

Two Days Later from England. BY TELEGRAPH.

We have just received by Telegraph, the subjoined summary of news received by an arrival at New York.

The correspondence, in which arbitration was declined by our Government, reached England by way of Havre.

The Northumberland brings London papers to the 8th ult., two days later.—The comments of the papers on Oregon matters are warlike. The Chronicle repeats that England will take nothing short of the Columbia River as the boundary, and that the United States must not presume upon her supposed unwillingness to engage in a war.

Sir Robert Peel had moved to admit Buckwheat, Maize and Rice duty free at once. Agreed to by the House of Commons.

There is no news from France or Continent. The dates not being so late as have been received direct.—U. S. Gaz.

[Approved, March 14, 1846.]

THE FRESHETS IN MAINE.—The accounts of the disastrous freshets in Maine continue to pour in upon us. It is supposed that the aggregate loss in that State will be over one million of dollars. According to the Mayor of Bangor, the loss at that place will amount to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Two millions of dollars in property, have probably been lost in all parts of this country, by the recent freshets.

POLYAMOR.—The N. London Advocate states, "Dr. Otis Smith, Thompsonian Physician," left Stonington, Conn., suddenly about two weeks since, for parts unknown. During his residence there he had courted and married a daughter of one of the most respectable citizens, and just previous to his departure bought a horse, for which he gave his note, endorsed by his father-in-law. About the time he left Stonington it was ascertained that he had four wives, besides the one then living with him—one in New Hampshire, one in Maine, one in Massachusetts, and one in the State of New York. He was an active and frequent exhorter in the religious meetings in the village and neighborhood; thus cloaking his real character, and passing for a man of piety and correct principles. Look out for him.

MURDER.—We learned last evening, says the New Orleans Picayune, of the 29th ult., that a murder was committed in Gretna, La., yesterday afternoon; a man named James Duffy, being the victim. Duffy was a blacksmith, and unfortunately got into a quarrel with another man whose name we could not learn, and struck him with a pair of tongs on the neck. The other man immediately seized a sharp long file, plunged into Duffy's stomach, and immediately fled. The file penetrated a vital part, and Duffy died shortly after. The murderer had not been arrested at the last accounts.

A Hopeful Father and Son.—The Post Tobacco, Md., Times, of the 2nd inst., notices a case, brought before the Court at that place, which is enough to make the heart sick. The parties were Zachariah Dent and his son Alfred, each swearing his life against the other, and testifying that they had had sundry fights with clubs, knives, &c., and the old father, to swell the catalogue, testified to his having been shot at with a ball, and exhibited his arm to the Court, to show that his son, in one of their affairs had broken it.

Our friend PRENTICE of the Louisville Journal has got himself into trouble. He some time ago designated a certain notorious Senator as "Petticoat Allen;" and for the honor of their sex, the ladies are protesting against the attempt to make a woman out of such a man.—Cincinnati Chronicle.

ANOTHER WONDER.—The Newark Daily Advertiser furnishes an account of a young woman living in Middletown, Monmouth county, N. Jersey, seventeen years of age, who is said to exhibit certain magnetic phenomena of a very singular nature. The account is derived from two clergymen of Middletown, who have visited the patient:—"For four years past, she has been afflicted with some mysterious nervous disorder, which has confined her to her bed for nearly that whole period. At first it assumed the form of St. Vitus's Dance, which was followed some time afterwards with a remarkable sensitiveness of the whole surface of the body, that made the slightest touch very painful, until recently it has taken on its present marvelous character.—She eats on an average not more than half a cracker in 24 hours, and her bowels operate only once in forty days—yet her face and entire body remain full and plump, while the skin preserves the fairness and freshness of health. This may be considered as the preternatural, and the physical; what follows has relation to the supernatural, and the spiritual.—She falls into a sort of trance or catalepsy, in which condition her soul passes into the other world.—Heaven is opened to her, and she is able to see and converse with its blessed inhabitants. They have, she says, constant intercourse with this world.—Deceased persons become the guardian angels of those in whom they felt a special interest while living. She told one of the clergymen present at this interview, who lived in the neighborhood, and had lost a child a short time before, that she saw the child's spirit looking over his shoulder while he was engaged in prayer at a certain time in his study.—The proofs given that she actually had intercourse with the unseen world, are as follows: Blood without any wound, appeared suddenly on the forehead, and each of the hands and feet; and, subsequently, on the posts and lintel of the door of her bed chamber, the marks of which remain to this time. These things are vouched for by her mother, who is a respectable member of the Methodist Church, and others. The gentlemen referred to say, that she herself, talks very rationally on religious subjects, and they came away favorably impressed so far as her sincerity was concerned."

Manifesto of Gen. Santa Anna.

The New Orleans Delta, of the 27th ult., contains the following translation of a manifesto put forth by Ex-President Santa Anna. It appeared in La Patria, the Spanish paper published in New Orleans:—

Expelled from my native country by an act of great injustice, I had come to the determination of leaving her territory never more to call forth public attention to any thing relative to my person, except it were to give a faithful account to posterity of my conduct in the various offices I have filled, and to vindicate myself from unworthy and unjust imputations which served at the time to please and amuse my enemies.

I had come to this conclusion in the supposition that my sentiments being well known to be eminently Mexican, no one would be found mean enough to do me the grave injury of procuring me the aid of foreign bayonets either to open to me again the gates of my country, and recover therein once more my true position, or to revenge myself by forcing my beloved country to accept a monarchy with a foreign Prince. But a victim always to calumny, such accusations have lately been preferred against me, and I consider it to be my duty to hasten to refute them, in order not to be exposed to the suspicion of disloyalty to the Republic. How, otherwise, could I remain silent without, in the interim, giving some color of probability to the news published in Mexico by the public press that it was my purpose to invade its territory with troops of the Island of Cuba? Atrocious calumny! invented and circulated, like many others, with the well known view of rendering me odious in my own country.

Equally grave are the accusations made against me in a newspaper published in Cadix, under the title of the "New Defender of the People," (El Nuevo Defensor del Pueblo) and I must, therefore, hasten to refute them. False! eminently false! are the allegations contained in the articles published on the 17th and 24th of October last, in said paper, relative to my person. I defy any one to whom I may have insinuated the least thing imputed to me to present himself, in order to confront and confound me. The fact of presenting me as the promoter of the project published in said articles, and attributing the cause to a base revenge on my part, is to suppose me to be offended at the great bulk of my countrymen, and capable, on that ground, of the dire infamy of driving a dagger into the entrails of my mother country. Oh, no! A thousand times, no!

Aggrieved and calumniated by a few personal enemies of mine, whom I pardon and pity, I have no cause of complaint against the majority; but even if I had, my vengeance would be to term vows for their prosperity during my exile, and to sacrifice myself, in case of need, once more in defence of my beloved country. While refuting the calumny of my detractors, and dissipating the conjectures by those who know me not, I must solemnly protest, that I will prefer to wander all my life time through foreign countries, and die far away from a well-beloved country, rather than to seek to return to its bosom through the road of violence, opprobrium and infamy!

HAVANA, 8th February, 1846.

A. L. DE SANTA ANNA.

Slander.—A Bill has passed the Massachusetts Senate to abolish the distinction between written and spoken defamation of character, which provides that every person who shall defame another by words, shall be punished by fine, or imprisonment in the common jail, or by both fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the Court. The truth of the matter charged as slanderous is allowed to be a sufficient justification for defamatory words.

Shocking Occurrence.

Our county on Friday last, was again disgraced, and the feelings of the citizens shocked by an outrageous assault, committed by Jacob Harvey, upon the body of Godron Brown, equalling in horror and atrocity any that has heretofore been committed. Harvey married the sister of Brown, and it seems that a quarrel ensued as to who should have the property, the widowed mother of Harvey's wife having died. Brown accused Harvey of carrying off the plunder, by degrees, and of doing injustice to the younger children and about this and certain words which had passed between them, they fought on the public Square, the week of the Circuit Court; Harvey afterwards armed himself, and on Friday evening, rode up behind Brown, who was walking with his wife, and drawing his pistol, shot him in the back, the ball entered near the right shoulder-blade, and coming out below the right nipple; rather, the ball came to the skin, and was extracted by Doctors Sevier and Hunt. We have seen the ball—it is a large rifle ball, and is badly bruised, so much so, that it must have struck a bone. Brown is still living, but the reader will perceive that the wound is a dangerous one. Harvey instantly wheeled his horse, and made his escape, and has not yet been arrested.—Jonesborough (Tenn.) Whig.

Albert and Victoria.

The present Royal Family of England consists of six persons: Alexandria Victoria, twenty-six years of age; and Albert Francis Augustus Charles Emanuel, her royal husband, who is three months younger than his wife, the Queen. The eldest child will be five years old in November, and rejoices in the mellifluous appellation of Victoria Adelaide Maria Louisa. The next child is a boy, and will be four years old the 9th of November. He will be the King hereafter, if he outlives his mother, and the kingdom endures—the boy taking precedence of his sister, although younger. His name is Albert Edward, and his style the Prince of Wales. The second Princess Royal—two years old—is Alice Maud Mary. The Royal Prince, born the 6th of August, is named Alfred Ernest Albert.

Romance in High Life.

The New York correspondent of the North American, gives the following piece of gossip, in a late letter:—"A rumor is current in the circles professing to know what is going on in Japonicadom, that one of the wealthiest, most beautiful and accomplished young daughters of an old and aristocratic house, is about to be married to Mr. Cadwallader, an equestrian performer of great personal beauty, with whom the romantic heiress fell in love while he was performing at Welch's Circus, at the Park Theatre. This union of the aristocratic circle with the circle of the tan, creates naturally a great deal of remark; and I hear of several handsome young men, who already think of taking lessons in riding, with a view to enter the ring in search of a rich and beautiful wife.

ECLIPSES.—The Sun will be eclipsed on Saturday, the 25th of April, commencing a few minutes before eleven A. M., when 6.83 digits of the sun's southern limb will be obscured. Stillman's Journal gives this account of the eclipse:

"It will be the last large eclipse that will be visible to us for upwards of eight years, and the last that will be total in this vicinity until August 7, 1869.

"The duration of the central eclipse on the earth will be 34.4 in., and the length of its path about 9,000 miles. For thirteen minutes after the beginning, and about seventeen minutes before the end of the central eclipse, or for about half an hour only, it will be annular; during the remainder of the time, or for upwards of three hours, it will be total, but so small is the extent of land in which the eclipse will be central, and so narrow the shadow of the moon, that Sagua la Grande, a town on the north side of the Island of Cuba, appears to be the only place of note or importance on the earth that will see a total eclipse. During the remainder of the present century, there will be but five eclipses central in any part of the Atlantic States, viz: those of May 23, 1854, and September 29, 1875, annular in Massachusetts, and that of October 19, 1865, in the Carolinas, whilst those of August 7, 1869, and May 28, 1900, will be total in North Carolina and Virginia."

A Kiss for a Blow.—A visitor once went into a school in this city, says the Boston Sun, where he saw a boy and girl on one seat, who were brother and sister. In a moment of thoughtless passion, the little boy struck his sister. The little girl was provoked, and raised her hand to return the blow. Her face showed that rage was working within, and her clenched fist was aimed at her brother, when her teacher caught her eye. "Stop my dear," said he, "you had better kiss your brother than strike him."

The look, the word, reached her heart. Her hand dropped. She threw her arms around his neck and kissed him. The boy was moved. He could have stood against the blow, but he could not withstand a sister's kiss. He compared the provocation he had given her with the return she had made, and the tears rolled down his cheeks. This affected the sister, and with her little handkerchief she wiped away his tears. But the sight of her kindness only made him cry the faster; he was completely subdued.

Her teacher then told the children always to return a kiss for a blow, and they would never get any more blows. If men, women, families, and communities and nations would act on this same principle, this world would almost cease to be a vale of tears. Nations would not lift up the sword against nations, neither would they learn war any more."

FROM SANTA FE.—A company of Mexican and American traders arrived at St. Louis on the 25th ult. from Santa Fe.—They were robbed of their horses and mules on the plains by the Pawnee Indians. The Eutaw Indians had killed five Mexicans and wounded one on the Santa Fe road. Another company were some days' travel behind this company, having also met some obstruction from the Indians. All was quiet at Santa Fe. They had just heard of the revolution in Mexico and the troops at Santa Fe were ordered below immediately. The gold mines of New Mexico had been worked with usual success during the year, increasing the demand for goods. It is estimated that a million of dollars will probably be invested in that trade this year. This company brought with them 350 pounds of gold, in dust, and expect to return with heavy stocks of goods this spring.—Balt. Patriot.

Huntingdon Academy.

Instructions in this Institution, will commence on Monday the 6th of April next. It is hoped that Parents, or persons wishing to send their children to the Academy will feel it important to have them in attendance at the opening of the session. The student always labors under disadvantage by not being present at the commencement of the term. Much might be said why this Academy ought to receive a liberal patronage from the inhabitants of Huntingdon, and county; but we deem it unnecessary for the present. Parents wishing to place their sons in the family of the Principal, may be assured that every thing will be done for their comfort, and improvement, both in mental cultivation, and morals.

A New Patent Wind Mill for cleaning Grain.

THE subscribers having purchased Culp's Patent for the counties of Huntingdon, Centre, Millin and Juniata, would avail themselves of informing the Farmers that it is the greatest improvement ever made on Fanning Mills; for simplicity, cheapness, and durability there is none to equal it, and as for cleaning speedily and well, it alike surpasses all others.

We manufacture in Williamsburg, Blair county, where we will always have them on hand, and will receive and attend to orders promptly.

We will haul the Mills through the above mentioned district during the ensuing season.
