

Railroad Convention.

This body met at Harrisburg on the 12th instant, and was organized by the appointment of Gen. J. K. MOREHEAD, as President, assisted by a number of Vice Presidents and Secretaries. The object of this Convention did not appear to be generally understood previous to its assembling, and the consequence was that delegates appeared from all parts of the State. It appeared when they got into Convention that the friends of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad had been most industrious and were able to outnumber the friends of other projects, and the consequence was that the friends of the Juniata Route withdrew and organized a separate body. The following is the substance of the resolutions passed by the first organization:

The first resolves that Pennsylvania possessors within herself great resources, and the means of connecting within her own soil the waters of the Ohio and of the Great Lakes with those of the Atlantic.—The second declares that Pennsylvania, and especially Philadelphia, would be blind to their interest were they to permit the trade of the great West to seek other routes for want of such connection. The third Resolves that the Erie and Sunbury R. R. is found by actual survey to be the best mode of connecting the Lakes with the Atlantic. The fourth Resolves that such a Railroad would be of great advantage, not only to Philadelphia and Erie, but to the whole country through which it would pass, and to the State at large.

The fifth Resolution recommends to the Legislature to incorporate a Company to construct a Railroad by the most practicable route between Harrisburg and Pittsburg on such just and liberal principles as will at the same time secure its completion and protect the Public Improvements already made. The Resolution gave rise to discussion, Judge Thompson opposing it on the ground that all the roads could not be made, and he thought the Erie one must be. He was replied to eloquently and effectively by Hon. C. B. Penrose, of Lancaster, Mr. McDowell, of Cambria, Mr. Shannon of Indiana and others, after which the Resolution was adopted almost without a dissenting voice.

The sixth Resolution approves of granting the Right of Way to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad under proper restrictions—the right of connecting, &c. The seventh recommends the incorporation of a Company to constitute a Railroad from Chambersburg to intersect the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The eighth declares that it is the opinion of the convention that if the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company are permitted to reach the Ohio below Pittsburg it will be ruinous to the public improvements and interests of Pennsylvania. The ninth provides for publishing the proceedings of the Convention in the newspapers, and sending copies to the Legislature.

The Delegates who seceded from the foregoing convention met up stairs and organized permanently by placing the Hon. JAMES CLARK, in the Chair, and the Hon. C. BUCHER and others as Vice Presidents. The Convention is understood to be in favor of a continuous Railroad by the nearest and best route between Harrisburg and Pittsburg, and not favorable to the Baltimore and Ohio Convention.

Gen. AYRES of Dauphin, from the Committee appointed for that purpose presented a preamble and resolutions in favor of the middle or Juniata route, which, after speeches being delivered by Messrs. Ayres and Petrekin of Harrisburg and James Clark and Sheriff Lawson of Indiana, were unanimously adopted.

Verdict, Guilty. Sentence of the Court, that the defendants jointly pay a fine of $5.00 and costs of prosecution.

Several other unimportant cases were settled without the aid of a jury.

The Jurors, Grand and Traverse, were discharged on Thursday; and a long argument list was disposed of on Friday and Saturday.

ANOTHER FOREIGN ARRIVAL—EIGHT DAYS LATER THAN THE NEWS BY THE ACADIA.

The Iowa sailed from Havre 12th December, and brings us London dates to 10th, and Havre to day of sailing. The announcement of the London Times as to the repeal of the Corn Laws, and opening of the ports, was evidently premature but there are intimations that a commercial treaty is on the tapis between Great Britain and the U. S. The unworthy intrusion against our Minister, Mr. McLane, was promptly met and checked by the Secretary of Legation.

THE CORN LAWS.

The uncertainty as to what the intentions of Ministers are respecting the Corn laws appears to have checked all speculation in the English funds, and the spirit of inactivity which has for several days characterized the English markets has today extended itself to those for Foreign Stocks and Shares.—Globe.

We hear from all hands of steady and unostentatious preparations for placing the country in a proper state of defence in the event of any unfortunate difference with America and of these preparations the mercantile interest seem generally very much to approve, even though doubting whether any serious misunderstanding will arise.

STILL LATER.—We learn from the United States Gazette of last evening that there is news from England four days later than the above. The British Cabinet has been dissolved, and Sir Robert Peel has retired. The Corn Laws is the question at issue. Parliament has again been prorogued. Great excitement is the consequence throughout England.
