke; so that the prisoners will be executed according to their sentence, at Belvidere, on Friday the 22nd day of August, instant.

It is estimated by a gentleman of intelligence and well acquainted with the business of Pittsburgh, that $1,000,000 are added yearly to the actual wealth of that city by its productive industry.

The post office Department have decided to take only American coin in payment for postage, or to receive Spanish tips, levies and quarters, as equal only to half dimes, dimes and twenty-three cents.

Counterfeit $5 gold pieces, American coin, are being circulated in the West. They are of the date 1843, tolerably well done, as to the views, but very deficient in weight.

Another Tragical Wedding—The Louisville Courier gives some of the particulars of a most dreadful affair which happened in Washington county, Ia., on Thursday, 24th ult. It appears that a wedding party on their return home after dark, were met in a piece of woods by a party intending to "charavari" the new married couple. The serenaders by some sudden movement in the road, so frightened the horses of the wedding party that they became entirely unmanageable. They ran away, threw their riders, and the result was awful and terrible. The bride, bridesmaid and groomsmen were killed, and so bruised and disfigured that their bodies could scarcely be recognized. There was much excitement in the neighborhood, and several of the serenaders were arrested and put in prison.

Reciprocal.

Richie, editor of the Washington Union, Polk's official organ, was at one time a bitter opponent of Gen. Jackson, and said many naughty things of him, in the Richmond Enquirer. The following will serve as a sample:

"We cannot consent to lend a hand toward the election of such a man as Andrew Jackson."

Richmond Enquirer.

"We would deprecate his election as a curse upon the country."—Rich. Eng.

"Compare him with Adams and Crawford and how inferior must be."—Rich. Eng.

"He is too little of a statesman—too rash—too violent in his temper—his measures too much inclined to arbitrary government, to obtain the humble support of the editor of this paper."—Richmond Eng.

The General, on the other hand, entertained and expressed reciprocal opinions of father Richie, as will be seen by the following:

"Richie is the greatest scoundrel in America."—Gen. Jackson.

"I see that I am attacked in Congress by Cooke, Whittman and Williams, aided by that infamous press the Richmond Enquirer. If such a corrupt press as the Richmond Enquirer were to approve my conduct, I should think that in some unguarded moment, I had committed some great moral improbity."—Gen. Jackson.

Horrible Accident.

The Columbia Spy of Saturday last says:—On Sabbath evening last, about 11 o'clock, Mr. Michael SLOAT, engaged in the warehouse of D. LACROIX & Co., in this borough, met with a horrible accident, which resulted in death. He was in the habit of lodging in the warehouse where he was employed, and either in a somnambulism, or from confusion arising from not being wholly awake, he walked out of a door in the second story of the building and was precipitated on to the lever attached on to the break of a burden car which was standing on the track beneath. The lever entered under the left arm at the 3d rib, passed through the lungs, through the diaphragm, the stomach, the point of the upper lobe of the liver, and came out about an inch above the umbilicus, fracturing three of the ribs in its course. He was relieved from his shocking position by the hands of one of the boats, lying convenient to the theatre of the accident, and Drs. COCHRAN, CLARKSON and MOORE were in a very short time in attendance. Mr. S. lingered until about four o'clock on Monday morning, in excruciating agony.

QUICKEST TRIP YET—The Steam-Ship Cambria, recently arrived from Liverpool, performed the trip in the unprecedentedly short space of eleven days, including a stop at Halifax. Truly has the power of steam annihilated distance!

DEATHS OF CLERGYMEN—The "Presbyterian" says that twenty-six ministers, in connexion with the Old School Assembly, have died in about a year.

Reported for the Huntingdon Journal.

Court of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer.

The following cases were brought before the Court and disposed of as below stated:

Commonwealth vs. Jacob Fleck. Indictment for Libel on Philip Bridenbaugh and family, in Sinking Valley. The libellous matter consisted in a written letter which the defendant found and exhibited, caricaturing the prosecutor and his family. A "true bill" had been found at April Sessions and continued to this term. Verdict, guilty. Sentence of the Court that defendant pay a fine of $20 00, the costs of prosecution &c.

Comth. vs. Zachariah Pleasant. Assault and Battery. A writ of habeas corpus was awarded on the record, to bring the defendant into Court. Defendant brought up and discharged on payment of all costs and physician's bill, by agreement of the parties.

Comth. vs. William Darrison. Indictment for keeping a Tippling House. Defendant plead guilty and submitted to the Court. Sentence, that defendant pay a fine of $20 00, costs of prosecution &c.

Comth. vs. William Abbot. Indictment for the larceny of a sheep, the property of Robert Gill, in Springfield township. The Grand Jury returned the bill "ignoramus."

Comth. vs. Eliza Westbrook. Two cases of Surety of the peace, on the oath of Margaret Shively. After a hearing, the Court sentenced the defendant to find security in the sum of $100 in each case, and to pay the costs, &c.

Comth. vs. David Yingling. Indictment for the larceny of a promissory note, the property of Thomas Crissman, in Hollidaysburg. Bill returned "ignoramus."

Comth. vs. James Reed. Indictment for Seduction, in Henderson township. "True Bill." Verdict, "not guilty."

Comth. vs. Jonathan Bard. Indictment for arson—setting fire to a certain dwelling house, situate in Tyrone township, the property of the heirs of Michael Wallace, deed, on the night of the 25th of July last. The Grand Jury returned the bill "ignoramus."

Comth. vs. Michael Brenneman. Indictment for murder. The indictment charged the defendant with the murder of Duncan Stewart, in Woodberry township, on the 19th day of May last. The evidence elicited on the trial was, that the defendant was on the pavement before the public house of Mr. McCoy, in Williamsburg, on the 19th May, when Duncan Stewart, who was intoxicated, passed angry words, and made an assault upon the defendant. The defendant then struck him with his fist, causing him to fall backwards, striking his head upon the curb-stones. Afterwards he walked to Frankstown township, and there died on the 22nd day of May. The prosecution failed to prove malice, and an intention to kill. This case occupied the time and attention of the Court on Friday and Saturday. The jury retired for a few minutes, after which they returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Comth. vs. James McCafferty alias Gafferty. Indictment for the murder of David Hassler, at Mill Creek, on the 17th day of July last. On Friday the defendant was brought into Court, and being arraigned, plead not guilty. The case was then continued on account of the sickness of one of the counsel of the defendant.

The jury for last week was ordered to be in Court again at 10 o'clock to-day, so that the criminal business might be disposed of. The civil list will probably be taken up on Thursday. August 18, 1845.

New Counterfeits.

State Bank of Indiana, Indianapolis, Ia., 20's letter A. pay S. S. Hanna, July 1, 1843, and filled up to the different branches. Engraving good and calculated to deceive.

Bank of Middletown, Middletown Pa., 5's spurious. A female with a child in her arms. On the left end statue of Washington, which is not on the genuine.

10's, spurious. Vignette, Declaration of Independence.

20's, spurious. Vignette, Patton Lyon at his Forge.

Bank of Louisville, Louisville, Ky., 3's, June 1, 1843. The true notes are dated 1st June, 1843.

Lancaster Bank, Lancaster, Pa., 5's, spurious, Vignette, Indian, Sailor, Eagle, &c. Engraved by Rawdon, Wright, Hatch & Co., New York.

Western Bank, Baltimore, 3's spurious. Vignette Arms of Pennsylvania; signed Benson, Treasurer; Pennington, President, which names are not found on genuine notes.

North Western Bank, Wheeling, 10's spurious. Vignette, agricultural implements—steamboat in the distance.

A Leg over the Traces.

The editor of the New York Evening Post, who is in England, attending Free Trade meetings, thus raps President Polk over the knuckles for appointing Mr. McLane Minister to England:—

"I cannot close this letter without expressing my regret that Mr. Polk should have made such an appointment as that of Mr. McLane to represent the government of the U. States in this country. It would have been much better to allow Mr. Everett to remain, if he is willing, as I suppose he is. In regard to political opinions, there is not much to choose between Mr. Everett and Mr. McLane; or, rather, the advantage is on the side of Mr. Everett, inasmuch as his opinions are frankly declared. In point of character and capacity, Mr. Everett is much before the man selected as his successor. The files of the Evening Post for the summer of 1834, contain the record of an act of double dealing, of which Mr. McLane was guilty, in relation to some misconduct of Swartwout, the Collector of New York."

The author of the above paragraph is Mr. BURANT, the celebrated Poet, and Editor of a leading Locofoco paper in New York, who is now on a visit to Europe. He is very high testimony against the propriety of Mr. Polk's appointment of a Minister to England, which in fact can only be productive of injury to affairs there. Mr. EVERETT is personally the most popular Representative we have ever had at London; and nothing is gained—it will be well if something be not lost—by exchanging him for Mr. McLane.—York Republican.

Foreign Intelligence.

Seven days Later from Europe.

ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT BRITAIN.

The steamer Great Britain, Capt. Hoekens, arrived at New York on the 10th, at half past three o'clock, in fifteen days from Liverpool, having left that port on the 16th ult. By her we have London dates to the 25th, and Liverpool to the 26th.

The news, though not exciting, is favorable.—Cotton holds its price, with large sales, and there was a general conviction that the lowest point had been reached, and henceforth the change would be in favor of the sellers, if any. Provisions, too, were firm, and there were some expectations of scarcity and an advance.

Earl Gray, father of the Reform Act, and for four years Prime Minister, died at his residence, Hewick Hall, on the 17th, aged 81.

Viscount Canterbury (for seventeen years Speaker of the House of Commons as Mr. Manvers Sutton,) died on the 20th, aged 66.

In the Parliament, there have been two or three personal brushes, but no proceedings of interest. Mr. Ewart moved a repeal of the duties on Butter and Cheese, which was resisted by Sir Robert Peel, and defeated. A debate on New Zealand has been had, but led to no result. A bill to enable the Jews to hold certain offices will probably pass.

O'Connell is about to retire to Derryane, where he proposes to occupy himself during the recess with the details of various measures for carrying out his views. The state of Ireland is serious—not to say alarming.

The Montezuma, Capt. Lowber, arrived at Liverpool on the 20th, with papers of one day later than was carried out by the Caledonia.

The revolt of the inhabitants of Croatia has subsided of itself.

There has been a terrible conflagration at Smyrna. The Provision trade is improving. Irish Butter has advanced nearly 2s. on most descriptions.—This is caused to some extent by the market being so bare of American Stock. New Cheese and Gloucester Cheese rules from 48s. to 56s. per cwt., according to quality.

The Metal market is quiet. Pig Iron is selling in Glasgow at 60s. In Wales, Bar Iron £7 10, and Railway Bar in London £8 10. In the Staffordshire district, matters remain nearly as the last semester left them.

American Securities continue to look up. The improvement in this description of Stock which the last steamer carried out, has rather increased than otherwise since her departure. The quotations are in favor of holders. This firmness is mainly attributable to the desire evinced by the Pennsylvanians to redeem, and for the future to maintain their credit.

The produce markets generally continue steady, with an upward tendency.

For the Huntingdon Journal.

"Fancy Sale this evening in the Old Court House."

MR. EDITOR:—

During a visit on business to your place, this announcement from a Handbill in a conspicuous place, attracted my attention and irresistibly led my steps to the spot. From the ruinous appearance of the building known to me in its palmy days, when I viewed it as a model of architectural beauty and the pride of our county, I was not prepared for the scenes within, when ascending the stairs the shattered condition of the windows, became more apparent from the light of the Transparencies, pointing the way to the room formerly known as the Ball Room, (and then Jury room) brilliant as of yore with light and beauty—but I exercise too long the privilege of age, and loiter by the way. The ladies of the Borough were holding a "Fair," or "Sale" for the benefit of the Presbyterian Church, whilst a crowd equally busy were purchasing their merchandise. Upon entering what thick coming fancies thronged my mind,

"Busy memory here retraces
Scenes of bliss forever fled,
Lives in former times and places
Holds communion with the dead."

Here some 25 or 30 years ago, I, a bashful youth, hesitated to ask the hand for the next dance, of the mother or perhaps the grandmother of the fair girls now offering the fancy articles upon their tables, to the attending beaux. The former Belles of the Ball Room were converted into respectable old ladies. Many who were then active in the busy scene, sleep on the "Grave Yard Hill," or have emigrated to distant States, yet a few remained in green old age enjoying the scene (of my male contemporaries) whilst some of the females were actively employed in dispensing refreshments, upon whose placid brows I could trace the evidences of a useful and well spent life, giving their example and countenance to the younger ones.

From the associations connected with this venerable building, I was glad to find a portion of it redeemed from ruin and in good repair, employed not only as I saw it then, but usually as a "FEMALE SEMINARY," where the faculties of the mind are developed and our youth trained up for usefulness. Yet with all my fondness for old customs, I could not deny that the dancing &c., of former times, lost by comparison with the present, when the talents and industry of the Females were devoted to furnishing a Temple dedicated to the worship of their Creator, and the young men were enjoying rational pleasure in their society, contributing by their talents and means to further the same object, instead of engaging in the habits of their ancestors, (sanctioned by the customs of the day) rendering the Ball and Refreshment Room of the Old Court House quite independent of the Temperance Society.

VIEW TEMPS.

Huntingdon, August 18, 1845.

Creditable.

The Boston Traveller says:—A lady yesterday afternoon lost a pocket book containing $40 in money, and a check for $200; for the recovery of which a reward of $10 was offered. The pocket book was found by Mr. Henry Smith, the "razor strap man," who called this morning at our office for the purpose of advertising it, where he met the loser, who had called for a similar purpose. The lady tendered Mr. Smith the $10, which he refused to receive, but directed the lady to No. 1 Scott's Court, where lay a sick man, destitute, to whom he desired the reward might be paid, which was accordingly done.

On Saturday evening, the 9th instant, the barn belonging to John Wolf, of Buffalo valley, Union county was struck by lightning and entirely destroyed. The whole of his Wheat, Rye, Oats and Hay of the present year were consumed. So rapid was the flames that even the horse gears could not be saved. Mr. W.'s loss will be heavy.

The County Convention.

This body met at 2 o'clock on Wednesday last, in the old Court House, and organized by appointing JOHN WILLIAMSON, Esq., of Huntingdon, President; ARTHUR STERNES, of Warriorsmark, and JOSEPH HIGGINS, of Allegheny, Vice Presidents; John Huyett, of Porter, Jacob Van Trice, Esq., of Warriorsmark, and Wm. B. Smith, of Jackson, Secretaries.

The following gentlemen appeared, produced their credentials, and took their seats in the Convention:

Allegheny.—Joseph Higgins and Jacob H. Stiffler.

Antia.—John Hamilton and Abram Bowers.

Blair.—Alexander Knox and Elijah Ferree.

Barre.—James Gilleland and James McGuire.

Cass.—John Stever and Ralph Cratsley.

Clay.—Jacob Gharret and Kinzey L. Green.
