

Later from Washington.
The Oregon Notice Resolutions adopted in both Houses.

[From the North American.]
Received at Baltimore by Telegraph.
WASHINGTON, April 23—3 P. M.
IN SENATE.—Mr. Berrien, from the Committee of Conference, reported a substitute for the Oregon resolutions of notice which had been before the two houses.

The substitute reported by the Committee of Conference, is very much like those of Mr. Johnson, proposed as an amendment to the House. It authorizes the President to give the notice "at his discretion."
The report was adopted by a vote of 42 yeas to 10 nays. The yeas were Messrs. Allen, Atchison, Artherton, Breese, Bright, Cass, Fairfield, Jenness, Semple and Westcott.

Four Senators were absent—Messrs. Chalmers, Dayton, Hannegar and Sturgeon.
Mr. Allen gave reasons why he opposed the resolution, and
Mr. Cameron why he supported them.
Some other business transacted of no importance, and then the Senate took up the French Spoliation bill.

IN THE HOUSE, the Oregon resolutions came in from the Senate and were taken up.

Mr. Charles J. Ingersoll read the report of the Conference Committee.

The previous question was called and sustained. The yeas and nays were ordered, and the report of the committee was concurred in by 142 yeas to 46 nays.

So the resolution to authorize the President to give to Great Britain "the notice" to put an end to the treaty of joint occupation of Oregon, have passed both Houses of Congress, and will doubtless receive the President's approval.

The resolutions as adopted, are substantially the same as passed the Senate a short time since, and published in our last. The changes consist simply in substituting the words, "all proper measures" for "renewed efforts" and the word "adjustment" for the word "settlement." These changes, if they effect the sense of the resolutions at all, strengthen rather than impair the force of the Senate's original proposition. The "plenty plough phloxy or phlight" men, all voted against the adoption of the report. Can they trust to the "discretion of the President of their choice?" or are they unwilling that he should take the "responsibility?"

A Big Screw Loose.

THE LYCOMING GAZETTE, one of the oldest and most influential local papers in the State, has taken strong ground against Gov. SHERMAN. It considers that he has shown marked disrespect to the friends of Mr. Muhlenberg, by appointing their bitterest opponents to office and waging "an unholty persecution and proscription against them." It looks upon the re-nomination of Mr. Foster, for Canal Commissioner, as having been effected by throwing the whole patronage of the Canal Board into the market, and offering it to the highest bidder. It concludes a forcible article in these words, which are strong; but none the less true:

"If a circular had been issued by the board directing their subordinates to procure delegates to the convention favorable to Foster's election, or in case of defeat to prepare to 'walk the plank,' the wishes of the Canal Commissioners could not have been better understood. 'Bargain and sale,' was stamped upon the very face of the transaction—and although it enabled the State administration to consummate their wicked schemes, still it is looked upon by every honorable man, as establishing a precedent alike dangerous and disgraceful. Mr. Burns, the only friend of Muhlenberg, in the board, were pleased to say resisted the measure from first to last; he did his duty fearlessly and independently, and is entitled to the thanks of the community, for taking a firm stand against executive dictation."

Mr. Webster.

The following statement, says the National Intelligencer, which we find in a regular Washington correspondence of the New York Tribune, agrees substantially with what we have heard here, and have reason to believe correct:

"When Mr. Webster left the State Department, in place of being a defaulter as has been charged, it appears that there was a balance paid over to him long after he left. When Mr. Webster left Mr. Tyler's Cabinet, he requested the Clerk who has the care of the contingent fund, to settle up the account and see how it stood. The clerk wrote to Mr. Webster that there was the sum of $1000 for which there was no voucher. Mr. Webster said the proper voucher would be found, but in the meantime he wished the accounts of the Department fully settled up, and for this purpose he sent on $1000, and the accounts were settled. The proper certificate afterwards appearing, the thousand dollars were refunded to Mr. Webster. So that in place of being a defaulter, he had actually overpaid the Department and this overpay was refunded."

An Earthquake.

By way of Havana, says the New York Sun, we have received advices from the town of Cuba. On the 23d ultimo, at 7 1/2 in the morning, after a calm sultry night, low rumbling sounds were heard. Suddenly the ground shook violently, causing the greatest consternation, the people rushing into the streets for safety. The first shock lasted one or two minutes, and after a lapse of five minutes, the ground was again violently shaken. It was a solemn moment; in every direction the terrified inhabitants might be seen on their knees, calling on God to save them, expecting each moment to be swallowed up. Several slighter shocks were felt during the forenoon, but it is believed no lives were lost. Several buildings were thrown down, and very much cracked. In the evening mass was said in all the churches for their deliverance from death.

It would be a good speculation for some Yankee baker to go to England and teach the people there how to make Johnny cakes. They like corn meal, but don't know how to cook it. (1)

From Havana and Mexico.

Arrivals at New Orleans bring Havana dates to the 10th which confirms previous rumors that General Almonte, formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Republic of Mexico, had arrived in that city on board the Vera Cruz steamer.

The same journal has received advices from Vera Cruz to the 31st ult. They add nothing to our previous stock of intelligence. It is curious and significant that the official paper of Mexico which was formerly styled Diario de la Republica de Mexico, is now called Diario del Gobierno Mexicano—dropping the word Republico and substituting Gobierno—(Government.) The Picayune has a letter written at Havana, stating that Gen. Almonte proposed to remain in Havana and send Tornell, his Secretary, to England and France. The Faro Industrial, published at Havana, says that Gen. A. would remain there but ten days, and then embark for England on his mission. The arrival at New Orleans with these advices was no later than those at this port and Charleston, which brought the dates from Havana up to the 9th instant. Besedra, a Mexican ex-Secretary of War, if we recollect aright, and various Mexicans of less note, were in Havana. Santa Anna must have quite a court about him. A letter from Vera Cruz, of the 1st inst., shown us by a friend, states that at a meeting of the general officers, which took place on the 31st ult., it was proposed to declare against Paredes and in favour of Federal Government. The friends of Santa Anna having insisted upon his recall, in order to place him at the head of the army, the meeting broke up without coming to any definite conclusion on the subject. A revolution was daily expected. The interior was tranquil. A gentleman who arrived in the P. South states that Santa Anna was preparing to return to Mexico.

The case of the abduction of the slave Jeremiah Phinney, of Ohio, by two men, named Forbes and Armitage, has been settled. The Governor of Ohio made demand upon the Executive of Kentucky, to deliver up these men as kidnappers, whereupon Governor Owsley issued a writ, directing them to be arrested and taken before the Circuit Court of Franklin District for the purpose of enquiring into the affair. The case was examined and argued on the part of the State of Ohio, by Mr. William Johnston, and for the prisoner, by Charles S. Morehead, Esq., and in the course of the examination, evidence that Phinney was a slave; that he was taken to Ohio expressly in opposition to the wishes of his owner; and that Forbes and Armitage, in arresting him, were acting under a legally executed power to do so, granted them by Mrs. Long, the owner of Phinney. The points of law involved were argued with great ability and acuteness, and the decision of the Judge was delivered on Monday last, in refusal of the demand of the delivery of Forbes and Armitage. The whole case is elaborately reported in the Frankfort (Ky.) Commonwealth.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN CINCINNATI, O.

About one o'clock on the morning of the 15th inst., a fire broke out in the back shop of Miles Greenwood's extensive Foundry and Finishing shop, which occupied nearly half a square on the north side of the Canal, corner of Walnut, Cincinnati. When first discovered, the flames had made but little progress. The firemen, as usual, were early on the ground, but the city water works were not in operation, and had not been for some time, and owing to the scarcity of water, they could not play upon the fire; the cisterns were very soon emptied, and there was no water in the Canal. The flames untrammelledly spread to the main building, consuming the whole establishment. Luckily, for the safety of the city, there was no wind blowing at the time of the fire, or in all human probability the main part of the city would have been destroyed—especially if a strong North West wind had been blowing. The loss is not certainly known, but may be put down at about $100,000—only 25,000 insured.

Avalanche and Death.

At East Burke, Vermont, on the night of the 25th ult., a small house was overwhelmed by an avalanche of earth from a high and very steep bank in its rear, which had become disengaged, from the loose condition, in which the frost left it, assisted by a severe storm. The house was occupied by Mr. Charles Newell and his wife, both aged and decrepit people. Their bodies were taken from the ruins as they lay in bed, and they were evidently suffocated by the mud and water, with which they were found covered.

A FATAL AFFRAY.

The Louisville Courier of the 16th says:—"We regret to have to inform our readers that Mr. D. M. McIntire, an estimable gentleman, formerly of Lexington, Ky., and a highly respectable merchant of this city, was shot this morning between 12 and 1 o'clock, near the corner of Market and Pearl streets, by Mr. W. Pope Mercer. We understand that a slight quarrel existed between them, and on their meeting last night, it resulted thus tragically. McIntire was shot through the head, and we are informed that there does not exist a shadow of hope for his recovery. Mercer was immediately arrested, and is now in prison."

WHAT A PRESENT.

The editor of the New Orleans Delta, acknowledges the receipt of a fine rare rattlesnake. Rather a curious gift.

DARING FEAT.

Some thirty miles below Nashville, Tenn., on the left bank of the river, a rocky cliff rises from the bluff three or four hundred feet, upon the steep side of which, about forty feet from the summit, is a most singular appearance, representing the rising sun of a misty morning. How the artist climbed the overhanging cliff to execute it, has been a common wonder of that region for years. An old Cherokee, who passed through Nashville a few years ago, in company with his tribe, to their new homes in the West, said he had asked his great-grandfather when and by whom it was done, and was answered that it had been done since he [his great-grandfather] was a boy. It is really an interesting affair—less so, however, than formerly; for within the last few years, two large Roman capitals, "R. R." have been painted near it, by a daring woodsman of the neighborhood. A wild, spirited and daring adventurer, by the name of Randall Robinson, who had become displeased with the ways of men, women and children in this world, and had, with his dogs, his guns and ammunition, taken to the woods, where by his unerring aim, he obtained the best of game, and with the aid of flint and steel, rendered it palatable and nutritious, conceived the idea of distinguishing himself, or rather, making himself somewhat notorious, by showing that "some things could be done as well as others." He accordingly procured ropes, and fastening them above, let himself down with paint and brush to the spot, where he placed his initials near "the rising sun." Thus is the charm broken.

THE MORMON.

The Nauvoo Eagle says the Mormon expedition is working its way westward slowly, in consequence of the lack of forage for their horses. The men have to work for the farmers along the route, in order to procure the necessary fodder for horses and cattle. Those still at Nauvoo are making all possible haste in their preparation to join the advance party. The Nauvoo House will be completed in a few days.

COPPER IN PENNSYLVANIA.

The Pittsburg Gazette states that a company of gentlemen of that city have been recently engaged in exploring land on the Allegheny range, in Pennsylvania, and have discovered very valuable deposits of copper. They have secured all the lands upon which any indications of copper are perceptible in that quarter, and are now mining and preparing to enter into smelting operation. Any quantity of specimens have been preserved to exhibit to anxious inquirers.

A New Patent Wind Mill for cleaning Grain.

THE subscribers having purchased Culp's Patent for the counties of Huntingdon, Centre, Mifflin and Juniata, would avail themselves of informing the Farmers that it is the greatest improvement ever made on Fanning Mills; for simplicity, cheapness, and durability there is none to equal it, and as for cleaning speedily and well, it alike surpasses all others.
